SMOKE NUISANCE A NEEDLESS PERIL

Chicago's Negligence Permits the Railroads to Endanger Health and Wealth and Destroy Beauty.

REFUSE TO HELP SELVES.

People of City Let Greed of Lines Overcome All Hope for Reform of the Evil Conditions.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

A man stood in the way of Progress. Soon the man was not.—An Ancient Proverb.

I have been in many lands and among many peoples, but never have I found a community of the intelligence of Chicago blessed with such lamblike docility. It protests against conditions that menace the life teeming within its bounds, sometimes, with a great show of indignation, expresses disgust, and then, relieved, settles back with the pleasing consciousness that it has "saved its face." Perhaps through some turn of fortune it has gained an inch. Then what self-congratulations. Chicago is great, no other city could have done it!

I am led to these reflections by my experiences upon the trains of the steam and elevated railroads and the cars of the traction companies. I have suffered from the smoke and gas of the Illinois Central, the Northwestern, and others of the twenty-six lines entering the city. I have been irritated by the clatter of the elevated electrics and the inability to find a seat. I have been harried by warnings in the surface cars, printed and pictorial, gruesomely describing the dangers of the way.

People Blind to Helplessness.

And the idea has come into my mind and persists that the master in Chicago's house is not Chicago but the transportation lines.

The average citizen will repel indignantly such a suggestion. A few of them indeed became quite abusive when I made it in casual conversation. "Nonsense," they declared. "Transportation is essential to the life of a big city. Without it, Chicago would be a village; its business quarter would be a vacant lot. Its commercial glory would be gone. We cannot bear too heavily upon the arteries which carry our blood. It is our duty to control, to regulate, them, but when this is done, our duty is done."

Then I heard some further things about the greatness of Chicago.

I listened politely, eagerly, for in spite of everything I believe in Chicago. But I should like to know what degree of control or regulation exists when the city supinely permits what should be its servants to do as they please, to besmirch its inhabitants with dirt, to injure their health, even to kill and maim unfortunates who get in the way of the surface juggernauts.

What right have the railroads to pollute the city with smoke and gas and cinders?

What right has the elevated to destroy beauty by its ugly ways and its noisy tracks?

What right have the surface lines to place upon its passengers the responsibility of being mashed between its cars?

I cannot answer these questions. I merely propound them.

"Pull" Reform's Biggest Foe.

When I was a young man, I was filled with a holy zeal for principle. My slogan was: "Right before all." I happened to mention it to a practical politician. "Substitute 'pull,' he advised, 'and your war cry will be 'right.'"

But where does "pull" enter in connection with Chicago's transportation problem? I read in THE TRIBUNE the other day that the railroads were preparing to attack the council with a "lobby" in opposition to the electrification resolution. Here is the poisonous fang of the snake.

I have seen the fang operate so perfectly upon national legislation that I have acquired a high respect for its effectiveness. The vigilance and activity of a mongoose are necessary to avoid it. But that vigilance and that activity do not prevail in Chicago. I may be mistaken. I sincerely hope I am. I have read of leagues, of organization of commercial bodies, and of women's clubs, all rabid in their antagonism to smoke, all insistent upon the passage of the electrification ordinance. I have read interviews with railroad presidents asserting that electrification is impossible and threatening if the ordinance were passed they would stop their trains outside the city.

It is an attitude so unprogressive, a purpose so absurd that the one may be set down as a falsehood and the other as profitless wind threshing.

Many Indictments Against Smoke.

And every citizen of Chicago knows it or ought to know it. While drawing in the smoke laden atmosphere I read a comprehensive report entitled, "The Electrification of Railway Terminals," which had been prepared under the auspices of the mayor and the committee on local transportation of the city council. I found therein that:

Smoke is injurious to health:

Directly by polluting the air;

Indirectly, by destroying vegetation.

It is expensive, because it:

Increases laundry bills.

Ruins clothes and clothing;

Increases cost of painting and washing buildings, and other structures;

Corrodes iron and other metals.

Disintegrates stone in structures to some extent;

Darkens the air and necessitates a greater use of gas and other luminants;

Destroys vegetation;

Wastes coal;

Injures Chicago as a market center in that its attractiveness to the out of town buyer is lessened.

Nothing could be truer than these conclusions. The air is common to all the people. If there is an inalienable right it is that of breathing an uncontaminated atmosphere. A railroad or a factory has no more right to vitiate the air than your neighbor has to use your parlor for a garbage receptacle.

Dividends Roads' Only Desire.

But this is not the view of the railroads. They care nothing for your health. They do not pay your laundry bills. They have no interest in your clothes. They are not concerned about your stock or your buildings. They want, they shriek for dividends. The dollar ever is placed before the man.

I happened to speak of the objections I

United Forces of Temperance Indorse "Tribune" Campaign for More Sightly, Desirable City.

PRAISE GEN. GRANT'S ACT.

Meeting That Is "Echo" of Great "Dry" Parade Adopts Resolutions in Approval of Commander.

THE TRIBUNE'S campaign for a "clean Chicago" last night received the unqualified indorsement of the united temperance forces of the city.

This action in support of clean government, clean laws, and clean streets was taken at an "echo meeting" in Willard hall of the temperance societies which recently held one of the largest parades ever seen in the city.

Besides praising THE TRIBUNE'S attitude toward municipal cleanliness, the meeting adopted stirring resolutions in eulogy of Gen. Fred D. Grant, the commander of the United States army department of the lakes, who marched at the head of the temperance parade in full uniform.

The resolutions also scored the critics of the army officer and stated that if they were opposed to Gen. Grant's action they were also opposed to organized self-government.

Praises "Tribune" Editorial.

The keynote of the meeting was voiced by William A. Brubaker, former candidate for governor on the Prohibition ticket, in a rousing appeal to the temperance people of the city to work together for a cleaner Chicago. He said that all of the societies fighting the liquor traffic should take "clean up Chicago" for their motto.

"One of the best editorials I ever read in a newspaper I discovered this morning when I was coming into Chicago from down in the state," said Mr. Brubaker. "This editorial was in THE TRIBUNE and it was reprinted by request from the issue of the morning before. It was for a clean Chicago and it urged the people to clean up immediately and to keep things clean.

"Now, I want all of you—if you haven't already—to read that editorial. Read it and digest it. It will do you good. It is sensible expression of a great newspaper regarding the needs of the city. Don't we need a cleaner Chicago? Don't we need to clean up fast and furious in order to get some of the dirt from front of our homes?

Says "Make It Reality."

"Let us take THE TRIBUNE'S editorial and make for our motto the words, 'Clean up Chicago.' Let us clean the streets and the city hall and the police department.

"Now there is a lot of talk about the conviction of Inspector McCann. State's Attorney Wayman deserves great credit for running down a man who has preyed on the unfortunates of the west side levee destrict. Whether the conviction of this police inspector was right or not, it has made the people of Chicago sit up and take notice.

"But Mr. Wayman's work of eliminating the grafter from the police department is only a part of the great work of cleaning up Chicago. The temperance societies are also doing their share of the work. When we get the saloons out of the city there will be fewer grafters, the streets will be cleaner, and THE TRIBUNE'S 'cleaner Chicago' will be a reality."

Strong Approval of Grant.

The resolution upholding Gen. Grant's "courage and manhood" in advocating the temperance cause was presented by Dr. H. C. Newton, secretary of the parade committee. It was drawn by Dr. Newton and W. F. Mulvihill, secretary of the Law and Order league, and was as follows:

"Whereas, A representative of an organization which claims to stand for liberty was the first to deny to a soldier in the United States army, Gen. Fred D. Grant, the liberty to wear his uniform as he pleases, a right which no sober and patriotic American citizen has ever questioned before,

"Whereas, In our opinion, that uniform symbolizes the same idea as does the stars and stripes—that is, law and order, we hold that if in the letter written by Mr. Michaelis he spoke for the United Societies for Local Self-Government, that the said organization declared itself opposed to the flag of the United States and to organized government under it.

Charge It Was a Bluff.

"Whereas, This was merely another effort on the part of the lawbreaking liquor interests to bulldoze and intimidate a prominent public official who has courage and conscience enough to stand with the sober and law abiding citizens of this country against lawlessness and debauchery,

"Therefore, Be it resolved that this meeting, representing practically every religious, temperance, and reform organization in the city which opposes saloon anarchy and debauchery, hereby commend and indorse the action of Gen. Fred D. Grant in his manly, courageous, and unselfish devotion to the cause of sobriety and good government; and we invite the sober and law abiding people of America to behold this fearless public servant who absolutely refuses to be bought or intimidated by these powerful, arrogant, and notoriously corrupt interests."

Following the introduction of these resolutions Eugene W. Chapin, former candidate for president on the Prohibition ticket, in a brief address advocated the repetition of this year's temperance parade. He also stated that he was in favor of a no license campaign for Chicago next spring.

The Rev. C. G. Kindred said that the United States army was now on record for temperance and that he expected in the near future the entire country would join the war againt the saloon. He said Gen. Grant had declared that if it was necessary he would tear off his epaulets and grind them in the dust for the advocacy of temperance.

The Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, Gen. John Sobieski, Arthur Burrage Farwell and others delivered brief addresses. Mrs. Emily Hill, president of the W. C. T. U. presided at the meeting.

Pleads Union of Great Forces.

That the campaign for a "clean Chicago" has gained a number of allies in addition to the temperance societies, is indicated by the following letters:

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I wish to compliment you upon your ringing editorial of Oct. 3 and 4, addressed to "The Mayor, the City Council, the Civic Bodies, and the Citizens of Chicago." The editorial sounds a courageous and militant

HALSTED RESORTS MUST GO

Inspector Healy Issues Order That Strikes Franks.

THEIR PLACES TO BE CLOSED

Police Threaten General Raids Unless Edict Is Obeyed.

Inspector Stephen K. Healy last night ordered his men to close the resorts of Halsted street. Included under the edict were the Frank brothers, the accusers of Inspector McCann.

"Tell the keepers of every resort in Halsted street that they must move within a week," was the order the inspector gave out early in the evening, and the command immediately was communicated to the keepers of the four resorts that are affected by the order.

The first general cleanup order was supplemented by the inspector in a statement concerning his plans for his crusade against vice conditions, in the assertion that the men who live off the unfortunate women of the district also must go. Inspector Healy says these men are to be driven from the district, no matter how severe the measures to accomplish the result may be.

Genker Also to Be Ousted.

Another feature of the new order which occasioned comment is the fact that in addition to the three places run in property owned by the Frank brothers, two of the resorts are owned by "Monkey Face" Charley Genker, one of the men who stood by the Franks in their assertions that they were collectors of money for Inspector McCann.

The places affected are at 13, 17, 19 and 21 South Halsted street. Minnie Goldberg is the woman who is housekeeper for Genker at 13 and 15. The place at 19 is run by Bertha Gordon, and No. 21 is Sarah Gordon's place. The Frank brothers own all the properties except 21 Halsted street. Louis Frank said in the evening he was glad the order had been issued.

"Genker is going to move out of 13 Halsted street tomorrow," he said, "and he will be out of the other place in a few days. I am glad the inspector is starting to clean up the district. We already have plans drawn for new buildings to replace those shacks now occupied by the resorts."

Calls It Disgrace to City.

In explaining his reasons for beginning a general cleanup of the west side district and especially Halsted street, Inspector Healy said:

"The tough resorts and saloons have got to go; the practice of disreputable women of stopping men on the streets must cease; and the unnamable creatures who call themselves men and live off the unfortunate women of the underworld must leave the district. The order to clean up Halsted street was made because it is a disgrace to the city to allow these places in a public thoroughfare which has more street cars running on it, I believe, than any other street of the city except Clark street.

"They must move within the week or police officers will be sent to the places and put the inmate out."

As a result of the close watch of the inspector's men in the evening women in three resorts were found disobeying orders and were arrested.

Simultaneous with the general cleanup in the Despiaines street district, Inspector P. D. O'Brien has started a fight against prevailing conditions in the north side resort district. He has issued orders that all women found stopping men on the streets are to be arrested and brought into the station.

Seven women arrested Saturday and Sunday nights were fined by Judge Crowe in the Municipal court during the day."

C. R. CRANE IS SUMMONED BY KNOX ON EVE OF SAILING.

New Minister to China Is Recalled to Washington by Mysterious Message from the Secretary of State.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—Charles R. Crane of Chicago, the new minister to China, who planned to sail for his post tomorrow, suddenly was recalled to Washington by a telegram received from Secretary of State Knox.

Mr. Crane declared his summons was for the purpose of discussing important diplomatic questions, but he refused to give any idea of their purport.

The minister immediately on receiving the summons canceled his order for a stateroom on the transport Thomas and made arrangements to hurry to the capital.

"I did not see Mr. Knox before I left Washington," said Mr. Crane. "He was not in the city. I suppose something has arisen or has been called to his attention which he thinks I should know before I go to my post."

According to the police, the boy had been kidnaped by his aunt from the home in Woodland. After being held for six months he was recently returned to him after the woman had been arrested in Cleveland, O.

GEN. GRANT BEGINS TEST RIDE.

Department of Lakes Commander Accompanied by Many Officers on Ninety Mile Course.

Gen. Frederick Dent Grant of the department of the lakes and thirty-seven officers of the department left Waukegan at 8 o'clock yesterday morning on a ninety mile horseback ride. The officers accompanying Gen. Grant all ranked above major. The ninety mile horseback ride is required of the officers by the war department. The party on its first relay went as far as Gage's Lake—about twenty miles—where they remained for the night and will continue the journey today.

POLICE TO AID NEEDY WIDOW.

Fund Started for Relief of Mother of Boy Who Was Shot After Attempting Extortion.

Chicago policemen, through collections taken at the stations, will aid Mrs. Louise Berendt, mother of Rudolph Berendt, 16 years old, who was killed last June by Policeman Phillip Weinrich. She is a widow with four children, and they are facing eviction from their quarters at 2111 West Huron street. She is ill and since the death of her son has had no assistance in supporting herself and the children.

LEGLER'S PAY $6,000 THIS YEAR

Board Reaches Compromise Over New Librarian's Salary.

MERIT WILL WIN ADVANCE.

Appointee Tells Directors Watchword Will Be "Progress."

Through a compromise between members who thought the new librarian of the Chicago public library should begin service with a $5,000 salary and those who wished to increase the annual stipend to $7,500 the library board, at its weekly meeting last night, fixed the pay for Henry Eduard Legler, new head of the city's big book depository at $6,000.

This figure was decided upon after the matter had been thrashed out in executive session. It was tacitly agreed among board members that this should be considered only the initial pay, that it should be increased as the new librarian displayed fitness and capability in the new position intrusted to him.

Mr. Legler was the guest of the library board and at the close of the board meeting was officially made executive head of the Chicago public library. Members signified a desire that he assume charge as quickly as possible and he promised to begin his duties next Monday. Escorted by members of the board the new librarian made a tour of inspection of the building.

Legler Has Faith in Library.

Representing the board, President Robert J. Roulston promised the incoming librarian the support of the present administration and cordial coöperation from all the board members. Mr. Legler expressed a faith that the future of the library would be commensurate with the future of Chicago.

"I am deeply gratified and fully appreciate this cordial welcome," he said. "I have been correctly reported in the press as favoring library extension by means of branch libraries and through the establishment of close relations with the public schools and I am delighted and encouraged to find that you sympathize with such views.

"Details of plans for enlargement will be worked out later and these will be brought to you. In your counsel I hope to find a guide toward successs. I bring enthusiasm to the work and do not hesitate to leave the outcome in your hands."

Mr. Legler came to Chicago from Madison in the afternoon at the invitation of the board. He met President Elton Lower of the civil service commission and Attorney Howard O. Sprogle at the city hall and then went to the Chicago Commons, where he delivered a brief address before an assembly of teachers from the Otis, Motley, Tilden, Washington, and Montfiore public schools.

Nothing Too Good for City.

In delivering the address of welcome President Roulston called attention to the fact that lack of funds at the disposal of the board might make progress slow.

"Mr. Legler, as president of the board it becomes my pleasant privilege to greet you, as Chicago's public librarian," he said. "You will find this board an harmonious one—it's watchword 'nothing too good for Chicago,' and I heartily welcome you as our coworker."

Dr. B. J. Cigrand said in the evening that he had been one of the unsuccessful candidates in the examination by the civil service commission.

"I'm glad we have secured Legler, however," he said. "I am sure he will be able to carry out all the plans that my administration has stood for."

RIDDLES PRIMARY WITH NEW RULING

Election Commissioners Decide Against "Party Nominations" to Succeed Lorimer and Zaabel.

ASSEMBLY TO FILL VOID?

Leaders, on Way to Capital, Agree Extra Session Must Pass Substitute Act for "Law of '98."

Politics in Chicago and Illinois—near to chaos for some time past—went clear to smash yesterday, and the advance guard at Springfield this morning finds almost a revolutionary situation confronting the party leaders and the members of the Illinois legislature.

The board of election commissioners, through Attorney Frank D. Ayers, gave out a decision in which the proposition is set out that neither the Republican nor the Democratic organizations—as parties—can make a nomination for congress in the Sixth district to succeed William Lorimer, and that neither can make a partisan nomination in the Second senatorial district to succeed the late Representative Paul I. Zaabel.

The special election for the two vacancies has been called by Gov. Deneen for Nov. 23.

Plays Ninepins with the Law.

This purely local angle of the situation, however, appears to be a matter of minor importance. The decision of Attorney Ayers, supported by Election Commissioners Thomas F. Judge, Abel A. Bach, and Nathaniel Hudson, is construed by themselves and by astute political leaders as meaning no more nor less than this:

1. There is no primary election law in Illinois worth the paper upon which it is printed.

2. The so-called "Law of 1898," subsequently amended in 1901, has been shot so full of holes in the three death warrants read by the Supreme court to as many alleged primary acts that it does not answer any of the substantial requirements of the "ballot law," or general election act, as to making nominations, and that it, itself, is unconstitutional.

3. There is grave question whether any fireproof method of making nominations for public office exists in Illinois, aside from nominations by petition.

Agree New Act Is Imperative.

The most of the Chicago Republican managers who were packing up in the evening for the trek to the state capital, agreed the sudden change in the situation makes absolutely necessary the enactment of some variety of primary law by the forthcoming extra session of the general assembly. The mood of some of the anti-primary law talkers changed the instant they heard the word from the election commissioners' office.

"If this view of the commissioners is correctly interpreted, it means the Republican and Democratic organizations are worthless as they stand," was a frequent comment of the experienced political manipulators. "It looks as though we will have to get together upon something or other."

The Lorimer people in the Sixth district were prepared for just such an emergency. James L. Monaghan, the field marshal of the Lorimer forces in the Thirty-fourth ward, announced a plan of action just as soon as he had heard the report from the Rand-McNally building.

Here Is the Lorimer Solution.

"We will call a convention of the precinct organizations from each precinct in the Sixth congressional district," said Mr. Monaghan. "That convention will name a candidate for congress and will adopt a platform. We shall have that candidate's name placed upon the ticket by petition, after we have received the sanction of the managing committee. We always have had a Republican congressman from this district, and this seems to be the only way in which we can keep one."

The Lorimer proposition will be put up to the Republican managing committee next Friday. The committee has been called into session to consider the crisis in affairs. It was predicted that the effect of the opinion from the election commissioners is a certain forerunner of a resolution in the managing committee demanding flatly the enactment of a primary election law.

Democratic directors general declined to commit themselves at once. They said they wanted to see what the Republicans will do before going upon record.

This Is the Ruling in Full.

The text of the Ayers opinion follows:

"The Board of Election Commissioners, 160 Adams Street, Chicago, Ill.: In reply to your questions as to what provision, if any, there is in the law for political parties in the Sixth congressional district to nominate party candidates and have their names printed upon the official ballot at the special election called by the governor for Nov. 23, 1909, to fill the vacancy or unexpired term in congress created by the resignation of Mr. Lorimer I beg to say that the last three primary laws enacted in this state have been held unconstitutional by the Supreme court.

"The primary law now in force in this county, which includes the Sixth congressional district, is the act of 1898 as amended in 1901. This act provides that any political party which at the last preceding general election for governor in this state polled at least 10 per cent of the entire votes cast in any particular district, such as the Sixth congressional district, where the act is in force, must nominate certain candidates, including that for congress of the United States, whose names are to be printed on the official election ballot, printed and distributed at public expense, under and pursuant to the provisions of said act.

"Section 3 of the ballot law also provides, among other things, that no candidates nominated by any convention of any political party for the congress of the United States shall have his name printed upon any official ballot, printed and distributed at public expense, unless such candidates shall be nominated by a convention composed of delegates elected for that purpose at the primary election held in accordance with the provisions of the above primary law.

Overlooks Special Elections.

"While the primary law above referred to provides for the holding of primaries by political parties polling 10 per cent or more of the votes cast at the last general election in certain months preceding any regular spring or fall election, yet it fails to provide any means by which such political parties may hold primary elections for the purpose of nominating candidates to fill vacancies at special elections.

"In designating certain months of the year in which primary elections may be held it omits October and November.

"It therefore follows that unless a primary could be held in either the months of October or November for a special election, the provisions of said act are not sufficient to provide for the holding of primaries to select delegates to nominating conventions, to nominate party candidates whose names can be printed upon the official ballot to be printed and distributed at public expense, for the special election to be held on Nov. 23, 1909.

"The primary law which is now in force in this county makes no provision for parties that poll less than 10 per cent at the last general election; neither does it make any provision for the nomination of candidates by petition; but section 4 of the ballot law provides that any convention of delegates, caucus, or meeting, representing a political party which at the election next preceding polled at least 2 per cent of the entire vote cast in the state or in the electoral district or division thereof for which the nomination is made may for such district or division thereof for which convention or caucus is held make one nomination for each office to be filled at the election.

Nomination by Petition.

"Section 5 of the same law provides for the nomination of candidates by petition. It will thus be observed that under the law as in force today the methods of placing candidates upon the official ballot are classified in three divisions—namely: the party polling 10 per cent or over of the votes cast at the last general election, the party polling 2 per cent or over of the votes cast at the last general election, and the independent candidates that are nominated by petition.

"As pointed out herein above, no provision is made for a party polling over 10 per cent of the votes cast at the last general election to make party nominations at this time for the sort of an election in question, but there is a provision for the small parties and the independents to make nominations in the manner above stated.

"The board of election commissioners in a matter of this kind is purely a ministerial body and has no power to pass upon the legality or constitutionality of the law, but on the contrary must follow its provisions until either the legislature repeals the law or some tribunal with judicial authority holds that the law is null and void; therefore, as the law stands at the present time, there is no provision by which the parties composed of more than 10 per cent of the voters can nominate party candidates and have their names printed upon the official ballots which are printed and distributed at public expense; but parties consisting of from 2 to 10 per cent of the voters, and also independents, may make their nominations as above stated.

"FRANK D. AYERS,
"Attorney for the board."

Leaders Favor a New Law.

James Pease, the Lake View Republican leader, reflected the sentiment of many Republican managers.

"There is nothing now for the legislature to do but enact a primary law," said Mr. Pease. "Why, it would be ridiculous for the party to permit itself to get into the tangle which lies dead ahead under the existing circumstances."

Edward F. Dunne declared strongly for a direct primary law.

"I am not surprised at the attitude which has been taken by the board of election commissioners," said the former mayor. "A close study of the Supreme court decisions on the primary laws, which have been declared unconstitutional, led plainly to the conclusion that there is no real primary law on the books. What is demanded and what is necessary, in my judgment, is a direct primary law."

William L. O'Connell, chairman of the Democratic county committee, said that the Democratic organization had anticipated the opinion.

"We are waiting for the Republicans to do something," he said. "They have the whip hand under all the circumstances and it is up to them to make the first move."

DENEEN-LORIMER STRIFE SEEN.

Politicians Believe There Will Be Struggle for Supremacy Between the Governor and Senator.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The annual harvest home of Illinois politicians will not be a love feast this year. Quite the contrary. Only a limited number of statesmen have arrived for the informal conferences usually held the week of the state fair, and they are not bubbling with brotherly affection.

Gossip is confined to the relations between Deneen and Lorimer and the prospective session of the general assembly. That there is to be a struggle for supremacy between the senator and governor is the prevailing opinion. The election of Justice Cooke in the Fourth district is taken as an indication that Lorimer and the Sullivan Democrats are still working together and that the partisan combination for Deneen's undoing is much alive. Deneen credits Cooke's election to active assistance received from Lorimer Republicans.

It is likely that a special session will be called for the latter part of November, probably the twenty-third. Deneen will not return from the waterways trip until the 16th, after which the Odd Fellows will be in Springfield for several days, occupying the assembly chambers.

Deneen is confident he will get a primary law. He bases his hope on expressions of sentiment in his favor downstate. The special session will adjourn about the time the members are asking for renomination in their various districts and he figures that they will want to make favorable records on this proposition.

All gossip concerning the proposed special session assumes that the governor's call will be confined to waterways and primary legislation. He has not said that he will so limit the call, however, and there are reasons why he may be inclined to hand the statesmen a number of other problems, particularly problems of embarrassing character.

At the regular session assemblymen made a merit of opposing or ignoring numerous recommendations made by the governor. He may decide to give them an opportunity to do so again on the eve of their campaign for renomination.

OBITUARY.

DR. C. H. EVANS died early yesterday morning at the Union hospital following an operation for cancer of the stomach. Dr. Evans was born in Philadelphia in 1847 and was graduated from Hahnemann college in that city. He came to Chicago in 1871, just before the big fire, and commenced the practice of medicine. From 1897 to 1904 he lectured on materia medica in Hahnemann Medical college. He leaves a widow and two children, Mrs. E. E. Classen and Arthur R. Evans. The funeral will be Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, from the residence of H. McLain, 1422 North Hoyne avenue.

WILLIAM WATSON, chairman of the Cunard Steamship company, died in London yesterday. He was born in 1843, in Charleston, S. C., and later took up his residence in England. He was for years prominent in the cotton trade in Liverpool, where he amassed a fortune. He became a director of the Cunard company about sixteen years ago; later vice chairman, and upon the death of the late Lord Inverclyde in 1905 was elected chairman.

OLIVE RUGGLES BAKER, wife of Ray C. Baker, died at San Antonio, Tex., Sunday evening from the effects of an operation. Mrs. Baker before her marriage was a resident of Englewood, where she lived with her mother, Mrs. Henry M. Ruggles, and her sister Mabel at 6557 Yale avenue. She had been on the stage a number of years and at the time of her decease she and her husband were playing a stock engagement at San Antonio.

DR. JOHN JOSEPH QUIRK, who resided at 1220 Racine place, died yesterday at Lake Geneva, Wis., after a short illness. Dr. Quirk was a son of the late Dr. John L. Quirk. The funeral will be held from 1220 Racine place at 9:30 o'clock, Oct. 7, and later from St. Vincent's church. The burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

EDMOND KELLY of North Mountain, Nyack, N. Y., formerly counsel for princess de Sagan and author of many books on socialism, died yesterday at the age of 58. He was known as an authority on international marriages and at one time was counselor to the United States embassy in Paris.

JUDGE LOUIS C. PAYSON died at Washington, D. C. yesterday. He formerly resided in Pontiac, Ill., and was representative in congress from that district from 1886 to 1892. He moved to Washington in 1898.

COUNCIL ATTACKS SMOKE AND LOOP

State Aid Suggested in City's Fight for Railroad Electrification.

CONDEMNS 'L' STRUCTURE

Ald. Fisher's Resolution Demands Its Removal to Let Chicago Grow.

In city council and out of it last night the general movement for the betterment of Chicago's physical conditions progressed.

State legislation in support of the Snow mandatory ordinance of railway terminals was brought within view at the council meeting when the question of enabling legislation as an aid to the city was considered and referred to the judiciary committee.

In an interview Ald. Milton J. Foreman, just returned from Europe, said he would call at once a public meeting of the transportation committee to consider the smoke nuisance in its relation to the need for electrification.

Mrs. Charles L. Sergel also announced plans for a mass meeting of the anti-smoke cohorts.

Attack on Elevated Loop.

In the council itself an attack upon another element of noise, dirt, and confusion—the Union Elevated loop—also was made. Ald. A. J. Fisher led this attack as well as the movement toward state aid.

Ald. Fisher's attack on the loop, in support of which he said he would appear before the local transportation committee in argument for its recommendation for passage, follows:

"Whereas, It is generally conceded that the Elevated Union Loop is the most prolific source of din, dirt, and darkness in the city of Chicago, as well as a menace to life and public safety; and

"Whereas, Its existence has created an increasing and dangerous congestion in the heart of the city, and such an unnatural, abnormal, and detrimental condition to property and trade interests throughout the city at large as has no parallel in any other city on the globe; and

"Whereas, Its existence has created practically a gigantic trade monopoly within its narrow limits almost to the ruin of retail interests outside its boundaries; and

"Whereas, By reason of such trade monopoly, property values, and rentals inside the loop have risen to enormous figures, while much of the first class business property throughout the city generally yields hardly sufficient revenue to pay taxes and current expenses; and Unnecessary with Through Trains.

"Whereas, With provision obtainable for through elevated north and south lines, the continuance of the loop is not essential to the transportation facilities of the city; and,

"Whereas, The abolition of the loop would enhance beyond measure public comfort and safety as well as urban sightliness and would conduce immediately and in an incalculable degree to abolish the present unjust property and commercial conditions throughout the city; therefore,

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this city council that the Union Elevated loop should be abolished at the earliest date practicable; that this city and its representatives should enter into no negotiations whatever looking to an enlargement of the loop district nor to the renewing of any existing franchises for the perpetuation of the loop, nor to the granting of any new franchise to any individual or corporation for such loop purposes."

The debate on the electrification question threw some light on the council's position toward the Snow ordinance and the attitude of its author toward its validity.

Governor's Name Introduced.

"I wish this action taken," said Ald. Fisher, "because there has been a general misunderstanding as to what prevented the passage of such a bill as this by the last legislature. Numbers of people have come to me to ask if the opposition of the state administration had not caused its death in committee, and I want to explain that Gov. Deneen has told me the matter never came before him in any way."

Ald. McInerny objected to a defense of the governor before he had been attacked and reminded the council that he had endeavored to force the hand of the Illinois Central when it had asked for franchises on different occasions.

"The name of the governor has no place here," he asserted. "The opposition came from my friend Drennan, who headed the lobbyists at Springfield and who lobbied six months ago on the floor of this council chamber."

There was an exchange of retorts between the two until Ald. Snow interjected a question as to whether Ald. Fisher had been given any assurance that such legislation would be considered at the special session of the legislature next month. The answer came in the negative and Ald. William E. Dever then asked if without an opinion from the corporation counsel or from the courts on the necessity of such legislation such a campaign would be wise.

Right to Demand Electrification.

On a call for a statement from him on this point, Ald. Snow said:

"It is the opinion of the corporation counsel that the city has the right to pass a mandatory ordinance of this sort. While there is no court decision on the point, there is no doubt in my mind of the city's power under the charter of '63.

"I see no reason why the passage of this order now would weaken our position. But whether the bill suggested is passed by the legislature or not, we have the right to pass an ordinance for electrification under our present powers."

Ald. Cullerton suggested that an opinion from the law department on the desirability of the legislation would be wise procedure, and Ald. Fisher accepted this suggestion But Ald. Snow objected.

"The giving of such an opinion," he said, "might be regarded as showing our hands at the outset. The corporation counsel might not wish to give such an opinion. It might be contrary to public policy. I have no objection to its going to the corporation counsel for consideration or to a committee for consultation with him. I believe the judiciary committee is the right place for it."

There were several calls for that committee and the discussion was closed.

Committee on Lake Front.

Among Mayor Busse's communications to the council was the appointment of Ald. Theodore K. Long, Corporation Counsel Brundage, and Commissioner of Public Works Hanberg as a committee to carry out the plan for a conference between representatives of the city, the state, the sanitary district, and the Lincoln park and south park boards to take up the question of obtaining for the public the use of lake front lands, the title to which is contested.

Ald. Long, as the father of the plan, was named as chairman and authorized to invite the appointment of representatives from the other public bodies to be invited to participate in the conference. He said he had not completed his plans for this procedure.

A special ordinance for the appropriation of $10,000, authorized by the finance committee for the expenses of the municipal expenditure commission, was passed almost without objection. Ald. Utpatel asked for a statement of what the expenses would be, was given a brief explanation, and voted favorably, but Ald. McInerny said he "would rather be excused." All the other votes were "ayes."

Business Done by Council.

Among the matters of business transacted by the council were the following:

The passage of a revised ordinance for the collection of fees for permits for street obstruction during building operations, requested by Building Commissioner Campbell and Superintendent of Streets Doherty, introduced by Ald. Jones.

The passage of a request upon the directors of the World's Columbian museum for the appropriation of $44,000 in undivided dividends for the improvement of the John Worthy school.

The appropriation of $6,000 for the removal of the Fuller street bridge, condemned by the war department.

The appropriation of $10,000 for the employment of additional inspectors by the board of local improvements.

The authorization of the employment of five additional cribkeepers on the recommendation of the department of public works.

The extension until Nov. 1, 1910, of the time for the completion by George W. Jackson, Inc., of the southwest land and water tunnel.

The passage of an ordinance making it an offense to obstruct traffic.

The passage of an ordinance prohibiting driverless vehicles from standing in the loop district more than one hour.

Matters Before the Aldermen.

Among other matters before the council were the following:

An ordinance for the refunding of fares by elevated road and street car conductors where blockades continue more than ten minutes, by Ald. Harding.

An ordinance permitting the deputy controller to sign warrants in the absence of the controller, by Ald. Snow.

An order for an ordinance compelling corporations planning street excavation to complete their work within sixty days after the passage of a local improvement ordinance covering the street, by Ald. Cullerton.

Sundry amendments to the municipal code in accordance with previous ordinances, recommended by judiciary committee.

Because of the contemplated absence of Mayor Busse from the city, Ald. Snow introduced and had passed an ordinance fixing the date of the next meeting two weeks hence, Oct. 18.

Foreman of the October Grand Jury Which Will Continue Graft Inquiry.

A.S. CAMERON

FOREMAN STIRS WAR ON SMOKE.

Alderman, Back, Calls Council Committee Conference for Tomorrow—May Be Public.

Before the council committee on local transportation takes up for final consideration the Snow mandatory ordinance for the electrification of railroad terminals, the roads probably will be given a chance to record their protests at a public meeting.

In the midst of hurry and bustle following his return to the city, after a two months' vacation in Europe, Ald. Milton J. Foreman, chairman of the committee, said yesterday that such a hearing probably will be held.

The alderman all day long had been giving out interviews of his observations of European conditions, ranging from city and national governments down to personal conduct in cafés, but the subject of electrification was the one which aroused the greatest interest during the moments in which he was able to put a few questions on his own account.

Calls Meeting for Tomorrow.

"What does the Illinois Central say?"

"Does the ordinance cover all roads?"

"How do the anti-smoke people take it?"

These were some of his queries in the process of arming himself with information in anticipation of a conference either today or tomorrow morning with Mayor Busse, Corporation Counsel Brundage, Health Commissioner Evans, and other city officials upon the treatment that will be given the Snow ordinance in the local transportation committee tomorrow afternoon. The call for this he issued as soon as he reached his office.

"I have instructed Mr. Evans, the secretary of the committee," he said, "to call a meeting for Wednesday afternoon, and until that time I shall be trying to get together all the available information instead of trying to give out any.

"New York brought about electrification by mandatory ordinance, and if Chicago has found a way to effect it by the same channel I shall do my best to see such an ordinance passed by the council and enforced. If the corporation counsel thinks the present ordinance is a good measure, I shall get back of it at once."

Anti-Smoke League's Work.

The Chicago Anti-Smoke league's campaign for Illinois Central electrification is having its desired effect, according to Mrs. Charles L. Sergel, the league president. Over a hundred people, she says, have telephoned messages commending the league's stand and offering assistance, if needed.

"Many of those who have talked with me are women and men I have never met, but who are vitally interested," Mrs. Sergel said. "Assistance is being offered from all sides. The thousands along the lake front and other railroad rights of way simply will not stand for this nuisance, and I think the Illinois Central directors realize this."

STUDY 2 BOULEVARD PLANS

Aldermen Consider Original Measure and New One.

MANY NAMES ON PETITION.

No Michigan Avenue Property Owner Refuses to Sign.

Two boulevard propositions for the extension of Michigan avenue are before the city council for consideration as a result of an order proposed by Ald. Coughlin and passed at the council meeting last night.

One is the proposition for extending the present boulevard to Randolph street, and the other, proposed by Ald. Coughlin, suggests a compromise with the advocates of a traffic street by "boulevarding at least half of Michigan avenue from Jackson boulevard to Randolph street."

The new proposition contemplates the possibilities of a divided thoroughfare, the east portion of which shall be a boulevard and the west part to be a traffic street, the two to be separated by chains—except at crossings—which may be removed on occasions of big parades.

Aldermen will confer with the south park commissioners on the boulevard proposition before the next meeting of the council, when the question again will be raised. Ald. Harding then will have the full petition containing the names of practically all of the property owners on the part of Michigan avenue south of the river whose holdings will be affected by the proposed boulevard. The ordinance he is preparing will be supported by this petition, which has been circulated by the Michigan Avenue Improvement association and which already has forty signatures.

None Refuses to Sign.

Of the persons who have been approached with this petition none has refused to sign and only one or two have asked for time to consider the question. The report on the canvass made by Russell D. Hill, secretary of the association, indicates that there is now no opposition to the proposed extension of the boulevard to Randolph street.

Because a number of property owners had not had an opportunity to sign the petition the ordinance in preparation by Ald. Harding was not presented last night. The attitude of the city administration, which seems inclined to support the combined boulevard and traffic street, was also given some consideration.

"The question has gone over until the next meeting and we will have time to consider all phases of it," said Ald. Harding after the council meeting. "The administration seems to favor a divided street, and there seems plenty of time to work out the whole proposition."

Favor Boulevard Extension.

Other members of the council expressed themselves as favoring the extension of the broad highway at the earliest possible date, as desired by the property owners.

"There seems to be no objection now to extending the boulevard to Randolph street as quickly as possible," said Ald. Foell. "Such a move would not commit us to any policy with regard to the ultimate extension of the system across the river into the ward I represent. That can be determined later just as well after the proposed extension is made."

"I am in favor of widening Michigan avenue to Randolph now," said Ald. Taylor, also of the Twenty-first ward. "I cannot say at present that I am opposed to the compromise making one half of it a traffic street."

COP ACCUSED AS THIEF FREED.

Policeman John Tynan Also Cleared of Charge That He Shot at a Chinaman.

Policeman John Tynan of the Thirty-fifth street station, charged with shooting and attempting to rob Pong Wing, employed in a laundry at 5549 Wentworth avenue, was discharged by Municipal Judge Fry yesterday. Katherine Gallagher, 318 Garfield boulevard, was also let go.

The three men who were arrested with Tynan and Miss Gallagher in an alley in the rear of 5443 Shields avenue were fined $1 and costs.

Tynan and the woman testified that they had not been drinking with the others and just happened to be passing through the alley at the time.

Girl Missing for Fourth Time.

The police of the Shakspeare avenue station are making a search for Mamie Hensch, 15 years old, 2313 North Ridgeway avenue, who is missing from her residence for the fourth time in the last three months. Herman Hensch, her father, told the police the girl has fled with a man.

WAYMAN SUMMONS JURY COMMISSION

Books and Records Must Be Brought Before October Inquisitorial Body.

NEW PANEL IS SWORN IN.

Alexander S. Cameron Chosen Foreman; McLane and Amberg Are in Court.

Jury tampering is to receive an exhaustive investigation at the hands of the October grand jury, which was impaneled yesterday. Subpœnas duces tecum were issued at the instance of State's Attorney Wayman for the jury commissioners, commanding them to appear before the inquisitorial body with all books and lists connected with the drawing of venires.

Following an inspection of these books and records it is declared that a number of new witnesses whose names have not been mentioned in connection with "jury fixing," are to be called before the grand jurors today.

Following the arrest of John J. Holland, jury commissioner; Nicholas J. Martin, and Willis J. Rayburn last month and their subsequent indictment Mr. Wayman started out after evidence against others whom he believed were implicated in the alleged frauds.

Detectives Gather Evidence.

For several weeks Detectives Loula, Keeley, Murnane, and O'Keefe from the prosecutor's private staff, have been working on the case, and it is declared that they are prepared to place much evidence before the October grand jury.

It is believed that the inquisitorial body also may take further action against the three men under arrest. The men are out under bonds of $25,000 each. It is expected that they will not be given a hearing until the November sessions.

State's Attorney Wayman, when asked concerning the subpœnaes for the jury commissioners' books and records, merely said he was not through with his investigations.

"It's only a question of how many are guilty," said he.

Concerning the reports that an effort had been made by certain politicians and others to "call him off" of the graft investigation, Mr. Wayman smiled and remarked that "It will be a cold day when I'm called off."

Members of Grand Jury.

Following is a list of the members of the October grand jury which was impaneled by Judge Tuthill:

CAMERON, ALEXANDER S., foreman, 1500 Chase avenue, member of the firm of Cameron, Schroth & Cameron, 189 Michigan avenue.

ARNESEN, OSCAR A., 3466 Wabash avenue, vice president at 240 South Clinton street.

BACH, OTTO C., 2023 Montrose avenue, a manufacturer.

BEHREL, HUGO G., 1909 Fremont street, a foreman at 198 Wabash avenue.

BOETTIN, PAUL C., 1904 West Chicago avenue, a plumber.

BORGLUND, SWAN, 7251 Emerald avenue, a building contractor.

BOTTHOF, EDWARD, 2419 Fulton street, department manager for Wilson Bros., 332 Fifth avenue.

BURGESS, FRANK A., 3142 Warren avenue, president of a paper company at 407 Wells street.

CONKLIN, CHARLES H., 3215 Walnut street, station agent.

DUNN, PHILLIP T., 6432 Harvard avenue, master mechanic.

ELLIS, GEORGE H., Harvey, Ill., retired farmer.

FREEMAN, HENRY C., 4208 Carroll avenue, locomotive engineer.

GRUBE, CHRIST, 3421 Armitage avenue, a confectioner.

HAUG, WILLIAM, 1840 Millard avenue, proprietor of a dry goods store at 2308 West Twelfth street.

HOWE, HENRY, 1912 Lonergan street, a plumber.

KLUTH, HENRY, 235 St. Johns court, locomotive engineer.

MALDUER, CHARLES, 150 North Ashland boulevard, toolmaker at 9 North Jefferson street.

MONROE, WILLIAM J., 4340 Perry street, a clerk.

ORTMANN, RUDOLPH, 669 Lincoln Park boulevard, connected with Griffin Wheel company, 38 Jackson boulevard.

STERN, SIDNEY, 2038 Grace street, commercial traveler for Kohn Bros., 192 Jackson boulevard.

STOHR, PETER C., 1258 Lake Shore drive, assistant traffic director of the Union Pacific railroad.

WHITING, JOHN H., 1362 Dearborn avenue, president of the Whiting Foundry company, 204 Dearborn street.

WILSON, SAMUEL M., 11827 Union avenue, a lumberman.

Commissioners in Court.

During the examination of the veniremen James J. McLane and W. A. Amberg, jury commissioners, were in court. The state was represented by Assistant State's Attorney Victor P. Arnold. The jury adjourned shortly after noon. Mr. Arnold announced that only half day sessions would be held this month.

Municipal Judge Going in the Criminal court dismissed the pandering case against "Monkey Face Charlie" Genker. The dismissal of the suit followed a retraction by Minnie Brown, the complaining witness. She testified that she was intoxicated at the time she signed her statement accusing Genker.

NEW JUDGE BARS POLITICS

George A. Cooke Makes Pledge on Eve of Ascending Bench.

TAKES HIS SEAT TODAY.

Declares Bipartisanship in Courts Aids Nonpartisanship.

George A. Cooke of Aledo will be seated this morning at Springfield as an associate justice of the Supreme court of Illinois to succeed the late Justice Guy C. Scott.

At a luncheon given in his honor by the Iroquois club yesterday he pledged himself that politics shall be divorced from the bench so far as he is concerned, and that when the doors of the court close as he enters the chamber political considerations will be left at the threshold.

Justice Orrin N. Carter bade welcome to the justice-elect. John S. Miller, for the bar, bespoke for him a career unfettered by politics, and William J. Onahan, representing the laity and democracy, wished for him a successful future.

In replying, Justice Elect Cooke said that the belief which he firmly holds is that bipartisanship in the courts promotes nonpartisanship.

"I said this repeatedly in the late campaign," said Mr. Cooke. "I have firmly held the view that with a court composed exclusively of men from one political party there is no substantial opportunity for nonpartisanship.

Divorced from Politics.

"There was but one Democrat left upon the Supreme bench. My predecessor was a Democrat. I said to the people in the district that in the interest of a nonpartisan judiciary another Democrat should be elected. That this sentiment appealed to the well thinking voters is evidenced by the number of Republicans who voted for me.

"I go to Springfield quite divorced from politics and with the hope and ambition to do honorable and honest service to the people of the state."

At the luncheon were gathered many of the representative members of the bar of Chicago, together with a large percentage of the Iroquois club membership.

Among the guests were Justice Orrin N. Carter, Roy O. West, S. S. Gregory, John S. Miller, William S. Forrest, Roger C. Sullivan, William J. Onahan, Frank G. Hoyne, William Rothmann, Clayton E. Crafts, Orva G. Williams, Edward F. Dunne, Charles J. Vopicka, Joseph B. David, Judge Frank Baker, Charles S. Schoenmann, James A. Brady, George W. Miller, Senator A. F. Gorman, John P. Tansey, B. M. Mitchell, John P. McGoorty, William Dillon, Col. James Hamilton Lewis, William L. O'Connell, Richard E. Burke, Colin C. H. Fyffe, William H. Arthur, William H. Sexton, Judge Julian W. Mack, Ross C. Hall, Frank H. McCulloch, John F. Bowers, E. H. Roche, William H. Barnum, M. W. Borders, Congressman A. J. Sabath, Charles W. Stafford, C. L. Brown, W. A. Doyle, Roswell B. Mason.

Marshall Shuns Candidacy Talk.

Justice Elect Cooke probably will tender his formal resignation today to Chairman Charles Boeschenstein as secretary of the Democratic state committee. No choice of his successor yet has been made.

Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, talking yesterday of Hoosier state politics, dodged successfully the possibility of his being a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1912 and the senatorship in two years. He wouldn't even talk about it. He declared that, in his opinion, President Taft's series of speeches will be sufficient to defeat the Republican party in the next national campaign.

Representative David E. Shanahan received notice from Representative B. M. Chiperfield yesterday asking him to make the necessary arrangements for the submerged lands investigating committee of the legislature to make a trip down the Mississippi some time next week, beginning at the Wisconsin line. Members of the legislature from districts bordered by the Mississippi will be invited to join the expedition, which will be made on the state boat Illinois. Representative Shanahan will go to Springfield tonight to talk it over with Commodore Nat Cohen.

WILL SUE VILLAGE TRUSTEES.

Real Estate Dealer Will Demand Damages for the Tearing Down of House in Congress Park.

William H. Dunn, a real estate dealer, has instructed his attorney to take immediate action against the trustees and citizens of Brookfield who aided in tearing down a house in Congress park occupied by Mrs. Laura Morgan, colored, and her three children. The house was razed Saturday night at 11 o'clock following a special meeting of the village trustees.

WIDOW SUES FOR $10,000.

Mrs. Virginia Croswell Asks Damages from Frederick H. Froenke.

Mrs. Virginia Croswell, a widow living at 71 East Thirty-third street, yesterday began a damage suit for $10,000 against Frederick H. Froenke, alleging trespass. Nothing but the præcipe in the suit was filed. Froenke is a butcher whose place of business is given as 4817 South Ashland avenue.

"Playbills That Are Not An Insult"

The following is quoted from "The Drama—Matters of Fact and Opinion," in the Chicago Record-Herald of Sunday, Sept. 28, 1909, Page 4, Part 5:

"The wad of ink and slimpsy paper, with the cast of the play distributed over six pages, has long been accepted by a patient public as a theatrical program. It is gradually disappearing in this town, thanks principally to an advertising man of taste and energy, who has been able to persuade several of the managers that there was a better way. The Colonial is the latest establishment to adopt a playbill that is not an insult to its patrons, thus aligning itself with that best managed of theaters, Powers'. The Chicago Opera House and the Majestic, also, are in the honor list. The advertising man who wrought the changes effects them slowly, but it has been noticed that one more theater each season comes over to his way of thinking. In time he may win them all, and we have a bouquet ready for each as soon as it is deserved.

"Belated congratulations are extended to the Colonial.

"James O'Donnell Bennett."

We appreciate Mr. Bennett's open commendation of our efforts to publish theater programs that are "not an insult"—that are not a mere "wad of ink and slimpsy paper." Many competent judges of good printing and good advertising say that the Riley programs are the finest in the world. They back their opinion by advertising in them.

Our advertising rates (on application) are a little higher than the rates of other theater programs, but we spend the difference for a Better Quality of Paper (for fine half tones), Better Printing, which is in colors, and Lithographed Covers (which do not soil hands or gloves). We also give our advertisers Better Service, "Classier" Circulation, and High Class Company, for we insert only reliable advertisements.

CHICAGO SUBWAY FACING A CRISIS

Harriman and Armour Interests to Confer on Reorganization Proposition.

MUST CUT DOWN CAPITAL.

Property Unable to Earn Even the Interest Charges on $30,000,000 Bonds.

Combined efforts on the part of E. H. Harriman and J. Ogden Armour having failed to make the bores of the Illinois Tunnel company pay, a reorganization of its financial affairs and possibly a receivership, is under consideration.

A meeting between the Armour and Harriman interests is scheduled to be held in New York this week, when it is expected some conclusion will be reached.

The capitalization of the concern is top-lofty. The property is unable to earn the interest charges on the $30,000,000 of bonds, much less anything on the $45,000,000 of stock of the Chicago Subway company, which controls the tunnels. The earnings of the tunnels as reported to the city were equal to but $311,996 last year. The interest charges made a total of $1,420,000. Earnings, however are now larger than those reported. Despite the planning that has been done and the talent spent on the enterprise, it does not promise in the near or remote future earnings equal to charges and there is nothing left but reorganization.

Heavy Burden on Armour.

People who are familiar with the affairs of the tunnels and their prospects are said to have reached the belief that the outlook is hopeless under the present capitalization.

During the last few years E. H. Harriman and J. Ogden Armour carried the project, preventing default of interest on the bonds by advancing a large loan. This loan now amounts to $9,500,000, so far as public records go, and draws interest at 6 per cent. It is secured by $13,000,000 Illinois Tunnel company bonds. As collateral for the loan they are valued at between 72 and 73 cents on the dollar.

So long as E. H. Harriman was alive he and Armour appeared to be willing, outwardly at least, to carry the burden, believing developments would be such as to bring them out whole. With the death of Mr. Harriman, Mr. Armour began to view the situation seriously and to wonder whether the Harriman estate was willing to stand further for its share of interest charges.

Capital Must Be Scaled.

It was primarily to confer over the matter that the meeting for this week was arranged. In event of the two special interests reaching a determination as to what shall be done, a meeting of the bondholders will be called for final decision. It is conceded that the capital must be scaled. The $45,000,000 of stock of the Chicago Subway company is worthless except for voting purposes, and voting power in a concern which earns but a part of its bond interest does not appear flattering to the average investor.

Since the company is unable to earn its interest there must be either foreclosure or agreement on the part of the bondholders to waive their interest for a period to be agreed upon. No other course is open unless the Harriman estate and Mr. Armour are willing to devote a part of their resources to what may be considered semi-philanthropic uses.

Tunnel Company Owns Bores.

The Chicago Subway company was organized in 1904 with an authorized capital stock of $50,000,000. Of this amount $45,000,000 has been issued. It acquired control of the Illinois Tunnel company, which concern owns the bores, or tunnels, and which concern also issued $30,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds. The greater part of these bonds was originally taken by certain interests in Scranton, Pa., who believed in tunnels.

But several years ago it was decided to increase the mileage, and, as the bonds were not readily salable, a loan was negotiated to complete the work. The amount of this loan had to be increased gradually. There were those interested in the property who could see nothing but large earnings, and who eventually persuaded E. H. Harriman and J. Ogden Armour of the great future of the tunnels.

Mr. Harriman turned over the active work of completing the bores and establishing connection with business houses and railroads to Mr. Armour. Mr. Armour in turn employed his best talent on the work. Through his influence as a big shipper all the railroads, with the exception of the Grand Trunk, were interested, and established connections with the tunnels.

Hopes Fail of Realization.

It was thought that when the railroads were booked up to the proposition and important business houses had made arrangements to use the bores the income would grow so steadily that those who had invested in its bonds and had loaned it money, would be able to see their way out.

But the traffic has not grown to a point where the present capital is anything like justified, as the returns show. It is thought that with an outside capitalization of possibly $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 there might be reasonable expectation of a fair return. But the company at present is confronted with $17,000,000 bonds in the hands of the original backers and to some extent the public, while at least $9,500,000 drawing 6 per cent interest is owed on the company's notes.

Stock Is Distributed Widely.

Chicago Subway stock is widely distributed. It is traded in on both the New York curb and the Chicago stock exchange. Following the death of E. H. Harriman the shares became unusually active and began to sell off from 17, dropping eventually to 6½. From Sept. 9 until Sept. 30, inclusive, total sales in New York and Chicago aggregated 223,000, or 60 per cent of the outstanding capital. The depreciation in market value was $4,500,000.

The stock found its way into the hands of many local politicians and others four years ago when the price was advanced to above 87. This advance was scored in spite of the fact that the earnings were a negligible quantity and that the outlook was equally negligible. About this time, however, Mr. Armour and Mr. Harriman got into the property and market pyrotechnics ceased. The stock tumbled from the price mentioned to around 15, and many visions of wealth were destroyed.

Fight Against Receivership.

The stockholders of Chicago Subway and the bond holders of the Illinois Tunnel company are facing a total capitalization of $75,000,000 with small earnings. Should the capitalization be scaled to $30,000,000, the amount of the bond issue, it would still be necessary to reduce that amount to be within bounds of conservatism.

The appointment of a receiver will be the last resort, for those who have nursed the enterprise to its present position are extremely unwilling to see a collapse in the securities, though they are equally unwilling to continue to pay interest out of their own resources instead of out of the earnings of the company.

BRIDGETENDER SAVES A CAR.

Permits Barge to Crash Into Structure When Conveyance Is Stalled on Approach.

To save a street car from falling into the river yesterday afternoon F. H. Peiss, bridgetender at the Twelfth street bridge, let the lake barge Louis Pahlan crash into the structure. Ten feet of the bridge's planking was torn away and the barge's bow was damaged. When the barge was nearing the bridge a Twelfth street car reached the west approach of the bridge, when suddenly the power gave out. The motorman was unable to drive it either forward or backward.

Participants in Historic Pageant Hold Last Rehearsal in Full Costume.

The Dutch from New York Posing for the Artist
Sedate Early Settlers from Connecticut
Anne Lindsey White As a Prim Little Huguenot
Hear Big Injuns

Indians yesterday promenaded the main streets of Evanston, dropped in at corner drug stores, and otherwise disported themselves after the custom of the day. They were Black Hawks recruited from Northwestern university, who were awaiting the evening hour when they should assist Donald Robertson and his players in the capture of Fort Dearborn, which event is the first scheduled for performance in the pageant depicting the history of Illinois. It was rehearsed in full dress array last night for the first time.

Early Dutch settlers, wearing wooden shoes and white caps that looked like windmills, clattered along the sidewalks. These are the inhabitants of New York. The Huguenots, in somber browns, also were numerous, and included Anne Lindsey White. On the night of the performance they will sell peanuts and other delicacies.

The pageant, indeed, showed decided signs of life, and such exciting rumor was rife as that Connecticut, the land of life insurance, would on this occasion offer accident insurance at 50 cents a $10,000, against the indigestible things the other states would sell. The only discouraging rumor comes from J. Allen Haines, who reports that he is unable to find a brunette Lincoln, all applicants for the job thus far being blondes.

KILLS SELF ON WIFE'S GRAVE

Julius S. Manasse Had Erected Tombstone with Name on It.

GIRL AND WOMAN SUICIDES.

Miss Taylor Takes Poison; Mrs. Somerfeldt Beheaded.

Continued brooding over the suicide of his wife two years ago caused Julius S. Manasse, a Chicago barber, to kill himself on her grave at Milwaukee yesterday. She took poison and he used a revolver.

Manasse formerly operated a cigar factory in the Wisconsin city and immediately after his wife's death showed signs of eccentricity. But no alarm was felt until a year ago, when he erected a headstone for his dead wife and one for himself at her side. Then his brother, Maurice, induced him to come to Chicago and enter the barber business at 38 South Clark street.

On the gravestone he had inscribed his name, the date of his birth—Feb. 3, 1859—and left a blank space for the date of his death. A few months ago he was induced to box in the stone so as to obscure the inscription from public view.

Girl, Despondent, Kills Herself.

Miss Elsie Taylor killed herself at Anderson, Ind., by taking poison. She had been in ill health for some weeks and her act is attributed to despondency. Miss Taylor lived with her mother, Mrs. H. S. Taylor, and three sisters at 720 Oakwood boulevard. The family came to Chicago seven years ago from Streator, Ill.

Miss Taylor was a bookkeeper on the west side and lately had complained of not feeling well and for two weeks previous to her leaving for Anderson on her vacation last week she did not work.

Woman Beheaded by Engine.

Mrs. Christian Somerfeldt, 75 years old, committed suicide in the morning by pillowing her head on a rail in front of a switch engine of the Calumet Terminal Transfer railroad in Blue Island. The wheels of the locomotive passed over her neck and severed her head. The woman is believed to have been temporarily insane.

Mrs. Somerfeldt's husband died several years ago and she had been living with her married daughter, Mrs. Anna Wiebert, in Blue Island.

ALBERT PULITZER A SUICIDE.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Depressed at the failure of his physicians to hasten his recovery from a nervous breakdown, Albert Pulitzer, a brother of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World, killed himself in his apartments in this city last night.

It was evident that he had made doubly sure of death, for all the indications pointed to the fact that he had first swallowed poison, and then, standing in front of a mirror, had sent a bullet from a revolver through his right temple. An empty poison bottle lay on a table.

Some time later Dr. Pollak, who has been attending Mr. Pulitzer, called to make his usual visit and found him lying dead on the floor in front of his dressing table.

Albert Pulitzer was the founder of the New York Morning Journal. He had spent most of his time in Europe since 1895 until two years ago, when he went to New York and announced his intention of starting a newspaper in that city. The project was not put into effect and Mr. Pulitzer returned to Europe.

Albert and Joseph Pulitzer had been estranged for several years.

TELLS WHY SCHOOL CHILDREN SAW GERMANS DRINKING BEER.

Supt. Young Says Those Who Sang in Coliseum Were Allowed to Do So by Their Parents.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, replied yesterday to A. P. Ballou's complaint that school children who sang at the Coliseum garden on Sunday were made "innocent participants in beer garden festivities."

"Prof. Katzenberger, the director of music at the celebration, came to me," she said, "and asked permission to drill the children of the Forestville, Fuller, and Willard schools for the German celebration. He wanted to hold the drills for three days at the school buildings after the children were dismissed.

"I refused him this permission. I did not think I had a right to introduce an outsider in any school as a teacher of music. If any school children sang and witnessed beer drinking it was because their parents allowed them to do so."

NEW BUSINESS CLUB FORMED.

Van Buren Street Merchants Unite to Fight for Improvement of Thoroughfare.

Over a hundred merchants met at 2140 Van Buren street last night and formed the West Van Buren Street Business Men's association. The association has for its object the improvement of Van Buren street, including better lighting and a cleaner street. Incidentally it is to boom business.

Delegations from the North Avenue Business Men's association and the Milwaukee Avenue Business Men's association, the latter headed by Col. Lewis Hutzler, member of the legislature from the Twenty-fifth district, attended the meeting.

The officers elected are L. Crane, 2142 West Van Buren street, president; C. F. Bishop, 1848 West Van Buren street, vice president; J. A. Wendell, Van Buren street and Ogden avenue, treasurer; W. C. Stone, 2034 West Van Buren street, secretary.

Examination for Mail Clerks.

The United States civil service commission has ordered a special examination to be held on Nov. 1 in the Federal building to fill positions of substitute mail clerks. A recent order from Washington added 137 clerks to the employes' list of the Chicago postal service.

ORDERS PURE WATER INQUIRY

Secretary of War to Get Report on Lake Pollution.

WOULD PUT BLAME ON CITY.

Dredgings Dumped Too Near Cribs; Who Is at Fault?

The city and the federal government are on the way to learn how far apart or how nearly together they are over the issue of who will pay for keeping Lake Michigan unpolluted.

Health Commissioner W. A. Evans fired a letter into Washington last week asking for immediate action by the war department in the matter. The Evans letter secured a rise out of Secretary of War Dickinson, who yesterday ordered a complete report as to when cribs were built and when sewers were constructed, which information Washington thinks will settle the moot issue once and for all.

Dr. Evans and several other health officers of municipalities on the Lake Michigan shore have complained repeatedly of the government officials who, in keeping navigation clear in the Chicago and Calumet rivers and in the adjacent harbors, have been dumping the refuse and filth so close to the city intakes that health of the city has been imperiled.

Navigation Interests Government.

The government's position during the controversy has been that it is no particular business of the government to protect the city's health and that it is in business in Chicago to keep the river channels in usable condition.

Negotiations have been in progress between the municipality and the government to have the refuse dumped either behind the breakwater or beyond the eight mile limit out in Lake Michigan. There would be a quick signing of articles if an agreement could be reached as to who will pay the bill, Uncle Sam or Chicago.

The object of the investigation now ordered by Secretary Dickinson is to see whether the cribs, intakes, and sewers were not built too close to government dumps, thus placing the fault upon the city.

Maj. Rees to Investigate.

To Maj. Rees is deputed the task of getting the data which Secretary Dickinson wants, and his investigation, which is expected to settle the long fought row, will be inaugurated immediately.

An old time difficulty between the city and the federal government was practically buried when the city council ordered an appropriation of $6,000 for the removal of the remnants of the old intermediate crib off Sixty-seventh street.

GIRL CONFESSES THEFTS, THEN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Young Woman's Life Saved by Detective Who Arrests Her—Stolen Jewelry Is Hidden in Water Pipe.

After confessing the theft of $40 and jewelry valued at $100 from her mistress, Mrs. H. S. Ripley, 1406 East Fifty-seventh street, and hiding the stolen property in an abandoned water pipe, Miss Celia Fowler ran past two detectives last evening and attempted to commit suicide in her room by drinking laudanum.

Detective John Purcell ran into the room, however, and knocked the bottle from her hand. The young woman, who is 28 years old, was taken to the Woodlawn police station.

"I want to die," declared Miss Fowler, who will be arraigned today on a charge of larceny. "What have I to live for? Yes, I took the money and placed it in the water pipe."

Several plumbers were put to work in an attempt to find the stolen goods, but were unable to find them.

MOTORMAN ON DUTY IS SHOT.

George Mackay Wounded by Unidentified Man Who Flees—Several Passengers on Car.

George Makay, a motorman on the Sixty-ninth street line, was shot yesterday by an unidentified man who boarded Mackay's car at Winchester avenue and Sixty-ninth street. Two wounds were inflicted, one in the thigh and the other in the wrist. The assailant, whom Mackay says he does not know, leaped from the car and escaped.

Several passengers were on the car at the time. Mackay was taken to the Englewood Union hospital. His injuries are not serious. No arrest was made. Mackay lives at 6810 Throop street.

MEMBERS OF BROKERAGE FIRM ARRESTED ON LARCENY CHARGE

Two Arrests Made at Boston After Secret Indictment Alleges $120,000 Irregularity—Sequel to Failure.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—Arthur B. Sederquist and John E. Barry, members of the failed brokerage firm of Sederquist, Barry & Co., which was petitioned into bankruptcy last spring, were arrested today on a secret indictment charging them jointly with the larceny of $120,000. Sederquist gave bail, but Barry was unable to give bond and was locked up.

At a meeting of the creditors of the firm, held several weeks ago, a committee of creditors reported that a closer investigation should be made of the transactions between the firm and Harry F. Curtis of Boston, a member of the firm when it was originally established under the name of Curtis & Sederquist. The committee in this connection mentioned the firm of Freeman, Rollins & Co. of New York and Boston, which Curtis also originally established under the name of Curtis & Freeman.

Since the committee's report the firm of Freeman, Rollins & Co. has failed. Recently a petition signed by the majority of the creditors was sent to Charles F. Weed, asking him to resign as trustee in bankruptcy. This he declined to do. Last week the Supreme court issued a temporary injunction preventing the disposal of certain shares of stock held by the firm at the time of its failure.

INVENTORY SHOWS HAUGAN ESTATE WORTH $527,005.50.

Personal Property of Late President of State Bank $433,905.50—Milo G. Kellog's Widow Files Petition.

An inventory of the real and personal property of the estate of the late Helge A. Haugan, president of the State Bank of Chicago, was filed in the Probate court yesterday. The total valuation of the property of the estate is listed at $527,005.50. The personal property is valued at $433,905.50, of which $250,000 is represented by stock in the State Bank of Chicago.

Mary F. Kellog, 5001 Woodlawn avenue, widow of the late Milo G. Kellog, filed a petition to be appointed administratrix of her husband's estate. Mr. Kellog left no will. The estate is valued at $1,525,000. The personal property is valued at $1,250,000. The Fidelity and Deposit company was allowed to act as surety on the $2,000,000 bond which was given by Mrs. Kellog.

TOO KIND TO CHORUS GIRL.

Edward Wirth, Drug Clerk, Punished by Court for Charity with Employer's Money.

"Let chorus girls and charity alone in the future," admonished Municipal Judge Fake yesterday as he sentenced Edward Wirth to one hour in the county jail and imposed a fine of $5. Wirth is a clerk employed by the Public Drug company, 150 State street. He admitted he gave $1 from the cash drawer and merchandise worth the same amount to a chorus girl who "came into the store and told a pitiful tale of not having money."

COURT CALLS COPPER BRUTE

Judge Crowe Denounces Policeman Who Beats Boy.

"DISGRACE TO THE FORCE."

Bluecoat Admits Clubbing Young Man Returning from Wedding Feast.

"You are not a policeman. You are a brute. There is not a drop of human sympathy in your whole body. Men like you bring the police department into contempt. If I was on the trial board, I'd discharge you from the force. You should have carried this boy to the patrol box."

Policeman James H. Burke of the Chicago avenue station made no reply yesterday to this scathing denounciation by Municipal Judge Crowe. He stood before the court with bowed head.

Boy Had Been at Wedding.

Beside the policeman stood George Gift, 17 years old, 1510 Hudson avenue, with his head swathed in bandages and badly swollen. The policeman admitted that he hit the youth on the head with his club because the latter resisted him.

"I had been at a Polish wedding," said the young man, "and they gave me some whisky. I must have drunk too much of it, for I got sick and couldn't take care of myself.

"I was at Kingsbury and Superior streets about 10 o'clock last night when the policeman found me. He beat me on the head with his club."

Advises Action Against Officer.

In discharging the boy the court advised him to prefer charges against the policeman. Judge Crowe also summoned Capt. Rehm and informed him of the patrolman's conduct. Capt. Rehm said he would investigate the matter.

Burke has been a member of the force about four years. He was transferred to the Chicago avenue station from the town hall station a few months ago. He lives at 727 Roscoe street.

COEDUCATIONAL CLUB WILL OPEN FOR WINTER TONIGHT.

West Side Organization to Give Entertainments—Doings in "Chrysolite" and Other Clubs Today.

The West Side Coeducational club will open its season this evening with a reception at its clubrooms, 2858 Washington boulevard. A fine musical and literary program has been prepared.

THE CHRYSOLITE CLUB will hold an industrial meeting in Shotwell's hall, Washington avenue and Fifty-fifth street, at 10:30 o'clock this morning. At the afternoon session a lecture will be delivered on "First Aid to the Injured."

THE CHICAGO UNION of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions will give an entertainment next Thursday evening at the Englewood Christian church, Stewart avenue and Sixty-sixth street.

CHICAGO AUTO CLUB will hold a dinner and entertainment this evening. Pictures of the recent meet at Crown Point will be shown.

CHICAGO WOMAN'S AID will open its twenty-eighth session today at 2:30 p. m. Miss Ella von Valkenburg will give interpretive readings.

HARLETON LITERARY CLUB will meet today at 2 p. m. in Handel hall. Addresses will be given by the president, Mrs. A. J. Kuelzow, and Mrs. O. L. Blair.

FULLERTON AVENUE DAY NURSERY will hold a benefit today at the Christopher settlement, 1528 Fullerton avenue.

PIANO THEIR HEARTS' DESIRE.

Settlement Children, Deprived of Borrowed Instrument, Wonder if Some One Will Make Them Happy.

Has anybody a piano—a second hand piano—that he or she doesn't need any more? And would that person be willing to make it over to fifty little boys and girls who do not have much music in their lives and are now almost holding their breath to see if a recital of their need will bring them one? They are the little boys of the South Deering Neighborhood center, at 10441 Hoxie street. Until just the other day they had the joyous experience of singing to the accompaniment of a piano which some kind person had loaned them. The following officers were installed for the coming year: Chairman, the Rev. W. W. Dewey, Ogden Park church; Vice Chairman, the Rev. M. W. Buck, Bethel church; Secretary, the Rev. Henry Proctor, Western Avenue church; Treasurer, the Rev. W. E. Grinnel, Albany Park church.

Among the speakers were the Rev. John A. Earl and the Rev. R. B. Chambers.

TEARS IN COURT SHED FOR GIRLS

Heartbroken Parents See Penalty Imposed on Daughters Arrested in Raid.

FIVE WOMEN ARE FINED.

One Is Sent to House of Good Shepherd at Request of Sobbing Mother.

"I run a nice, quiet little dance hall and saloon and cannot see why I should be arrested."

This protest was made in Sheffield avenue court yesterday by Joseph Burkhart, whose place at 2411 Belmont avenue was raided Saturday night.

For answer Judge Crowe pointed at the line of gray haired fathers and weeping mothers and then to the seven girls standing in various attitudes of dejection near him. These girls and twenty-one men were arrested in the raid.

Detectives going by the place heard a girl in the hall say:

"Come on, Jack; we'll have another dance. Let the band play on. What do we care if we are caught? Burkhart will see that we get out all right."

The speaker was Marie Dambreaux, 18 years old, of 3440 North Hoyne avenue, who attempted to end her life in a chop suey restaurant on Sept. 14 by taking carbolic acid because "Jack" Patterson, a deep sea diver at Riverview park, had jilted her.

Her remark is considered by the police to be the strongest evidence against Burkhart, who is charged with keeping a disorderly saloon.

Burkhart Demands Jury Trial.

Burkhart demanded a jury trial and his bonds were fixed at $500.

Detective Parker testified that the raid was made on a warrant obtained by Mrs. Elizabeth McCarthy of 1858 West Erie street, who went with the police to point out her daughter, Katharine McCarthy, 19 years old, who was drinking in the place.

"Marie Dambreaux was so drunk," he said, "that she had to be taken to the Chicago avenue police station in an ambulance."

The men arraigned pleaded guilty, three being discharged, the others paying a fine of $1 and costs. Hilda Johnson, 21 years old, of Forest Glen, Ill., said she was waiting for a car when she was arrested, and she was discharged.

When Dorothy Caswell, 18 years old, was arraigned, Judge Crowe said:

"The court does not believe you to be 18 years old. We'll just see how much Burkhart thinks of you, and if he will pay a fine of $200 for you."

Burkhart pulled forth a big roll of bills and prepared to pay the fine, but changed his mind when Evelyn Mann and Katherine McCarthy also were fined $200 and costs and Hazel Cook fined $5 and costs. Miss Hanna Neile paid a fine of $1 and costs.

Court Grants Mother's Plea.

Katherine McCarthy and Evelyn Mann have been in the House of the Good Shepherd before, the police said, and it was at the request of Mrs. Elizabeth McCarthy, who was in court broken hearted and sobbing at her daughter's disgrace, that Judge Crowe recommitted the girl.

Marie Dambreaux was released upon the condition that she would testify against Burkhart at his trial. She promised to go to her home and to lead a better life in the future.

Judge Crowe conferred with Inspector P. D. O'Brien after the adjournment of court in regard to the case, and the latter said:

"I will make a thorough investigation of this Burkhart case, and if we can prove he is harboring girls under age there—and I think we can in the case of Dorothy Caswell—we will ask that his license be revoked."

Hunter Accidentally Kills Himself.

Edward Rambow, a teamster, accidentally shot himself yesterday while hunting along the Desplaines river, two miles south of Summit, Ill. He died soon afterwards. He was 29 years old.

TRINITY CHURCH URGED TO SUBMIT

Rock River Conference Demands That Order to Turn Over Chapel Be Obeyed.

PLEA FOR YOUNG PASTORS

Dr. Little Says They Should Not Be Forced to Live on Small Wages for Years.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Supporters of Marie chapel in its battle with Trinity church scored several points in the Rock River conference today. The Marie chapel forces were victors in nearly every skirmish today in the renewal of the fight which has figured in nearly every meeting of the Chicago Methodist preachers for several years past.

Trinity scored one point in the ruling of Bishop Goodsell that the conference could not declare Trinity church in contempt of the general conference, but that this action must be left to the decision of the general conference itself. Some words of exoneration of evil intention also were spoken by the Rev. M. M. Parkhurst on behalf of O. H. Horton and H. N. Higinbotham, two prominent trustees of Trinity, who declared that neither of them were responsible for the beginning of the trouble. He, however, strongly suggested that he could not apologize for any present "stubbornness" on their part.

Bishop Goodsell also ruled that the conference could not mete out any punishment to any church, though it might request the bishop to do so. He further stated that the order of the general conference which Trinity is accused of violating was a "piece of imperfect legislation in that it does not attach a penalty for disobedience to its orders and does not state who is to execute them."

Holds Resolution Out of Order.

The Rev. Fred Stone of Dixon spoke the first word in Trinity's behalf after Dr. Villars had read the condemnatory resolutions. He said:

"These resolutions are out of order because this is a matter for the general conference to act on and because the contest over the title is now in the civil courts."

The Rev. L. F. W. Lesemann, the present pastor of Trinity, uttered the only other word in Trinity's behalf. He protested against the ruling of the bishop and claimed that he had not had a fair chance to answer objections. Most of the leaders and the crowd were plainly on the side of Marie chapel. The Rev. W. H. Burns cited the fact that Marie had at one time been deprived of its pastor for alleged insubordination. "It is only an application of the same law," he said, "that would deprive Trinity of its pastor."

"If the Trinity is not a case of contempt of court," Dr. H. G. Jackson said, "it is as clear a case of rebellion as was the action of South Carolina when Fort Sumter was fired on—only South Carolina had the fairness to say that it was outside the union. The question of title to the property cuts no figure, or if Trinity is submissive to the general conference the question of title will be at once settled by Trinity handing it over to Marie chapel."

Shepard Now Marie Supporter.

The Rev. W. O. Shepard, who formerly has been a stanch defender of Trinity's claims, announced his entire sympathy with the movement to compel Trinity to submit to the action of the general conference.

The resolutions which urged upon Trinity church the duty of obeying the order to turn over Marie chapel to the members of that congregation reviewed the trouble from the beginning. The resolutions pointed out that the general conference, the supreme court of Methodism, in a session of 1908, ordered the property turned over; that the members of the Trinity congregation, in two meetings, refused to comply with this order; that Bishop Neely declared the case closed and that the refusal of the Trinity church to obey the orders of general conference and the renting by Trinity of the property to a Baptist congregation were direct insubordination. The resolutions continued:

"Therefore, be it resolved, That in the judgment of this conference the time has come when it must, in defense of the church and in justice to itself, make an unequivocal declaration of its loyalty to the general conference and to all duly constituted authority in Methodism, and to express in plain terms its disapproval of the conduct of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church in its defiant insubordination against the authority of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church."

"Singular Case," Says Bishop.

Bishop Goodsell said, concerning the long controverted case:

"This is the most singular and conspicuous case of insubordination that I have met in the fifty years of my ministry."

"Women and devils are getting all my preachers," was the expression attributed to the first bishop in the Methodist church by the Rev. C. J. Little, president of the Garrett Biblical institute, in an address this afternoon which stirred the enthusiasm of the conference more than any address so far delivered.

"Bishop Asbury, who made the exclamation," said Dr. Little, "was opposed to preachers getting married, and he spoke out against it."

Dr. Little spoke before the sustentation society which distributes funds in the rural districts. Men with fat salaries and comfortable berths who demand heroism in the minister were scathingly denounced.

"It is cruel," he said, "for such men to demand that after a student has earned his way through college and theological school by beating rugs and tending furnaces and other manual labor that he should be kept on starvation rates for ten years longer after he has entered upon active ministerial work."

Prepare for Future Meetings.

The entertainment of future conferences was provided for in an elaborately wrought out plan presented by the Rev. W. O. Shepard in behalf of the committee appointed by the last conference. A permanent board of nine members is to be appointed to be called the bureau of conference entertainment. A common fund is to be provided based on a percentage of salaries paid pastors. Immediate stress was taken from the bureau by the invitation of Dixon to entertain the next conference. The Rev. F. D. Stone presented the invitation, promising as an inducement free lodging and breakfast.

What was believed by several ministers to be a revolutionary action was taken in the adoption of a set of resolutions urging the district superintendents to secure a written confession in future cases of erring ministers. The resolution was presented by the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the Wheaton church.

Another set of resolutions adopted had to do with the publicity given certain features of the business of the conference. The Rev. Mr. Thompson also presented this set. The resolutions denounced the Chicago Record-Herald and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which these resolutions said "have defiantly ignored the conference's most respectful request that they treat the conference fairly and kindly and had made disrespectful reference to the bishop."

Seek to Clear Crawford.

Another echo of the Leek-Crawford-Lavender trouble was heard on the floor of the conference, when a third set of resolutions was presented. The Rev. Mr. Thompson also was the sponsor for these, which were suggested as a means of clearing Dr. Crawford's character. After an objection had been raised by the Rev. Mr. Tompkins of the McCabe Memorial church, Chicago, the resolutions were withdrawn in a dramatic situation.

It was reported tonight that Dr. Crawford would go before the conference in the morning in an effort to have his name completely cleared of all charges. This is unexpected, and if the pastor of the Woodlawn Park church decides to place the matter before the conference it is possible a flurry of excitement will follow.

GUSTAV LUDERS.

Presented in Chicago at the Garrick Theater, Oct. 3, 1909, by Miss Louise Gunning and her company, with the characters cast thus:.

Baron von Berghof	Jess Dandy
Lieut. Karl von Berghof	Henry Coote
Dumm, cellar master	Evan Baldwin
Herr Schwindel, burgomaster	Burt Merket
Klug, a lawyer	Harold T. Morey
"Bud" Wilson, from Kalamazoo	Charles King
Pierre, a Prussian painter	Robert O'Connor
Marcelle, a Parisian actress	Louise Gunning
Lucille, Marcelle's maid	Nellie King
Fraulein Elsa von Berghof	Norma Brown
Mitzi, her maid	Ray Miller
Mrs. Darlington	Florence Rother
Baroness von Berghof	Lottie Medley

BY HAMMOND.

Nothing of particular consequence occurs in "Marcelle" until about 10:45 o'clock, at which hour Miss Louise Gunning, arrayed in all the shimmering Sheban glories of the prima donna of comic opera, steps smilingly down the broad stairway of the Castle Berghof and begins to sing one of those highly colored soprano affairs classified by the musical critics, we believe, as arias. The name of it is "Far, Far Away," and during the occasionally audible moments it may be learned by those in the front rows that there is a tenor in the dim distance of whom the lady is enamored.

Having seen and heard the tenor earlier in the proceedings, no one is greatly concerned over the announcement that the prima donna loves only him, but there is much interest in the way she expresses her passion. No glossary of the terms appropriate in such occasions being at hand, one must leave the technical description of what happens to the musical cognoscenti. However, in the crude phrase of the layman it may be said that Miss Gunning's clear sweet voice soars aloft to high E, a point which she maintains, according to the management, with quite as much ease as if it were in her middle register. There are also trills and low notes and nearly everything else ever heard in a song, except words; and after a brilliant conclusion, in which the young gentlemen of the chorus participate, the audience cheers and applauds until she returns again and again to smile and sing some more.

Elsewhere "Marcelle" is a somewhat placid operetta of the ultra-romantic sort, mannerly and graceful enough save for the frequent intrusions of Mr. Dandy, the clown; full of solos, duets, trios, quartets, and choruses, with now and then a picturesque dance or an antique jest.

Of Mr. Dandy's appearance in these surroundings it is not easy to speak with the patience and forbearance that should govern reports of such entertainments. His disguise is slovenly, his manner is the same; he is laborious, uninventive, deliberate, and tiresome. One of his songs, called "Never No More," sung to an attractive accompaniment of hiccoughs, treats in nauseating detail of seasickness and other offensive matters which are not discreet subjects for comical discussion in an otherwise polite operetta. Many persons laugh at him, but many more do not. The theory of his presence is probably that those who do not care for the personal charm and the pretty singing of Miss Gunning will get their money's worth in his exhibitions of bad taste.

If B. L. T. will permit the extension of his "cannery" to other than rhetorical misdemeanors, we suggest that the canner first silence Mr. Dandy's soiled ditties, and then venture next door to put a permanent quietus on the vile song with which Mr. Ryley makes the other lyrics in "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge" sound like the melodies of Mother Goose.

Miss Gunning is not the only pleasant feature in "Marcelle," however. There is a well behaved and good looking chorus of young women who enter and exit, laughingly or otherwise, displaying a filmy wardrobe, not too recently cleansed, and who join in the refrains harmoniously and with agility. Some of the members of the cast are entertaining also. Two ingenuous young persons, Miss Norma Brown and Charles King, despite the inconsequential nature of their responsibilities, have a magnetic way with them which they exploit in several unique dances—though they are not gladdest when they sing. Once they indulge in a disconcerting kiss—just after the lyric admonition from one of the characters that "spasmodic osculation does not meet my approbation"; but there were no other evidences of conventional disapproval over the performance last evening. Miss Florence Rother impersonates spectacularly the perceptress of a seminary for girls and sings with effect a song which warns here charges not to forget their p. d. q.'s, for ignorance of etiquette the world will not excuse. Harold Morey, a memory of "The Wizard of Oz," gives a pleasantly legitimate impersonation of an old solicitor about whose presence the plot revolves; and there is vigorous dancing by a trio composed of Miss Nellie King, Robert O'Connor, and George Johnson.

After the fashion of many comic operas which happen in Germany, near the French frontier, the tenor is an amorous lieutenant, the prima donna is a Parisian actress, and the low comedian a German baron. The baron's estates are about to be seized through some trick in the law, unless he can produce an heir. A messenger is dispatched to provide this deficiency and he returns with the Parisian actress. Being of an adventurous disposition, and knowing that she will look well, she consents to disguise herself as a man. The ensuing complications should be familiar. She has to fight a duel and has many other comic opera adventures, from which the adoring tenor always rescues her. In the end it develops that he is really the heir to the estates, but he is so overjoyed at the discovery that she is not a man that he permits the baron to keep the castle and departs for Paris with his lady love. Henry Coote impersonates the tenor and sings a ballad entitled "Once in a While." Which is quite enough.

New Plays in New York.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Forbes Robertson, the English actor whose talent won wide appreciation both in this and his native country, was seen tonight at Maxine Elliot's theater in a stage adaptation of Jerome K. Jerome's story "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." Those who read the tale when it first appeared will remember it. It is not a story to be forgotten. Nor will tonight's audience soon forget it in its stage form.

Mr. Robertson in a short curtain speech referred to it as a symbolic play. Symbolic it is, but not a play in the common meaning of the term. Rather a sermon—a personal appeal—presented to varied stage characters based upon the text "Let your better self prevail." Of the dramatic action there is so little in the piece that it is a negligible quantity, but of force and strength there is much. Tonight's audience caught the spirit and manifested its approbation in so certain a manner that Mr. Robertson said he would cable to the author the news of the favorable reception.

A prologue discloses the scene for the entire play and introduces all the characters. It is a second or third rate London boarding house which harbors under its roof about as unpleasant a lot of entirely natural persons as one could hope to find.

It is a matter for congratulation that Miss Haidee Wright accompanies Mr. Robertson to repeat her exceptionally beautiful performance of the Painted Lady. It is her part to appear in the earlier scenes as a hard, unyielding, sharp tongued, and bedizened creature who, under the ministering influence of the Third Floor Back, eventually becomes aware of her deficiencies. No moment in the play is more affecting than that in which she finally appears without her rouge and ornaments, a little, plain, soberly garbed middle aged woman, a bit self-conscious in her new assumption of simplicity, but with a glow of unaccustomed gentleness and kindliness. Miss Wright's is a beautiful performance.

In "The Master Key," produced tonight at the Bijou theater, the millionaire mill owner resorted to the same venerable plan to ascertain whether there are any grounds for the complaints of his rebellious employés. He is an open minded plutocrat, quite willing to sympathize with the pee-pul, but anxious to learn if they really are as deserving as they seem and willing to go so far as to disguise himself as one of them to learn the extent of their woes and find out what they think of him, and ultimately finds his greatest happiness in the love of a girl from the class which he condescended to explore.

Cosmo Hamilton has combined in an interesting play the conflict between capital and labor, and the audience at the Bijou did not stint its applause. Orrin Johnson played the awakened millionaire with his usual effectiveness, and Frances Ring was the irresistible heroine.

PREPARE CHARGES; LEEK CASE SEQUEL

Friends of Former Woodlawn Park Pastor and Mrs. Lavender Assail Conference.

OUTLINE A NEW BATTLE.

Faction's Leaders to Call for Trial of Many Rockford M. E. Meeting Officials.

Members of the Lavender-Leek faction in the Woodlawn Park Methodist Episcopal church quarrel came home from Rockford, where the general conference has disposed of the fight between pastor, former pastor, and parishioner in belligerent mood. Preachers who were instrumental in securing the denouement of the case, which is now a matter of record, were criticised bitterly.

Pastor Leek, Mrs. Mary A. Lavender, and several of their friends, including Attorney George F. Ort, who represented Mrs. Lavender in Rockford, conferred yesterday and the immediate steps to be taken which will guard against the dying of the controversy are these:

New charges are to be preferred against the Rev. E. B. Crawford.

Prominent church officials are to be made the subject of attack.

Charges of maladministration and of conspiracy to thwart the end of justice are to be filed, they say, against H. V. Holt, district superintendent of the western Chicago district; William Macafee, district superintendent of the Chicago district; William F. McDowell, resident bishop of Chicago; the Rev. Mr. Crawford, and the Rev. William Tilroe, pastor of the McCabe Memorial church.

Plan Immediate Action.

These charges are to be brought within the next ten days and probably will be filed before the Rev. W. O. Shepard, former pastor of the Englewood, but who will be district superintendent of the north district of Chicago. The bills will be signed as witness by Attorney Ort and an appeal will be made at once for the appointment of a pastor to act in prosecuting the cases.

"New charges of lying are to be filed against the Rev. Mr. Crawford," said Attorney Ort during the day. "We have all the witnesses we need.

"Let me tell you some of the things done in Rockford for the purpose of perverting justice. The Rev. E. M. Thompkins was selected to act as the prosecutor in the Crawford case. On the day it was scheduled to come up the Rev. H. V. Holt took him to Rockford to preach a funeral sermon. Then Holt presented to Thompkins the letter Leek had written to Holt telling him that if the conference would accept Leek's certificate of membership in the conference without qualification that he would not ask for reinstatement until next year.

"This letter Holt, I believe, used to persuade Thompkins that this was Leek's agreement to a compromise. The result was that Thompkins was unwilling to go ahead with the prosecution."

Mrs. Lavender to Testify.

Mrs. Lavender, about whom has centered the quarrel, said during the day that she would act as a witness in the further charges to be filed against Crawford.

"This action of the conference is a direct slap at me," she said. "If the conference sets him up as so blameless that he doesn't need a hearing, then the inference is that all he said about me is true."

The Rev. Mr. Leek expressed indignation over the alleged use made of his letter in the conference.

"The letter I wrote to the conference through Mr. Holt was concerning myself alone," he said. "I could not go to the conference for various reasons, and I wanted them to know just how I felt with reference to the acceptance of my returned certificate of membership without qualifications."

MISS LUCY PAGE GASTON IS ILL.

President of Anti-Cigaret League Taken to Hospital Following Strenuous Campaign.

Miss Lucy Page Gaston, president of the Anti-Cigaret league, is at the Frances E. Willard hospital, and it will be a week or ten days before she will be able to resume her campaign. Her ailment is described as "muscular and nervous exhaustion." Some weeks ago she planned a strenuous campaign against cigarets, but three weeks ago she was compelled to give up active work. Gradually she became worse, and on Sept. 26 she was removed from her residence in Harvey to the hospital. She rested well last night.

Judge Addresses Church Club.

Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court addressed the members of the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church of Oak Park and their wives last night on his travels in southern Spain, Tangier, and Morocco. The talk was illustrated by 125 lantern slides.

2,000 PENITENTS RISE FOR "GIPSY"

Romany Preacher Stirs Hearts of Multitude at Second Revival Meeting.

HOT SHOT AT HYPOCRISY.

Deplores Decadence of Prayer Meeting and Old Fashioned Religious Methods.

"Gipsy" Smith, evangelist, last night at the Seventh regiment armory, went after the hypocrites who think themselves Christians. Before he finished a thundering denunciation of lackadaisical Christianity he had brought 2,000 penitents to their feet and almost three times as many more who indicated that they would like to enter into a penitential mood.

He linked the name of Chicago with Sodom and Gomorrah with the single qualification that a few good people in this city keep it from being as bad as the old time cities which fell under the wrath of the Lord. He denounced church members who play cards and go to theaters as promoters of infidelity. In wistful tones he lamented the decadence of the old time prayer meeting spirit and with tears in his voice besought mothers to teach their children to pray.

From beginning to end the second meeting of the month of revival under the auspices of the Laymen's Evangelical council of Chicago was a demonstration of old fashioned methods of religion. The magnetic gipsy took the ground that latter day science may improve worldly ways of living, but that religion is the same as it was when in childhood he dug his knees into mold in prayer on the outskirts of a gipsy encampment.

Assails "Sinners in Zion."

As soon as the preliminaries of the meeting, including singing by the volunteer choir of 1,500 voices, had been completed, "Gipsy" sailed into the church members who think salvation rests in their having their names on the church books.

"If you're not better because of your religion your religion is a sham and a fraud," he shouted, bending his frock coated torso across the rail of the pulpit and letting the message shiver from his fingers' ends.

"Jesus Christ is saying this to vacillating, up and down, easily tossed people in the churches who daren't say their souls are their own.

"You say I came to Chicago to preach to sinners? Well, I'm preaching to sinners. My dear old father said there are sinners in Zion as well as out of Zion, and the people of Zion often are keeping the outside sinners out of Zion.

"The mother who says she's a Christian and spends her time theatergoing and card playing with 5 cent pieces and dimes is doing more to damn her children into infidelity than another kind of mother outside the church. [Applause.] I don't want your hands in this, but your consciences.

Compares Chicago to Sodom.

"Lots of people are hanging on to the fringe of the church, but I know that the salt of the earth is in the churches. If there were not some good people in the churches, Chicago would become as Sodom and Gomorrah.

"The world calls for consistency. It knows the fraud, the sham, and the hypocrite. If the world doesn't know it, some of us do, and some of us are going to expose the thing that calls itself by the name of Jesus Christ and that is a walking fraud.

"Did you begin the day with prayer? Did you thank God for the food this morning at the breakfast table? We used to do these things."

"Gipsy's" voice was wistful as he dwelt on the past tense.

"When were you on your knees last?" he demanded, picking up a tone of challenge that rang to the galleries. "The lost art of the church of Jesus Christ in this twentieth century is the prayer meeting. I've been coming to this country for the last twenty years and it used to be an easy matter to get two-thirds of the congregations into prayer meetings.

"Can you get them now? Answer me."

"No," responded churchgoers sitting in the audience.

"But you can get them to an ice cream festival, to a semi-dramatic entertainment, to a minstrel performance," retorted the gifted gipsy. "You can crowd your lecture rooms on a stormy night for a semi-worldly performance. Isn't that true?"

"Yes," responded the churchgoers, "too true."

"And yet you call yourselves Christians and tolerate this?" demanded the preacher in a voice of sarcasm.

Makes Appeals to Mothers.

"One of the causes of irreverence in America is failure of mothers to teach their children to pray. Get on your knees, O mothers, and teach your children to pray. Brethren, we shall have to get back to the prayer meeting.

"Can you say: 'I hereby intelligently and definitely commit myself to Christ, to become a more sincere, consistent, and out and out Christian.' I ask all who can say this to stand on your feet with me and remain standing."

The first appeal failed to bring the response desired.

"Probably you didn't understand it," persisted the gipsy, speaking patiently, but with a tired note. "That's right," as men and women began to rise, "close your eyes, don't stare about, and remain standing.

"I'm still speaking to those who sit. Are you living as near to Christ as you ought? I'm not. O, Lord, make me a better Christian. Now, listen; there must be no reservation. Two thousand people are now standing on their feet to say: 'Lord, make me a better Christian.' When you say, 'I surrender,' take the next step and accept the Lord, all and in all."

ELIZABETH GAZZAM IS HIDING.

Young Woman Accused by Wife of Chicago Astrologer Leaves Home at Newburg.

Newburg, N. Y., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—It became known here tonight that Miss Antoinette Elizabeth Gazzam left her home on the top of the mountain behind Cornwall-on-the-Hudson early last evening after word had reached her of the arrival in New York of Mrs. Marshall Clark, the wife of the Chicago astrologer whose affections Mrs. Clark says Miss Gazzam stole. The wife has brought suit against Miss Gazzam for $150,000 damages. None knows where Miss Gazzam went.

William Vanamee, a lawyer, who has been retained by Miss Gazzam, admitted that every effort would be made to keep the young woman in hiding.

One report was that Miss Gazzam took a train to New York City and caught a train to Philadelphia.

BURIED BOY BEYOND ALL HOPE.

Father Certain Son Imprisoned by Well Cavein Has Been Smothered.

New York, Oct. 4.—All hope of rescuing John Coffen, the young farmer of Central Islip, L. I., who was buried alive yesterday sixty feet below the surface of the earth, by the collapse of a well in which he was working, had been abandoned late tonight by his father.

The progress of sinking a second shaft to the level at which the cave-in occurred has been so slow that it is now believed the prisoner must surely have been smothered by the sand or drowned by the mounting water in the well.

Diggers are still at work.

Judges to Hear Department Heads.

Judges Petit, Kersten, and Scanlan of the Circuit court were appointed a committee yesterday to consider petitions from heads of departments in Cook county for help for the coming year. The hearings, which will be public, will begin on Nov. 3.

Parsons Repeats Charges; Says He'll Fight On at Any Cost.

KNEW HE'D GET "IN BAD."

"Swatted" by Speaker Because He Was Roosevelt Man, Friends Aver.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Herbert L. Parsons, chairman of the Republican county committee, repeated today his charges that there had been a dicker between upstate Republican leaders and Tammany whereby an agreement was reached for killing laws introduced at Albany last year to prevent election frauds if Tammany representatives in congress would come to the aid of Speaker Cannon and help him defeat the insurgents who wanted to throw down the Cannon rules.

Parsons said that while he had full knowledge of all the men concerned in the deal, both in Albany and in Washington, he was not yet prepared to give out their names. He said he knew that in making the charges he was putting himself "in bad" with the state Republican machine and also laying up trouble for himself in Washington. He added that now he had started the fight for purer elections in this city he would carry it through to the end, no matter what the cost of it to himself politically.

Parsons said the only way to defeat Tammany frauds in this city was to have enacted such bills as were presented at Albany last session for the betterment of the voting system, and that if necessary in order for those bills eventually to be passed by the legislature he would make the matter a state issue.

May Go to Convention.

"We will have a state convention next year," said Parsons, "and if the legislature at Albany does not pass the bills which it laid on the shelf at the last session I intend to fight it out in the convention. Senator Raines, I notice, has stated that I am young in the political business. That is true, but the fact that I am younger in politics than he shows that I expect to be in the political business longer than he does. I am going to keep at the task that I have set for myself of obtaining such legislation as will prevent frauds in this city, until I have achieved my aim."

Speaker Cannon, in commenting on the charges made by Parsons, has stated that the reason for the outbreak made by Parsons was that he was disgruntled over the fact that he was not appointed at the beginning of the year to a place on the interstate commerce committee in congress. Friends of Parsons said today that it was true Parsons had asked Cannon to give him a place on the committee and that he had been turned down. It was explained by these friends that the reason he did not get a seat on this committee was principally because of his action in insisting that opportunity be given to the house of representatives to discuss the first draft of the tariff bill and because he had supported a message sent to congress by President Roosevelt in the matter of the secret service dispute.

Say Parsons Was "Swatted."

"Parsons became known as a Roosevelt man," said one of these friends, "and he got swatted good and hard by Cannon, but although he and every one else in congress knew of this dicker, he never opened his mouth until now. I think he is sincere in letting the facts be known this time because of his wish to get such legislation passed at Albany next year as will prevent Tammany from playing its old time games in the future at the polls."

Parsons himself, in replying to the statement made by Speaker Cannon, said:

"The speaker always is complaining that so many men in public life are cowardly. He can hardly criticise me now if I try to follow his advice and show some courage. I stand emphatically by my original statement that there was a deal between some upstate Republicans and Tammany men to get support for Cannon and his rules. That assertion is true, and if necessary I can back it up."

Proposed Laws Involved.

The bills Parsons complains were not adopted were amendments to the existing election laws strengthening the signature, identification, and householders' acts which were passed at a previous session. One amendment required an additional column in the poll book, which was to be initialed by the inspector, showing that he had compared the record of registration day with that of election day. The purpose of this was to fix responsibility for the honesty of the inspectors.

Another amendment provided that registration signatures should be made in a book other than the one left in the polling booth. The signature book was to be placed in the keeping of the board of elections so it could not be defaced or the signatures changed or destroyed.

There were other amendments for the better identification of first voters, extending the signature law to primary elections, providing an official primary ballot, and strengthening the attorney general's powers with regard to the prosecution of offenders against these laws.

SEES SOUTH CHICAGO AS EDEN

Congressman Mann Lauds Garden Plan at Woman's Club.

CALLS THE CITY PRIDELESS.

Compares "Smoke and Ugliness" with "South's" Growing "Beauty."

Dirty, smoky, ugly, prideless Chicago!

Beautiful, attractive South Chicago—a veritable garden of Eden to be!

Congressman James R. Mann made this comparison last night in a plea for the resurrection of Chicago as a garden city in an address at the Bessemer park fieldhouse, South Chicago, when a score of prizes were awarded winners in the garden contest of the South End Woman's club.

The award of prizes ended an energetic campaign of the club for civic beauty.

"I have 100,000 plants for those who will take them," said Congressman Mann. "The club deserves much credit for the interest it has awakened, and now we should extend our campaign to Chicago. Restore its civic pride, make it the garden city as it once was."

UNITED BRETHREN END MEET.

Bishop Matthews Makes Appointments for Chicago District for Ensuing Year.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 4. — [Special.] — With the announcement of the appointments for the ensuing year, the Illinois United Brethern conference came to a close at Lexington, this county, tonight. Reports today showed an increase in membership of 1,000 during the last year, while the total receipts were $103,000.

Bishop Matthews of Chicago presided over the conference, and announced the appointments tonight as follows:

Chicago district—J. A. F. King, presiding elder; Argenta—I. W. Longenbaugh; Bradley—C. E. Snow; Chicago, W. M.—J. H. Dutton; Chicago Grace — A. E. Wright; Chicago, East Grove—M. T. Elliot.

BOWERS MAY BE FLEEING GIRL.

Friends of Missing Armour Employe Think Quarrel, Not Murder, Is Cause of Absence.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—There is now conclusive proof at hand that George W. Bowers, missing sales manager of the Omaha branch of the Armour Packing company, voluntarily disappeared, but nobody seems to know his reasons, as his books and accounts are said to be in perfect condition.

The murder theory in connection with the disappearance has been abandoned. Today it developed that instead of having been lost in St. Paul, he passed through that city and claimed baggage, suitcase, and gun bag at Duluth on the morning of Sept. 6, two days after leaving Omaha.

Intimate friends of Bowers cling to the first story that came out, that he and Miss Daisy Rogers, the young woman whom he was to have married Nov. 14, had a disagreement and that the engagement is broken. They say this has temporarily driven Bowers away.

entertained to Chicago during a conversation with one of the proprietors of a lake front hotel.

"The smoke is a costly proposition for us," he observed. "It compels constant washing of lace curtains and other draperies, frequent cleaning of carpets, and portieres; it spoils food and necessitates continuous scrubbing of the outside front and repapering and painting of rooms and halls. This means not only the great expense of wear and tear, but the employment of additional help. In addition the dirt and the noise reduce the number of our guests. Our smoke bill is easily $50,000 per annum."

Housekeepers all along the line of the Illinois Central suffer in precisely the same way, but not to the same extent, of course. To a lesser degree the burden is imposed upon other housekeepers of the city. H. H. Evans has estimated, in showing the way in which personal expenses are increased by smoke, that $624,000 annually is spent for washing the extra collars alone which the nuisance compels 200,000 men in the city to use. This is enough to pay interest, sinking fund, and taxes upon the investment required to electrify two entire railroad terminals. If the other linen worn by men and the lingerie and gowns of women be considered, the entire cost of electrification would be defrayed. There is hardly a shop in the city which does not pay toll to smoke. Dry goods houses, men's furnishing stores, tailors' establishments, jewelers, indeed, every variety of market place is held in the grimy grip of the black monster.

Deaths in Smoke's Wake.

From the view of the pocketbook, therefore, electrification is advisable. From the standpoint of health, it is imperative. Reports of the department of commerce and labor assert that the mortality from pneumonia is 50 per cent higher in the dirtier aired cities than in the country. Dr. Archer demonstrated that if two animals were infected with tuberculosis and one was given good air and another smoky air, the animal breathing smoky air would die more quickly than the other. If two animals were taken; one was allowed to breathe good air and the second air containing a small quantity of smoke—if, now, both animals breathed aspergillus spores, the one which had inhaled smoke would get pneumonia, the other would not. It even has been suggested that the increased death rate of the winter months over those of the summer is due to the better ventilation and greater air dilution of the warm season.

I have recited these facts as presented in the report because they bring directly home conditions that I have seen. They constitute a terrific indictment. What are the people going to do about it?

It is estimated that the railroads consume 18 per cent of the coal used in Chicago, and that by reason of the necessarily peculiar character of locomotive construction between 35 and 40 per cent of the smoke floating over the city rises from the stacks of the engines.

Electric Roads Are Everywhere.

Here we have one of the chief offenders.

Now, let us see whether there is any insurmountable difficulty in the way of electrification.

I have traveled on electric roads in England, France, Germany, and other countries in Europe. I have found them in Japan. They are profitable in Africa, in South America, and in the near east of Europe. Steam roads have been electrified in all sections of the world, including the United States, and they pay.

Does this show that electrification is "impossible"?

The experience of every foreign railroad is that net economies are effected by the substitution of electricity for steam. In Germany, for example, it is conceded that in the early future the time honored locomotive will disappear and the motor will replace it. One prominent German engineer estimates that by electrification of the Prussian railway system a saving in the charges for maintenance and exploitation amounting to $11,750,000 would be effected. This is interest at 5 per cent on a capitalization of $220,000,000. "It is therefore clearly evident," concludes this expert, "that the time has come when the change from steam to electricity as motive power on a large railway system in a fairly thickly populated European country can be attempted with the assurance that the resultant economies will reimburse the additional capital outlay."

What does the report on the electrification of railway terminals say?

Why Plan Is Feasible.

Electrification of the Illinois Central terminal, for example, is feasible because:

The needed funds are available.

Such operation will save the road enough on cost of operation to pay the fixed charges on the added investment and also a safe charge for depreciation.

There will be greater track and train efficiency.

There will be increased use of overhead space.

The physical limitations now crippling the road will be removed.

Their physical track and yard problem is exceptionally simple.

All phases of traction equipment have been demonstrated to a degree hitherto unheard of in the history of traction.

What has been the experience of the electric roads?

Profitable operation with constant increase of business, frequently at the expense of the steam roads.

There, you people of Chicago and you officials of the railroads. Health and comfort and profit are the sure followers of electrification. If the railroads do not realize these advantages and fail immediately to substitute the new system, then a united city should compel them to act in their own as well as the public interest.

But in the latter case the railroads will stop outside of the city.

Bosh!

Did the railroads come to the city for the profit of Chicago?

Are the railroads staying in Chicago merely from a patriotic, unselfish desire to enable it to flourish?

Or are they here because there is money in the connection?

Watch the lobby, watch the council, and compel electrification. It will do more at this moment to make Chicago livable than anything I can think of.

INDICTMENTS HURT RICH MEN

Vanderbilt and Others Involved in Anti-Gambling Cases.

"ORAL BETTING" IS CAUSE.

Hughes Swings Hard on Attempt to Dodge Hart-Agnew Law.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The indictments by the grand jury of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Jockey clubs for violation of the anti-betting laws of the state, which became public today, involve a number of the most prominent supporters of racing in the United States. W. K. Vanderbilt owns a controlling interest in the Coney Island Jockey club, of which Schuyler L. Parsons is president; George Peabody Wetmore and Mr. Vanderbilt are vice presidents, F. R. Hitchcock, treasurer, V. E. Schaumberg, secretary, and Thomas H. Smith, racing secretary.

The board of governors includes J. Harry Alexander, F. Gray Griswold, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., E. D. Morgan, Herbert C. Pell, F. K. Sturgis and J. W. Wadsworth. The president of the Brooklyn Jockey club, which operates the Gravesend track, is Philip J Dwyer. F. Rehberger is secretary.

It was the increase of "oral betting," conducted by the so-called "memory brokers," that resulted in this latest evidence of Gov. Hughes' continued activity and the indictments. For some time it was known that Gov. Hughes was dissatisfied with the apparent increase in oral betting.

There was much gloomy speculation among local followers of racing tonight as to the probable effect of the new crusade against gambling.

So-Called Military-Naval Dance Reveals Ease with Which New Yorkers Fall.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE,
New York, Oct. 4.

Gothamites Easy Victim of "Ball" Graft.

New York still is staggering today from the effects of the military-naval ball which was held in the Metropolitan opera house last Friday night in accordance with invitations issued by the Albany burgesses corps. It is not loss of sleep resultant from this occasion which is bothering the brains of Manhattanites. In this instance New York fell for about the rawest thing outside of Chuck Connors' dominion.

The invitation cards contained the names of New York's notables. One of the recipients said he presented his admission card at the door. An attendant told him the card would have to be exchanged for a hat check. He walked over to the window where this could be done. He was curtly informed his hat check would cost him $3. Some of the officers came across with the $3 and others left little doubt in the attendant's mind as to what they thought of such ararngements.

Gifts of $465,000 Made to Yale.

At a meeting of the Yale corporation today a gift of $425,000 from William D. and Henry T. Sloan of New York for the erection and equipment of a university physics laboratory was announced. Announcement also was made of the gift of $25,000 from Alfred G. Vanderbilt toward the general endowment. A subscription of $15,000 was received from George Hewitt Myers.

Charles M. Pratt, general secretary of the Standard Oil company and president of the Pratt institute of Brooklyn, announced today that he and his sister, Mrs. E. B. Dane, would soon give to the school an endowment fund of $1,700,000.

AMAZED AT CHICAGO'S SIN.

President of Trinity College Says Kind Words for Wall Street, However.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 4.—Wall street, said President Kilgo of Trinity college tonight in a "benefactor's day" address, is a place of great traffic and strife, but its gift of $60,000,000 to schools and libraries shows that more of the money comes from rich men than any other source.

He declared that the country has more to fear from the selfishness of the poor than the selfishness of rich men.

In exhorting Trinity to live up to high ideals, President Kilgo declared that he recently walked through the streets of Chicago and was amazed that such social sin and political graft could exist in the shadow of the University of Chicago. Donations of $84,000 to Trinity were announced.

TAFT ASKS PEOPLE TO FORCE REFORM

President Says Public Must Elect Men to Fill Roosevelt Policies.

LONG TRIP RESTS HIM.

California Warned of Perils Which Are Sure to Follow Wave of Prosperity.

PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM TODAY.

Leaves Sacramento, Cal.	4:20 a. m.
Arrives Oakland, Cal.	7:18 a. m.
Arrives San Francisco	12:30 p. m.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—President Taft, in his addresses today, reiterated his declaration that he would carry out the Roosevelt policies in the conservation of natural resources. He declared anew, however, that before many of the policies can be carried into effect confirmatory and enabling legislation must be secured, and he pledged himself to use all his power to induce congress to pass the laws necessary.

The president arrived here after making one of the longest jumps of his 13,000 mile trip. The twenty-five hours between Portland and Sacramento, however, proved to be a period of real rest and enjoyment for the president. The only stops made on the way were at division points—stops necessary to the operation of the train. There were crowds at each of these places and the president appeared on the rear platform of his car to shake hands or to make a few informal remarks.

At Dunsmuir, near the foot of Mount Shasta, one of the most magnificent snowclad peaks in all the world, the president declared that a night of solid sleep and the bracing air of northern California had entirely "knocked out" the cold he contracted in Seattle.

After passing tomorrow in San Francisco, President Taft heads for the Yosemite valley. Mr. Taft has been warned that the dust going in and coming out of the park this time of the year is fairly suffocating, and special khaki outfits will be procured by the president and his party for the three days' trip.

Welcomed by State Leaders.

President Taft was welcomed into California at Red Bluff by Gov. Gillett, Lieut. Gov. Porter, Senator Perkins, former Secretary of the Navy Victor Metcalf, M. H. De Young of San Francisco, and other members of a committee gathered from different sections of the state. Members of the committee from San Francisco represented both "graft" prosecution and "anti-graft" prosecution.

Speaking from the car end at Dunsmuir, Cal., President Taft said:

"I am on a tour of some 13,000 miles, and I am trying to gather information as we go with reference to the condition of the country, and at the same time to give you a superficial aspect of the man whom you have elected president. I think personal touch with the people and those whom you honor by delegating authority temporarily is a good thing all around, so that you may know when I make my mistakes and they are represented to you with a great deal of emphasis, that I am still a poor mortal, praying for assistance and hoping that you will forgive human error.

"Everywhere in this country I have found evidence of prosperity from Boston to Portland, and, if signs do not fail, we are upon an era of business enterprise and expansion that has never been seen in this country before.

Shows "Evils of Prosperity."

"Now I would not have you forget that here are certain responsibilities. We have had evils growing out of our prosperity. Men have seized power by means of accumulation of wealth and its use in methods that are not legal and cannot be approved by way of monopoly and otherwise. Now we are attempting by the general law of the United States to suppress that kind of abuse.

"They were brought to the attention of the people in a marvelous crusade by my predecessor, Theodore Roosevelt, and it is my duty to continue those policies and to enforce them as far as I may, and put upon the statute books or at least recommend to congress that there be put upon the statute books, those laws that shall clinch the progress which was made under him, which he preached, and which we all look forward to as a permanent condition.

"It is to the people that we must look for an enforcement of these principles. You should select your representatives and have them know you are watching them in congress and see that they follow the line of enforcement.

"Of course, we want prosperity, but we wish prosperity in such a way that there shall be an equality of opportunity among the individuals so that everybody will get his share and that it shall not be confined to a few who monopolize the means of production or the means of transportation and thus prevent that equality of distribution which we all like to see.

Thinks Trusts Learned Lesson.

"It is a question of the enforcement of the law. I think Mr. Roosevelt's course impressed upon the business community and those gentlemen who were prone to take the means of monopoly, the necessity for observing a higher standard in business, and that they were willing to lay down those other methods.

"Now, my fellow citizens, I feel sure that you are not only healthy in body but healthy in mind; that you are in favor of the good things; that you are in favor of decent government; that you are in favor of decent men and decent women, and that you look forward to the future as a time when we shall all grow better. The truth is that money and wealth contribute nothing unless they enable us to make ourselves better, unless they enable us to think something of others and to help others—those who are down—onward on the progress of life.

"We cannot all be altruists in the sense that we can devote our attention to somebody else all the time, for we have to look after ourselves and our families; but I am sure that in the last generation there has been an improvement throughout our country with reference to a charitable feeling toward all on the part of each and a desire on the part of each to help all."

note worthy of the motto and certain destiny of this great city, and I congratulate you upon detecting and presenting so forcibly the one supreme weakness in the present season of unrest.

If the Association of Commerce, the Commercial club, the Municipal Voters' league, the Citizens' association, the City club, the School of Civics and Philanthropy, etc., etc., ad infinitum, could so associate themselves that their activities would exactly dovetail and so that their tremendous energies and influence might be focused upon the big thing which they are all seeking to accomplish, the great end of all their efforts would not be far off. These various organizations ought to continue to maintain their own individuality, but it would be possible for them to so cooperate with one another that all the benefits of union would be secured without any of the disadvantages of what might otherwise be a large, unwieldy organization.

I hope your editorial, which so well deserves republication this morning, will start the movement in the right direction.

SAMUEL A. HARPER.

Would Arouse a Wooden Indian.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Even if I am only one in a million to do so, I want to thank you most cordially for your splendid editorial, republished by request in yesterday's paper, in relation to civic duties. A great newspaper like THE TRIBUNE wields a mighty influence when it takes up the cause of public needs and public obligations; it has a tremendous backing in the great cause of righteousness and the multitude of civic associations which are striving for the betterment of city conditions. Indifference and inaction must pay the penalty of neglect as well as criminal intent, and your stirring words ought to rouse a wooden Indian into some sort of decent effort in behalf of a long suffering public. The array of facts is sickening. It is high time for some mighty influence to spring into the breach and spur the people into active, vigorous, and effective campaigning. May the good work go on. Again thanking you for this and many other splendid things, I remain, READER.

GERMAN ALLIANCE REFUSES TO CONDEMN GEN. FRED GRANT

Meeting at Cincinnati Votes Down Resolution Aimed at Army Officer for His Part in Temperance Parade.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 4.—The National German-American alliance today voted down a resolution condemning Gen. Frederick D. Grant for marching in his uniform at the head of a temperance parade in Chicago.

Prevailing arguments were that Gen. Grant marched in his personal capacity only, and that "he is not a fanatic, as he advocates the usefulness of the canteen for the army."

The alliance received the report of the executive committee of the Baltimore Reform league, but beyond permitting it to be filed took no action. The report, which was presented by John T. Jarks of Baltimore, is in the nature of a protest against the so-called negro disfranchisement constitutional amendment now pending in Maryland.

School Resolution Defeated.

A resolution asking the government not to pass legislation curtailing well meaning immigration was adopted. It was held the government should better distribute immigrants over the country.

A resolution calling on the alliance to contribute to the support of German private schools was defeated.

The peace committee, in setting forth the principles of the alliance with reference to the universal peace movement of the world, declares in favor of a federation of all nations, based on a mutual guaranty of their independence and possessions and against attacks of the members and favors uniform legislation tending to the welfare of the working classes and improvement of social, commercial and industrial conditions in general.

Officers Are Re-elected.

The following officers were reëlected:

President—Dr. C. J. Hexamer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Vice presidents—Joseph Keller, Indianapolis; John Tiarks, Baltimore; Col. E. C. Stahl, Trenton, N. J., and John D. Cappelman, Charleston, S. C.

Treasurer—H. Weniger, Philadelphia.

Recording secretary—Adolph Timm.

Financial secretary—Herman Weder, Philadelphia.

With the selection of Milwaukee as the next place of meeting, the members devoted the afternoon largely to social purposes.

GLORIFIED RULER LIKETH UNCLE SAM

Bismillah to Taft and Knox Borne by Emissaries of Chief Believer.

SIDS BRING THE SCROLL.

Flower of Morocco in Most Honorable Rhetoric Deliver Sultan's Felicity.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—There was exalted rhetorical and extraordinarily courteous ceremony at the state department today when the flower of Morocco unbent themselves in bewildering salaam and adjectivical superlativeness before the assistant secretaries assembled.

Came Sid Laarby Zengali, first secretary, and Sid Mohamed Ben Abeslan Ben Jelul, another big chief in Moroccan land, and clad they were in all the picturesque splendor of their kind. Turbans sat atop their heads and flowing white robes swept around their august figures.

Even so was their object to deliver a greeting of good cheer from the high and mighty of their country to the exceeding great of this most salubrious of nations, whom it has pleased the chief believer to think much of, Allah be praised.

Saw New York's Glorifications.

Sid Laarby and Sid M. Ben A. Ben J. represented their most beatified ruler at the Hudson-Fulton illustriousness, and when the glorifications were over at New York ran down to Washington to bear in person to the president and the secretary of state the scrolls penned at the instance of the sultanic will.

Mr. Taft and Mr. Knox were not in, unfortunately, which exceeding painful and regretful it was, but Assistant Secretary Adee on behalf of the president and secretary of state welcomed the visitors and expressed the appreciation of the kindly expressions of the sultan.

Each of the letters presented was wrapped in a figured silk scarf, beautifully embroidered. The letter to the president was not made public, but that to the secretary of state was as follows:

"Praise to the only God. There is no strength or power but in God, the great, the almighty.

"To the dear, the wise, the statesman, the minister for foreign affairs [secretary of state] of the great American nation, the Honorable Philander Chase Knox.

All This in One Sentence.

"We beg to inform your excellency that our master, the prince of believers, the sultan of Morocco, upon the invitation of the illustrious and honorable president of your great nation, regarding who will be officially sent to represent this holy empire on the occasion of the two great celebrations which will be held in the city of New York; one being the three hundredth anniversary of the discovery by Hendrik Hudson of the river of his name, the celebration to take place on both its banks; and the other being the one hundredth anniversary of the first successful application of steam to the navigation of the said river by Robert Fulton; has sent in answer to the said kind and courteous invitation to participate in the said celebrations, jointly with the members of your great nation and people, the servant of his shereefian majesty, exalted by God, the fekieh, the scribe, the wise, Sid Laarby, son of the famous fekieh, the late Sid Mohamed Sanhagi, who was one of the viziers of our master, the great master, the great king, the late Sultan Muley Hassan, may God have mercy upon his soul, being accompanied by the servant of his majesty, the Amin, the wise, the well known for his trustfulness and commercial reliability, Sid Mohamed Ben Abdeslan Ben Jelul.

Bearers of a Holy Scroll.

"They are bearers of a holy letter from his shereefian majesty to be presented to the president of your great nation. The said letter is adorned with expressions of friendly congratulations on the occasion of the said invitation, which is felt to be most agreeable to both of our countries and contains assurances of these reiterated congratulations of the government of our victorious and great master the sultan.

"We trust that the friendly relations will develop and increase to the satisfaction of both of our countries.

"In peace, Shaaban. 20th. 1327. Sept. 8, 1909.

"AISSA BEN OMAR."

DENIED PALACE FOR $5,000,000

J. P. Morgan's Highest Artistic Yearning Made Vain by Italy.

SOUGHT THE FAMOUS REGGIA

Sale of Ancient Royal Residence Would Have Broken Law.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

VENICE, Oct. 4.—J. Pierpont Morgan's highest artistic yearning was to buy the Reggia, at Mantua, formerly known as the Corte Reale, one of the most famous royal residences in all Europe.

Morgan offered $5,000,000 for this magnificent and ancient structure, it is reported here; a fabulous fortune in this country. But the government holds Reggia as one of the kingdom's monuments and relics, so it was impossible to accept the American's reputed offer.

Sale Would Have Broken Law.

Of course this huge work of art could not be taken out of the country, but its sale would have violated, in a sense, the law which forbids the sale of antiques to foreigners.

Reggia, which dates from 1302, contains 600 rooms and has an extensive frontage on the lower lake at Mantua. It has filled a large space in Italian history. During the epoch of Gonzagas it was the center of culture, art, and sciences. There the most renowned artists, scholars and scientists found hospitality and financial aid if they needed it.

Daughter Urged Him to Buy It.

Miss Morgan, the financier's daughter, who has toured Italy often, studying all periods of schools of Italian art, strongly urged her father, it is said here, to buy Reggia. She paid a long visit to Mantua and was greatly impressed with the palace where Isabella d'Este, the most gifted woman of the Italian renaissance, held her famous court.

The original splendor of the palace is best preserved in the apartments of Isabella d'Este, which were decorated by Giulio Romano, Raphael's greatest pupil.

SITE OF SHAKSPEARE THEATER CAUSES DISPUTE IN LONDON.

Evidence as to Traditional Location of Globe Playhouse Being Prepared with an Intense Ardor.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A burning controversy is raging among those interested in the matter, who are more numerous than might be supposed, concerning the site of Shakspeare's Globe theater. Evidence in favor of the traditional site and the site claimed by Prof. Wallace is being marshaled and defended with an ardor worthy of the north pole wrangle.

Dr. William Martin, designer of the Shakspeare tablet at Barclay's brewery, which up to a few days ago was supposed to have been the site of the Globe theater, who naturally heads the anti-Wallaceites, refuses to accept the professor's documents as proof, not because he distrusts Wallace, but because he thinks all previous research goes to show quite obviously that the Elizabethan clerk who transcribed documents carelessly mixed up "north" and "south," and if these words were transposed everything would be clear.

On the other hand, Prof. Wallace is supported by many of the most noted Shakspearean scholars, including F. J. Jurnevall, editor of the Oxford dictionary and honorary secretary of the Philological society.

Doctors Say Suffragettes Bear Up Well Under Ordeal of Tube Feeding.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The nutrition of the suicidally disposed suffragettes now languishing in Birmingham jail still possesses irresistible fascination for Keir Hardie, who again tonight held up business in the house of commons in order to assure himself that "the teeth, throat, and other parts of the bodies" of the women had suffered no injury through their voluntary desistance from mastication.

Mr. Masterman, parliamentary secretary of the home office, amiably quoted the reassuring declaration of the prison doctors that all parts of the women's bodies remained uninjured and were not likely to be injured.

Women Thrive on Tubes.

On the contrary, according to the doctors' report, their general health is continually improving. Only one of the women prisoners adheres to a preference for feeding by tube, though some of the others are being fed with teaspoons or feeding cups.

Mr. Masterman declared he had heard nothing of the reports which Mr. Hardie said had been issued by eminent medical authorities to the effect that feeding by tube always was injurious and often fatal. Mr. Hardie, the secretary said, had promised to enlighten the government by sending him copies of the reports. He (Hardie) presumably referred to letters in the newspapers, written sometimes anonymously by pro-suffragette medical men as counterblasts to statements by their unregenerate colleagues who similarly ridicule the fuss which the sentimentalists are making over the affair.

Gladstone Yields to Requests.

Mr. Gladstone, secretary for home affairs, has yielded to repeated requests that the three Birmingham prisoners be allowed to confer with their solicitors.

Their apparent object is to see their attorneys with a view to prosecuting the home secretary and the prison officials.

H. W. Nevinson and H. N. Brailsford have resigned their positions as leader writers for the Daily News as a protest against the government's treatment of suffragette prisoners.

VERDICT ON WALSH AWAITS THE COURT

Counsel for Ex-Banker Make Eleventh Hour Appeal to Reopen Case.

BACKERS WANT ACTION.

Meetings of Interested Persons Are Held and Adjourned to Tomorrow.

In the face of the impending decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the criminal case against him, John R. Walsh late yesterday made an eleventh hour sortie in his own defense.

Walsh's new move was made through Attorney John S. Miller of his counsel. Simultaneously with the sending out of notices that the judges would read their decision at 10 o'clock this morning, Mr. Miller appeared at the clerk's office and filed citations from recently decided cases which he contends are ample basis upon which to set aside the verdict of the lower court consigning the former banker to the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for a term of five years.

Mr. Miller contends that the citations show that the Walsh verdict was inconsistent with the counts of the indictment upon which Walsh was found guilty of misapplying the funds of the Chicago National bank and making false entries in his report to the controller of the currency.

The decisions had not come to the attention of the attorneys for Walsh before, Mr. Miller said. It is his hope that the court will take cognizance of the citations long enough to consider the new element in Walsh's plea.

Couldn't Present Document Sooner.

"Do you expect the judges of the Court of Appeals to give consideration to this additional argument now before they give judgment?" Mr. Miller was asked.

"We hope so," he replied. "We have the right to enlighten the court further on questions involved after argument of the appeal and before a decision is handed down. Of course, the court announces that it will hand down the decision in the Walsh case tomorrow and the document we filed today comes pretty late, but we could not present it sooner."

"In all likelihood the document filed by Mr. Miller presenting additional citations on legal questions will be read by us before the decision is handed down tomorrow," said Judge Peter S. Grosscup last evening. "Whether it will be given extended consideration I cannot say. We expect to give our decision tomorrow and I know of no reason for any delay."

Judges Francis Baker and J. Otis Humphrey will sit with Judge Grosscup.

Despite the hopes of Walsh's attorneys, opinion in the federal building was that the announcement of the judges had settled the matter. The lawyers who received notices that the decision will be read this morning included Edwin W. Sims, United States district attorney, and assistants, and counsel for Walsh. If the court seriously considers the new citations the decision may be delayed hours, days, or weeks.

Complicated by New Developments.

Possible explanation for the action of Mr. Miller, according to legal gossip, was based on a theory that the affairs in connection with Walsh's failure to pay the quarterly interest of $71,121 on Walsh's note to the Chicago Clearing House association and associated banks are so delicate that the rendering of the decision might have damaging effect. Several meetings between Walsh's guarantors on the note, representatives of the banks, Walsh, and lawyers took place during the day. One meeting was said to have been out of town, but Lessing Rosenthal, counsel for John M. Smyth and Maurice Rosenfeld, two of Walsh's guarantors, said no settlement had been effected.

E. K. Boisot, first vice president of the First Trust and Savings bank, a prominent figure in negotiations, aroused speculation by going out of town. James B. Forgan, president of the same bank, denied a report that Mr. Boisot's trip had something to do with the Walsh matter. E. C. Ritscher of counsel for Walsh left town, presumably for Indianapolis. Mr. Ritscher's trip, which followed the meetings in Chicago, revived rumors of possible negotiations for the sale of the Southern Indiana railroad in which Walsh has retained the office of president.

Proposition Up to Walsh.

Well informed persons who observed the meetings during the day believed that Mr. Walsh was confronted with a proposal to give up everything he has to the banks upon the condition that every possible effort be made to let his guarantors out of the deal without loss. The proposals were said to involve the payment of the defaulted interest and the purchase by the banks of the securities put up by the guarantors. It was said that the banks were willing to pay a fair price for the securities and thus avoid sacrificing them at a forced sale based on foreclosure.

Walsh, according to the same information, said he wanted time to think over the proposition. Decision one way or the other was predicted within a few days. It was Walsh's reported indecision which caused the belief that the parties to the negotiations feared possible adverse results from the decision by the United States District Court of Appeals.

In discussing the financial conferences, Attorney Rosenthal said:

"A number of meetings have been held and the proposed arrangement discussed. No definite plan has been decided upon. I am not at liberty to say just what proposals have been made or will be made. Nothing can be accomplished now before Wednesday. Another meeting will be held then."

THOUSANDS TRY FOR FARMS; DAKOTAS MECCA OF NATION.

Rush of Registration for Land in Standing Rock and Cheyenne River Reservations Is Begun.

Aberdeen, S. D., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Registration for 10,000 farms in Standing Rock and Cheyenne River Indian reservations began in Aberdeen last night at midnight. Up to 12 o'clock tonight over 5,000 landseekers had registered. All incoming trains bring large crowds from all parts of the nation.

The registration closes on Oct. 23. It is estimated that by that time more than 200,000 persons will have registered here alone and more than 300,000 at all registration points. The drawing takes place on Oct. 26. The lottery plan will be used, the drawing being under the auspices of James W. Witten, representing the general land office.

Mrs. Josephine Reed of Wabasha, Minn., was the first to register in Aberdeen.

A sharp struggle for first registration at Lemmon, S. D., took place between E. S. Garvey of Lemmon and Charles Brown of Chicago, Mr. Garvey winning out by a second, having his change on the counter first.

There were hundreds of applicants waiting for the hour set for the opening at Bismarck, N. D. Three booths are located in the city, and a busy scene is presented at all.

At Le Beau, S. D., 200 persons camped in front of the registration building all night, to be among the first to take advantage of the opening. In the struggle to be first to register George McGinnety of Gary, Ind., and William Bennett of Le Beau tied for first honor.

Over 300 registered at Mobridge. Crowds returning from the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition took advantage of the thirty minutes' stop there to register. The time was not sufficient for all, and many were compelled to lay over until tomorrow.

"Eastern Stars" Meet Today.

Eight hundred delegates of the grand chapter of the Order of Eastern Stars will open their annual convention this morning at Medinah temple. The grand officers held a reception for the delegates last evening in the Palmer house. Elections come tomorrow and the sessions will close on Thursday. Mrs. Effie McKindley is the grand matron.

SOUTH BEND FETE ELABORATE

Navarre, "First Citizen," Would Marvel at Transformation.

CITY OBSERVES HOME COMING

Two Thousand Former Residents to Join in Celebration.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—If the spirit of old Peter Navarre, "first citizen" of South Bend could have walked through the streets of the Indiana city today he would have marveled at the industry and zeal of his descendants, and in place of the wilderness he traversed the pioneer would have seen a prosperous manufacturing city. In place of hunters' paths blazed through giant trees he would have seen stretches of paved thoroughfares, festooned with flags and bunting for the first "home coming" week in South Bend's history.

"Home coming week," the occasion that is expected to bring back 2,000 former residents of South Bend and St. Joseph county, began yesterday. Preparations for the celebration, which may become a yearly institution, were begun several months ago by the South Bend chamber of commerce.

Four Thousand Invited to Attend.

More than 4,000 letters to former residents of the county, whose names and present addresses are carefully preserved in the archives of the South Bend Historical society, were sent out urging them to return for "home coming week." The invitations went to nearly every state in the union. Replies that were received many weeks ago betokened the fact that home coming week and the reunion of South Bend folk would be an unqualified success. Then the real work of preparation began. Merchants and city officials united to make the week memorable in the history of South Bend.

Mayor Elward J. Fogarty turned the city over to the chamber of commerce for the week. The work that was done thereafter by the committee, headed by F. A. Miller, president of the chamber of commerce, brought amazement and delight to the first of the home comers who arrived yesterday.

South Bend was transformed into a carnival city tonight. Flags and streamers in the colors of the chamber of commerce, yellow and white, fluttered from the windows of its residences and business blocks. Michigan street for four blocks, between Colfax avenue and Division streets, is transformed into a court of honor.

Whistles Proclaim Fete.

Home coming week was inaugurated at noon. On the stroke of the hour the whistles of South Bend's great manufactories roared their greeting. Bells clanged, automobile horns added their hoarse notes, sirens wailed and everything with noise-making power was "turned loose" for the period of five minutes. Two hours later the formal dedication of home coming week was made.

In Leeper park, within sight of the log cabin of Peter Navarre, and in the bend of St. Joseph river, the dedication ceremonies took place. Two thousand persons attended the ceremonies. Judge Walter A. Funk of the St. Joseph Circuit court and assistant director general of the celebration, presided. President Miller of the chamber of commerce announced the purpose of the home coming, the plans for the celebration, and expressed the hope that it would be a success. Mayor Fogarty delivered an address of welcome.

Timothy E. Howard told of the growth of South Bend, its historical connections, prosperity and prospects. Frank E. Hering made a plea for a "greater South Bend." When the meeting was dismissed the crowd was given an opportunity to see the first of a series of exhibition runs by the central fire department, at Wayne and St. Joseph streets.

The feature of tomorrow's celebration will be a parade of members of the chamber of commerce, in the evening. Chicago will be represented.

DANES HOPE TO HOLD DR. COOK TO PROMISE ABOUT RECORDS.

Disappointed at Report He Will Ask Release—He Explains That He Will Submit Proofs to All at Once.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4.—There is much disappointment here at the reported intention of Dr. Cook to ask Copenhagen university to waive the promised first examination of his polar records. The popular view is that the university ought to insist that Dr. Cook fulfill his promise. No request of the kind has yet reached the university, where the professors will not say what course they will adopt if such a request is received.

Prof. Stromgren, the astronomer of the university, refuses to believe the report. He says Dr. Cook, before he left here, expressly warned him not to believe any telegrams to that effect that might emanate from America.

SAYS COPENHAGEN WILL BE FIRST

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 4.—Just before he left his hotel for the theater, where he delivered a lecture tonight, Dr. Cook was shown the dispatch from Copenhagen relative to his reported intention to request the university of that city to waive its claim to the first examination of his records. After reading the dispatch carefully he said:

"A wrong impression has been received in Denmark as to just what I said in Washington last night, and this, too, seems not to have been perfectly understood in this country. In order that there may be no further misunderstanding I shall say now that I shall adhere to the original plan to have the University of Copenhagen make the first examination of my records.

"But that I shall ask that university to withhold the announcement of the result of such examination until the records shall have been examined simultaneously by all the geographical societies of the world. Immediately after they have been examined by the University of Copenhagen, duplicate copies of my records will be submitted to all the geographical societies of the world and to any other scientific bodies desiring them."

WRIGHT FLIES FAR UP HUDSON RIVER

Aviator Makes 20 Miles in 33½ Minutes Despite Unfavorable Breeze.

CIRCLES OVER WARSHIPS.

Accident Prevents More Daring Flight Scheduled for Evening.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Wilbur Wright made one of the most spectacular flights ever witnessed in America when he piloted his biplane up the Hudson as far as Grant's tomb, turned, and flew back to Governor's island without mishap today.

Over the masses of warships, from whose decks the hoarse cheers of the sailors were borne to him in his elevated seat, he flew for twenty miles—ten miles up and ten miles back—remaining in the air for thirty-three minutes and thirty-three seconds.

Wright started on his flight up the Hudson at 9:56 a. m. and finished exactly at 10:29:33. He had intended to improve upon his achievement of the morning by making a longer and more hazardous flight at sunset, but the crippling of his motor just as he was about to start on the evening attempt dashed his hopes as well as those of the thousands who had assembled on Governor's island and along the water front to cheer him on.

Wind Is Against Aviator.

The flight was made under conditions only moderately favorable. When Wright reached Governor's island shortly after 8 o'clock the wind was blowing about ten miles an hour, while an overcast sky added to the uncertainty of the weather. In the face of these conditions Wright called for volunteers from among the newspaper men assembled to tow his machine to the starting rail while he superintended the laying of the starting way in the direction of the wind. Everything ready, his mechanician gave the propeller a twist, which started the motor, and amid the clatter of the machine's exhaust, which sounded like musketry fire, Wright climbed to his seat in his aeroplane.

With the planes tilted slightly to one side the man bird slowly ascended into the air, rising to a height of barely twenty feet, while it swooped in a semi-circle toward the water's edge.

Skyscrapers Make Air Currents.

Almost indistinguishable against the gray, banked clouds, the machine soared past old Castle William and soon entered the cañon made by the giant skyscrapers of Manhattan island and the Jersey hills. At this point the aeroplane was flying at a height of nearly 200 feet, but unexpected air currents caused by the great buildings moved the aviator to bring his craft closer to the water. Tilting the depressing rudder, he slowly brought the machine down, sloping gradually until he was but 100 feet above the tooting ferry boats and the busy river traffic. His motor was churning as regularly as a clock, and, settling himself in his seat, he sped onward up the river.

When the air vessel reached the British cruiser Argyll, anchored an eighth of a mile above Grant's tomb, Wright brought his direction rudders into play and, describing an easy and graceful curve, started on his return journey down the river.

The wind conditions which had bothered him on the journey up were now more favorable and it was here that the speed possibilities of the machine were demonstrated. While the ten miles upstream occupied nearly twenty minutes, the return flight was made in little more than thirteen minutes, or at a rate approximately of forty-two miles an hour.

BIG BALLOONS OFF IN RACE

Ten Giants of the Air Sail from St. Louis in Southeast Wind.

MAY STAY UP FORTY HOURS.

Crowd Sees Start of Long Contest; Cripple in One Car.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—With atmospheric conditions ideal, ten balloons sailed from St. Louis late this afternoon toward the southeast. The passage above this city from the grounds of the Aero club was made at a height of 500 feet. Sixty thousand persons, many of the centennial week visitors, were on the Aero club grounds.

Two of the balloons, the Peoria and Missouri, had gas bags of 40,000 cubic feet and were in a special race. The others were 78,000 cubic footers and raced for medals and prizes. The smaller gas bags are expected to remain in the air eighteen hours and the larger forty hours.

The Cleveland was the first to get away in the race of the big balloons. This was followed by St. Louis III., Centennial, Pommern, New York, University City, Indiana, and the Hoosier. Because H. H. McGill, pilot of the Indiana, had not received his license, his entry failed under protest and his eligibility will be settled later. The Hoosier was disqualified as Dr. P. M. Crume is not a licensed pilot. However, both sailed away for the sport of the trip.

The Indiana basket carried a hammock in which McGill rested. He was injured on the grounds and sailed against the advice of his physician. It is thought the Indiana's rip and valve cords are tangled. If this proves so McGill will have a rough landing, as he cannot control his craft in the usual way.

BALLOONS LAND ABROAD.

[FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TRIBUNE.]

ZURICH, Oct. 4.—Of seventeen balloons which started here on Sunday in the international cup race twelve have landed at various points in Silesia, Moravia, and Bohemia. The only American competitor, America II., piloted by Mix, is still in the race. It was last heard from at Klattau, Bohemia, this afternoon, when it was seen traveling in a northeasterly direction.

TWENTY-FIVE CHILDREN LOST AT STATE FAIR ARE FOUND.

Thousands of Pupils Attend Show on the Day Set Aside for Them—Feeble Minded Band Presents Music.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The greatest attendance for children's day at the Illinois state fair was reported today. Treasurer Prather estimated that 25,000 school childred were on the grounds and placed the total admissions at 45,000.

Twenty-five children were lost during the day, but no accidents were reported. All the lost children were returned to their parents.

A feature of the day was the appearance of a band of musicians composed of inmates of the State Feeble Minded home at Lincoln, which gave concerts at the Dome and Woman's building.

The first awards in cattle and horse exhibits were made at the Coliseum, Galloways, English Hackneys, Shetland ponies, and American saddle horses being shown.

A test of dairy cattle under the auspices of instructors at the University of Illinois was started with forty head of Jerseys, Holsteins, and other breeds represented.

The state food commission began inspecting city milkmen and twenty samples taken were found to be above the standard.

Leaps Into River to Escape Death.

Many persons on Wells street bridge yesterday saw a poorly dressed man jump into the river to escape death under the wheels of a Chicago and Northwestern engine. He swam to a dock and was rescued.

KENILWORTH SPLIT BY WAR ON AUTOS

Village Trustee Dryden Resigns Because "Colleagues Balk Publicity."

CHIEF OF POLICE IN ROW.

Declares Fine Is Enough and Hides Speeders' Names When Asked To.

The peace and quiet of Kenilworth is split into factions over the automobile situation. George B. Dryden, one of the village trustees, has asked leave to withdraw from the board, declaring he is disgusted with the manner in which the village authorities have conducted a wholesale campaign of arresting automobilists.

"My ideas and those of other village officials are so far apart on the speeding question that I have resigned as trustee," Mr. Dryden said last evening. "I have tendered my resignation to President Victor V. Sanborn and the matter probably will be taken before the board next Monday night. The arrests have done no good, for automobilists drive through the village now as carelessly as they did before the crusade was begun. Drivers have been arrested, taken before the magistrate, and a small fine imposed. There has not been enough publicity.

"We drew up a resolution at the last board meeting advocating substantial fines and more publicity. Some arrests have been made and heavy fines imposed, but speeding is as flagrant now as it was before the village began its activities. The present system has been an imposition on persons passing through the village and who have been arrested and taken before a magistrate without any warning."

Police Against Publicity.

William Rooney, chief of the constabulary, declared that persons have often offered him money to let them drive on after he had stopped them and charged them with fast driving.

"Every machine I stopped I took before the magistrate," Policeman Rooney said, "and I am willing to wager $1,000 that nobody can prove otherwise."

Rooney declared that he was opposed to publicity.

"When a fine is imposed the man is punished enough, and I am not going to make the matter public," he said. "When a man requests me to keep the matter quiet I usually do so."

President Sanborn denied that he had received "official" notice of Trustee Dryden's resignation, but intimated that he knew something about it. Mr. Sanborn is said to be opposed to publicity, as is also the chief of police.

Mr. Dryden caused the board to adopt resolutions providing a scale of fines corresponding with the speed a chauffeur would drive through the village.

Says Big Fines Were Not Imposed.

All drivers going faster than twenty miles an hour were subject to arrest. The fine in such case was placed at $20 for twenty miles an hour. One dollar was to be added for each additional mile till the rate would reach twenty-six miles an hour, when the fine was to be doubled, or $52. Mr. Dryden said the new regulation was not carried into effect.

Railroad Receivers Report.

Reports of the receivers of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric railroad, filed yesterday in the United States Circuit court, show the receipts for June were $92,248.67; disbursements, $72,535.44; receipts for July, $129,354.25; disbursements, $121,379.19; receipts for August, $137,296.52; disbursements, $81,570.82.

MAKING GOOD

If a firm selling motor car accessories makes good with you each time you do business with them—and if they keep this up month after month and year after year, so that finally, when you want something, you do not take time to go there and pick and choose, but phone your needs, knowing that they will send you the right thing—

Could this steady "making good" so win your confidence that if some day they undertook the sale of a car they could get an order from you—without advertising—without racing—regardless of whether they labored with a large store or operated from an office in an office building—could they sell you a car simply by saying

"Leave it to us"?

Could such a firm secure business in this manner?

Would it not be just about the pleasantest way there is of doing business, both for the firm and its patrons?

I am interested in the development of a new car; it will not be ready in less than two years—probably three. It will not (and this statement is made in all seriousness) be brought out until we have secured the confidence of car owners to such degree that it can be sold by exactly the methods outlined above. The only reason for starting this present company to sell accessories and equipment is as a means to that end—to "make good month after month."

There are some three thousand firms making magnetos, carburetors, shock absorbers, oils, spark plugs, coils, tires, and so forth. The object of this company is to go over this mass of things, select here and there devices really worth while, and then say to the car owner—especially the busy owner—"phone us, tell us what you are in need of and leave it all to us; we will send you whatever in our judgment is best suited for your requirements—what we send will be selected entirely without considering the profit."

For instance, we advise some owners to purchase a magneto; others are told to buy a new coil; others still, that their present coil, if remodeled, is good enough. The advice in every case is planned for but one purpose—not to see how much money can be made from that sale, but to win confidence.

For the last three months some rather high-priced men have been working steadily—going over the field and picking out one thing here and another there. . . . It has been slow work, and there is still much to do; so far only a few selections have been made, but there is considerable satisfaction to us in looking at them, because they represent what might be called the "cream" of the accessories.

We have taken four spark plugs out of over a hundred different makes; one magneto from among fifty; we have the only car lock which is really thief proof and at the same time "workable"—by which we mean that it has no impractical features to offset its usefulness.

We have selected what are undoubtedly the two most satisfactory of the electric horns; also a well-built exhaust horn which will do business for a long time without clogging up.

We have a prestolite gas tank carrier which is one of those things which make you ask that time-worn query, "Why didn't some one think of it?" etc. Empty tanks can be exchanged in twenty seconds. There are no bolts to loosen with a wrench, no straining at wing nuts with the fingers; and an out-of-sight padlock prevents stealing the tank or "exchanging" it while the car is in a garage. The whole thing is just—neat.

We have decidedly the best scheme yet devised for avoiding the unpleasantness of running out of gasoline. It is nothing as cumbersome as an extra tank and it is better than a dashboard gauge. Those who have walked most of the night, as I once did, will call this a "happy thought" when they see it.

Poor cylinder oil is so insidious in the damage it causes, and it is so entirely impossible to tell anything about oil by looking at it, that we are getting apparatus for oil testing, and as soon as we are ready with it we will have more to say about oil. This tested oil will be sold for considerably less than most owners have been paying for oil they knew nothing about. Those who have the idea that everything here is high priced are laboring under the wrong impression.

For those who have magnetos, coils, timers, batteries, speed indicators, and who are in doubt about their correct working, we are having fitted up apparatus for testing and comparing with standards which are known to be accurate. This apparatus will be more complete than that in use even by car manufacturers. If the car owner is having trouble and is not sure whether or not the fault is in some part of his ignition system, he can come here and be "tested out" in a very few minutes. This will save the buying of new things which are not actually needed; likewise, those who purchase any of these articles here can have them tested before accepting them.

To do this testing calls for men of considerable ability, but—we have them.

We are putting in a stock of tires, thus offering another convenience to owners who now have to go out of their way to get tires. On telephone orders we will deliver tires anywhere in the business district. We are also looking up the different tire repair firms, to learn which one is doing the most satisfactory work. We may arrange so that tires can be left here for repairs.

There is a foreign tire made especially for cars which are hard on tires. It is not sold in this country, but while over there I saw many cars using it. We have sent a number of letters to foreign car manufacturers to see what they have to say about it, and if the reports continue to be as favorable as those so far received we may import some for owners who need something extra strong.

We are also getting data on demountable rims; on electric lighting (the coming system without a doubt), and on several other devices which need similar looking into and which the car owner has no means of investigating for himself.

This new car in which I am interested will have an ignition equipment decidedly better than anything now in use—a new system I have had in mind for years. Part of it is applicable to present-day cars, and we will be glad to give information to those who wish it. We can also make some simple changes in ordinary coils—alterations which will make a surprising improvement in the running of the car, and which are quite inexpensive.

There are some changes in design due to come before long—changes which will make some features of the present cars considerably out of date. I expect to see some of these appear within a year, and so am advising our old customers to have their present cars remodeled and keep them another year. As the new car in which I am interested will not be out for at least two years, this advice can be taken as free from bias.

As we have draughtsmen for our own work we can aid those who wish to change springs, lengthen wheel bases, etc., by preparing working drawings for them. Those who wish to have magnetos, power tire pumps, etc., fitted, can consult us and have the services of some one who is really competent to work out the best method for attaching these, calculate gear sizes, and so forth.

There is no other concern operating on these lines; we are gathering up a lot of loose ends which have needed attention from some one. This is not a supply store; it is really something half way between a salesroom and a laboratory. We would suggest that you drop in some day while out to lunch and see what there is to see. There are no clerks here; but men who are actually graduate consulting engineers,—men who can and will give you information which is entirely unbiased. It is not a question of selling accessories for the profit there is in it, but of making friends for the new car.

BIG PROPERTY DEAL ON THE NORTH SIDE

Firm Which Operates Virginia and Alexandra Acquires the Dubuque.

The biggest deal of the year in north side store and flat proprety comprises the premise at the southwest corner of Clark street and Belmont avenue, which has been sold by Richard A. Meiswrinkel to Charles Adams. The consideration is withheld, but the property is understood to have been valued at about $200,000, and Mr. Adams secured $110,000 of the purchase money by a trust deed to William B. McIlvaine, fifteen years, at 5 per cent.

The lot is irregular in shape, being 185 feet x116x159x200 feet, and it is improved with a four story and basement building, containing twelve stores and thirty flats. The deal was negotiated by R. P. Hillinger & Co.

The McGuire, Cobb & Lull Hotel company, which operates the Virginia and the Alexandra hotels on the north side, are, according to the terms of an agreement filed for record yesterday, to acquire the Dubuque, at the northwest corner of Rush and Indiana streets, just across the alley south from the Alexandra. For the eight story and basement building and the leasehold interest in the 100x100 feet of ground the company is to pay H. B. Scott of Burlington, Ia., the sum of $80,000.

Terms of Hotel Deal.

On the delivery of the agreement the sum of $5,000 was paid, and another $5,000 is to be paid Oct. 1, 1910, while $10,000 is to be paid on each first day of October for the succeeding seven years, with interest at 5 per cent.

It is provided that within one year after securing possession of the property the hotel company is to expend not less than $25,000 in improvements. The property was leased originally by William L. Bradley to Walter L. Brown for a term of ninety-nine years from 1894, at an annual rental of $6,000, which is 5 per cent on $120,000.

This makes three corners acquired by this hotel company in that immediate vicinity.

Andreas P. Anderson has sold to H. Grace Baskerfield the property in Eastwood avenue, 44 feet east of Hazel avenue, with 60x124 feet of ground, south front, with six flat building, for $27,500, subject to incumbrance of $14,000.

John C. Hattendorf of Roselle, Ill., has conveyed to the Farmers' Grain and Feed company the property in Hawthorne avenue, opposite North Branch street, for $60,000. The property, which is 400 feet south of Oak street, has a west frontage of 50 feet with a depth of 94 feet on the north, and 78 feet on the south, and is improved with a four story warehouse building.

Prairie Avenue Apartment Sold.

John Hertzel has purchased from Valentine Mueller the property in Larrabee street, 54 feet south of Menominee street, 108¾x126 feet, west front, with store and flat improvements, for $37,500.

The apartment house property in Prairie avenue, 144 feet north of Forty-sixth avenue, with 50x154 feet of ground, west front, has been sold by Fred M. Grabner to Jennie and Jessie Peaerce for $26,500, subject to incumbrance of $12,000, assumed.

Morris Siegan has purchased from Mrs. Rosie Jacobson and husband, David Jacobson, the store and flat property at the southeast corner of Twelfth street and Sawyer avenue, with 75x118 feet of ground, north front, for $35,000.

The property at 5917 Winthrop avenue, with apartment house improvements, has been sold by Edwin H. Abbott to Charles C. Linthicam for $15,500, the seller taking in part payment the vacant ground at the northwest corner of Wilson avenue and Paulina street, 100x117 feet, valued at $8,000. In the same connection Mr. Abbott sold the vacant corner to Dr. Stafford T. Mitchell for $7,500 cash. Dr. Mitchell will improve it with three dwellings. E. Orris Hart & Co. were the brokers.

Chninese Syndicate Buys.

E. F. Keebler & Co. have leased for the Drexel State bank to a Chinese syndicate headed by Chong W. Toy, which controls a number of restaurants in the downtown district, the store and basement, 40 x 70 feet, at the southeast corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Thirty-ninth street for a term of ten years from Oct. 1 at an aggregate rental of $36,000. The premises formerly were occupied by the Oakland National bank and were vacated at the time of the consolidation of the Oakland National and Drexel State banks. The lessees will expend about $20,000 in improvements.

The estate of Robert McCormick has sold to Albert A. Burger the property at the northwest corner of Ashland avenue and Fifty-first street, 24x125 feet, with brick improvements, for $17,800.

Chytraus Buys Olson Property.

Judge Axel Chytraus has purchased from Nils F. Olson 120x144 feet in Winnemac avenue, 199 feet east of Southport avenue, south front. Olson also quitclaimed to Judge Chytraus 25x124 feet in Warren avenue, 291 feet west of Kedzie avenue, north front, and other property. A nominal consideration appears in the deeds.

Chauncey B. Borland has conveyed to the Desplaines Valley railway company a tract of 145 acres east of Elmhurst, for $88,479, and acquired from Frederick Mesenbrink other property in Proviso, also bought for the road, which is the new belt line of the Northwestern road, for $25,200.

The Chicago Title and Trust company is trustee in a loan of $32,000, five years at 5½ per cent, to Carlos F. White, secured by the property in Lexington avenue, 298 feet south of Sixty-first street, 50x174 feet, with improvements.

Northern Railway Chief Optimistic as Ever; Tells of New Oregon Line.

The Illinois Central railroad is the target of a complaint filed with the interstate commerce commission by the fruit and vegetable dealers of South Water street. Edward G. Davies, representing the Wholesale Fruit and Produce association, charges the road with collecting unreasonable and excessive rates since Jan. 1, 1908, for unloading fruit and vegetables, and asks reparation and the abolition of the charge.

The dealers represented by Mr. Davies now have five cases pending before the interstate and Illinois commissions bearing on the subject of loading and unloading expense imposed by the railroads of Chicago. In the new case against the Illinois Central the complainant alleges that the tariffs formerly levied a charge for unloading and assorting into piles for the various owners the fruits and vegetables in packages and consolidated cars. On Jan. 1, 1908, the railroad imposed an additional charge of 1½ cents a hundred pounds for unloading. This since has been reduced to 1 cent. The complaint asks that the original practice be restored.

"The charge for unloading is illegal," said Mr. Davies yesterday, "and it is not only an additional expense but a great burden to the shippers."

James J. Hill in the City.

James J. Hill, who spent a few hours in Chicago between trains on his way to New York, said the report that he intended to take over the Walsh railroads to aid the ex-banker, had not even the merit of good romance. Mr. Hill passed the morning in the Burlington offices. He spoke with his characteristic optimism of the business outlook for the northwest, saying that prospects for the next year were unusually bright.

"Will there be a car shortage this fall?" he was asked.

"Not on our lines," was the reply. "We have plenty of cars and expect to be able to handle all the crops that are given us to transport.

"We are planning a little construction work in the northwest," he continued. "I might mention the Oregon Trunk line, which we will build south up the Des Chutes river through Oregon. How far we shall go I cannot say. It is reported that we are going clear through to Mexico City. I presume they expect us to take advantage of the development of the aeroplane to get over the mountains."

Tells of Oregon Trunk Line.

John F. Stevens, president of the Oregon Trunk line, formerly chief engineer of the Panama canal and vice president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was also in the city, but said his visit had no connection with that of Mr. Hill.

"Contracts have been let for 120 miles of the Oregon Trunk line through Oregon," he said. "No railroad stops where it originally is planned, but we have no other extensions in mind at present."

Representatives of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, the Chicago Association of Commerce, the National Industrial Traffic league and the Chicago board of trade are preparing to go to Washington on Nov. 16, to present their arguments on the proposed uniform demurrage rules at the annual meeting of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners. The rules to be presented for adoption by that body were agreed upon at a meeting in Chicago last Tuesday, but have not been made public.

Eastern Road's Safety Records.

Western railways, which have succeeded in carrying passengers for a year without killing any of them should be modest in stating the fact, says the Railroad Age Gazette, for the Erie reports that it has maintained the record of safety for five years and the Central of Vermont for seven and one-half years. A Vermont newspaper, in commenting on the latter record says:

"The railway company has, through poor train service, broken many a heart and caused an indefinite amount of profanity on the part of its patrons, but all that doesn't count in an indictment against it in the mortality column. There is no record of Central Vermont trains ever running down anybody by reason of their excessive speed."

M. J. Collins of Chicago has been appointed general purchasing agent of the Santa Fé system, to succeed W. E. Hodges, who recently was elected vice president in charge of purchases and stores.

The Northern Pacific railway has sent H. J. Titus, the company's dining car superintendent, abroad to make a study of the best hotels, clubs, and cafées to get new ideas for the line's dining car service.

One of the Many Comforts on the Burlington

The Dining Car is dainty and elegant in all its appointments—irresistibly inviting in its snowy linen, polished silver and beautiful china. The service is à la carte—pay for only what you order. The menu—of great variety. The cooking—of usual Burlington excellence. The prices—popular.

This feature is merely typical of that Burlington thoroughness which is made to contribute to your comfort and enjoyment in every detail of the trip: wide, long, comfortable berths—electric-lighted, well ventilated cars—a thoroughly solid, smooth road-bed.

MADDEN WILL ASK FEDERATION'S AID

"Skinny" to Attend Tampa Convention in Effort to Overthrow Rival Council.

MAY APPLY FOR CHARTER

Considers Loss of Independence as Price of Victory Over New Local Body.

Martin B. ("Skinny") Madden's last struggle to regain his throne as dictator of the building trades of Chicago will be made next Monday at Tampa, Fla., where he is preparing to make a desperate attempt to overthrow the new Building Trades council organized with the sanction of the American Federation of Labor.

Madden and two or three of his lieutenants are preparing to leave Chicago tonight to attend a meeting of the building trades section of the federation at Tampa. Members of the Chicago federation learned of the plans yesterday and began preparations to oppose Madden's maneuver.

It is believed Madden and his friends contemplate nothing less than a determined effort to secure the revocation of the charter of the new Building Trades council and secure a charter for himself and his Associated Building Trades.

Move Surprises Labor Leaders.

Labor leaders were surprised by "Skinny" Madden's plan and there was much discussion as to the probable plan of Madden to attack the charter which was issued two months ago to the new Building Trades association.

Belief was expressed by federation men of Chicago that Madden would fail in his latest move. They pointed out that he had been repudiated by the labor press throughout the nation since his conviction on a grafting charge in the Criminal court of Cook county last spring.

All of the officers of the new Building Trades council together with other delegates probably will leave later in the week for Tampa, where they will fight Madden to the last ditch. The new council's leaders are John Metz, president; John Mangon, vice president, and Robert H. Hanlon, secretary.

Union Secretary in Cell.

C. J. Camp, former financial secretary of the Milk Drivers' union, who embezzled $19,000 of the union's funds over a year ago, has been sent to the bridewell for one year. He entered a plea of guilty after his trial began last week in the Municipal court and his sentence was fixed. He had been in the county jail for six months awaiting trial.

A special train from Chicago took 500 barbers to Milwaukee in the evening to attend the international convention of union men to be held at that city, beginning today. Fully 800 delegates are expected to be in attendance from the United States, Porto Rico, British Columbia, and all parts of Canada.

The strike of women's tailors, which was thought by union officials to have been settled last Saturday, when a majority of the strikers were promised a wage increase of 10 per cent, was resumed during the day. Tailors in State street department stores are involved.

The alleged shortage of William A. Storm, financial secretary of the Bricklayers and Stonemasons' union, was discovered during the day to be much larger than was at first reported. Expert accountants now report the shortage to be $5,800. A warrant for the arrest of Storm was issued last week, when it was reported his shortage amounted to $1,000.

EXPERT SAFE BLOWER GIVES RULES OF HIS PROFESSION.

Nerve, Soap, Files, Drills, Punches, Revolver, and Nitro-Glycerin Are Needed for Doing Successful "Jobs."

Sam Hawley, known as "Smooth Sam," with a record as an expert safe blower, gave the following rules of his business yesterday to Postoffice Inspector James E. Stuart:

You must have nerve; be resourceful, too.

Let booze alone when a "job" is on.

Have plenty of soap. You need it to crack a safe. Eat it when you are caught and you can get sick.

Always carry a pair of steel files. The best way is to sew them in your coat lapels.

Have a revolver, but don't use it unless you are sure you can get away afterwards.

Throw your gun away when you are caught red-handed.

Keep out of sight days, and don't make new friends.

Conceal your nitro-glycerin, soap, drills, and punches when you are about to do a "trick," but don't walk about the streets with them bulging out of your pockets.

Find out the job before you do it; it pays to play safe.

Don't give a "pal" away. If you are caught, stand the gaff and don't holler.

Hawley, who was arrested while robbing the postoffice at Braidwood, Ill., waived examination before United States Commissioner Foote and was held to the federal grand jury under bonds of $3,000. Two steel saws and about $200 in mutilated bills were found sewed in Hawley's coat.

"I'm caught," Hawley admitted, smiling, "and three years will be about right. I don't deserve any sympathy. It was coarse work on my part. Booze got me."

NEW MILK SCALE IN TODAY; FIGHT MAY BE THE RESULT.

Producers Adopt Modified Schedule, Trifle Lower than First Announced—Say They Will Stand By It.

If Chicago is to have a fight over milk prices it is due this morning, when the final schedule adopted by the Milk Producers' association goes into effect. At a meeting of the milk board of the association yesterday afternoon a scale of prices from which there will be no deviation, according to the producers, was fixed as follows for eight gallon cans of milk:

October	$1.25	January	$1.40
November	1.50	February	1.40
December	1.50	March	1.35

This scale of prices, according to James P. Grier, secretary of the association, means a trifle less than 3⅝ cents a quart to the farmers for their milk. For the last two months the price paid the dairymen by the dealers has been $1.20 a can.

Besides the profit enjoyed by the dealers, represented by the difference in the prices paid the farmers and those charged the customers, the producers assert the dealers make a snug sum by separating a part of the cream. Farmers are required to furnish milk which tests from 3.75 to 3.80 per cent butter fat. They declare that the milk when it reaches the consumer scarcely ever exceeds 3.40 per cent in butter fat.

"We have fixed a scale of prices which is 10 cents a can less than was at first proposed," Mr. Grier said, "and this positively is the lowest scale that the producers will make. Members of the association furnish two-thirds the milk supply of Chicago."

"L" ROAD SUED FOR $25,000.

Hennepin, Ill., Man and Wife Injured by Oak Park Line Ask Damages.

Landon F. Boyle and his wife of Hennepin, Ill., brought suit in the Circuit court yesterday for damages against the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated railroad company for injuries resulting from being struck by a train at Clinton avenue. The Boyles were riding in an automobile when they tried to cross the tracks. Mrs. Boyle asks for $15,000, while her husband demands $10,000.

GUGGENHEIM HEARING IS SET

Arguments on Motion to Annul Divorce Will Be Made Oct. 13.

DECREE EIGHT YEARS OLD.

Contention That the Original Trial Court Was Imposed Upon.

Judge Lockwood Honoré in the Circuit court yesterday granted a continuance until Oct. 13 to hear legal arguments as to why he should set aside a decree of divorce granted by Judge Edward F. Dunne in 1901 to Grace B. Guggenheim against William Guggenheim, the youngest of the seven Guggenheim brothers of smelter fame. It is understood an effort will be made to show that the original trial court was imposed upon and misled.

While unwilling to make such an assertion, Mr. Dunne declared that in his opinion, sustained by opinions of others, it is the inherent right of any court to protect its dignity, and on these grounds he is said to believe the divorce action may be reopened after eight years.

William E. Dever and William M. Seabury, a New York attorney, represent Mrs. Guggenheim. Mr. Seabury intimates that Mrs. Guggenheim, in obtaining the original divorce, was led to believe her birth in this state constituted a legal residence to warrant the divorce. In support of the fact that Mrs. Guggenheim was not a resident of Illinois, he declares that even while the original action was on trial she maintained her home in New York.

Right to Reopen Case Disputed.

C. E. Cleveland and Benjamin Becker appear in the case in behalf of Jacob Newman, local counsel for Mr. Guggenheim. Mr. Cleveland says it is his belief that the case will go no further than the hearing of arguments Oct. 13. They will dispute the right of the Circuit court to reopen a case of this nature after it has been duly closed by the court.

The original decree granted Mrs. Guggenheim $500 a month alimony. This was later settled for $150,000 cash. Attorneys for Mr. Guggenheim now intimate that this money has been disposed of, and declare the woman is practically at the end of her resources.

The former Mrs. Guggenheim, before beginning the last Chicago action, filed suit for divorce in New York. The New York Supreme court at that time held that the decree granted by Judge Dunne was legal.

Both Sides to File Answers.

Counsel for Guggenheim will file an answer in court not later than Wednesday, after which counsel for Mrs. Guggenheim will file an answer for their client.

Colin C. H. Fyffe, who was appointed by Judge Honoré as friend of the court to investigate the matter, largely on the strength of representations by former Judge Dunne, has announced his readiness to go into the case.

Since the divorce eight years ago the former Mrs. Guggenheim married Jules Roger Wahl in Paris, and later was divorced by him in the courts of France. At that time, it is said, attorneys for Wahl assured her the Illinois divorce was void.

Four years after the divorce Guggenheim married Miss Aimee Steinberger in Chicago. They now live in New York and have one child.

Van Vlissingen Record Found.

The answer of Peter Van Vlissingen, now serving in the penitentiary at Joliet, to the divorce suit begun by his wife—the object of a frantic search on Sunday by reporters—was found yesterday in a cupboard in the clerk's room and placed in its regular place among the records of the office.

Van Vlissingen, in his answer, makes the contention that his wife is not a resident of Illinois and says she had guilty knowledge of his criminal actions. The disappearance over Sunday was not explained.

TORN FRAGMENTS OF LETTER TO TESTIFY AGAINST DOUDS.

Prosecutor Says Bits of Telltale Missive Were Found After the Acorn Brass Head Left.

Scraps of paper, pieced together into a letter, said to have been written by Eli H. Doud to James Doud, his brother, promise to play an important part in the prosecution of the two in Judge Tuthill's court. The Doud brothers are charged with taking ledgers, books, and notes worth over $10,000 from the Acorn Brass Manufacturing company, of which Eli H. formerly was president.

In making the opening statement for the prosecution yesterday Attorney F. H. Atwood said bits of paper which when pieced together were found to have been a letter dated at Kenosha, Wis., and signed "C. C. Stanley," were found in James Doud's desk. In the letter were references to "getting away with the junk," and other similar expressions, Mr. Atwood asserted.

Mr. Atwood said he would produce witnesses to show that Eli Doud stopped at a hotel in Kenosha under the name of C. C. Stanley.

WORK IS STARTED ON CODE REVISION

Assistant Corporation Counsel to Rearrange All the City Ordinances.

NEW PLUM FOR M'GOVERN

Captures Contract for Repairing Asphalt Pavements, Bid Being Lowest.

The task of revising the municipal code, which last was rewritten under the direction of Edgar B. Tolman, was begun yesterday by Assistant Corporation Counsel Howard W. Hayes.

Corporation Counsel Brundage will have supervision of culling out the dead ordinances and inserting the new and amended city laws; but the work itself will be handled by Mr. Hayes, who hopes to complete it before Dec. 1. A call has been issued by Mayor Busse for the hastening of pending and prospective legislation so the new book may be saved as many changes as possible.

"The task of preparing it is enormous," said Mr. Hayes. "There are hundreds of amendments and scores of local option and general ordinances in addition to the annulling effect on others by state legislation."

McGovern Gets New Contract.

Although he was detected "putting something over" on the same sort of a contract last year, M. H. McGovern has obtained the contract for 30,000 yards of asphalt repair work to be done this fall. His bid of 87 cents a yard was the lowest received. Last year he bid $1.75 for resurfacing a square yard of asphalt and 1 cent a yard for rebuilding the entire paving, including the foundation. When his contract was near expiration it was found nearly all his work had been of the high priced type, on which he made a profit of $1 a yard, and he had lost little on the 1 cent class of work.

Miss Valentine Smith Protests.

Miss Valentine Smith, city archivist, asked Commissioner Hanberg to rescind his order that the relics in the municipal museum be placed in storage, so that the room in which they have been kept might be used by the municipal expenditure commission. Mr. Hanberg explained that the room was needed, but the relics will not be boxed and stored for a week, as the Merriam commission has no immediate need for the room. Miss Smith will devote the time to assorting and carefully packing the relics and curios of Chicago's early history.

Electric Motors Are "Piece Workers"

With a separate electric motor to run each individual machine in the shop, each motor becomes a "piece worker." You pay for no wasted power in idly running pulleys, belts and shafting while the machine itself is not in use.

You Pay Only For The Work Actually Performed

And that is the essence of economy in the purchase of power as well as labor. Electric current from Central Station is always ready—day and night. And it is always available in unlimited quantity. On request we will make a free test of the efficiency of your plant.

Highest grade motors sold on cash or time basis. Call Randolph 1280 for particulars.

CONDEMNS MORALS OF BIBLE

University Magazine Says Old Testament Teaches Bad Conduct

HISTORIC STUDY IS URGED.

Pastors Must Realize That Ethics Change as Years Roll By.

The University of Chicago divinity department has set its stamp of approval on the theory that the old testament of the bible is a poor moral guide in the light of present knowledge. This stand is taken in an unsigned editorial in the Biblical World which, according to Prof. Ernest De Witt Burton, the editor in chief, represents the attitude of the twelve editors of the magazine.

What the university theologians suggest is the historical method of bible study. Prof. Herbert L. Willett, one of the editors, explained the position of the professors.

"The bible must be looked at as the work of ancients," he said. "As such it naturally is not a model. It recites the attempts of the people of its time to make out the best solution to the problems met with."

Changes in Moral Views.

Extracts from the editorial in the Biblical World follow:

"What shall we say concerning the commands of Jehovah in the old testament to exterminate the women and children of a vanquished foe?

"Not only does the bible apparently fail to condemn practices which our own moral sense must condemn, but it also fails to mention some of the problems which are foremost in our modern life.

"How, for example, can a Christian gain an intelligent understanding of the issues at stake in the modern conflict between capital and labor if he simply confine himself to a reading of the bible?"

Historical Method of Study.

These things are pointed out in defence of the historical method of bible study

"The modern biblical scholar," the editorial says, "cannot fail to notice the way in which moral ideas grew out of specific historical and social needs. From this point of view those moral ideals in the bible which are inapplicable today cause him no more perplexity than do the moral ideals of ancient Greece which are likewise inapplicable.

"Is it not time that we should cease to apologize for this method of biblical study which has been universally adopted in our seminaries? Should we not rather recognize the latent power to be derived from it in making pastors more efficient in the practical christian work of our age than ever was possible under the older method?"

POTENT AUXILIARIES.

In the war against the white slave traffic every auxiliary is welcome. None can be more welcome than the rabbis and presidents of Jewish congregations, who met day before yesterday and gave expression to their sentiments in no uncertain tone. Others may lose their interest and drop out. The Jewish leaders and the people they lead will not. They will stick to their work with that stern persistency which has characterized their ancestors.

It would not have been difficult at any time to enlist the Jews in a combat against the white slave traffic and the other evils of the levee. They have suffered from those evils. Their desire to root them out is intensified by the fact that one or two Jews have figured conspicuously in the revelations of west Side levee conditions. Every church or race has its black sheep. The Jews have singularly few. But fearing that they may be misjudged because of these Chicago specimens, they disown and cast them out, and will be all the more determined to root out the vices with which those men and others like them are identified.

THE TRACTION MERGER.

Simultaneously with the first publication of THE TRIBUNE'S address to the mayor and the citizens of Chicago on the desperate need for united action for the city's good there appeared in its columns the first accurate report on the plans for the merger of all but two of the great public service corporations in the city.

The consequences of the plan and the issues raised by it are so great and are complicated by so many considerations that THE TRIBUNE has withheld its opinion until today. And the opinion which it expresses now is tentative and fragmentary; because the creation of a public service corporation with a capital equal to over three-quarters of the assessed value of city property and combining lighting as well as traction functions raises the gravest question, except that of plain honesty, which has confronted the city in twenty years. However, THE TRIBUNE now is prepared to say:

1. That there should be a union of traction bodies in the interest of economy, efficiency, and greater municipal control.

2. That union should increase the relative proportion of corporate contribution to the city's revenue, because of the economies accruing from union; and that the scope of municipal control should be widened because of the greater power of the consolidated interests.

3. That it is a moot question whether a corporation supplying power should be permitted to unite with other corporations engaged in service not wholly germane to its own.

4. That if the traction companies unite it may be the part of wisdom to require of them that they shall call for bids for power, on a competitive basis, in order that the people's plant, built and operated by the drainage board (if it can), may help to keep down the cost of electric operation and thereby increase the revenue of the city.

It is not too much to say that the great plan proposed should be publicly considered by the civic bodies and the city council. It is emphatically clear that a measure of such far reaching importance as the consolidation of the several traction companies should be deferred for at least a year, and maybe until the members of the whole council have been elected or reelected after an active discussion of the question.

So far reaching is the scheme in its immediate and ultimate consequences that it affects the subway question, the loop question, suburban and interurban railway, and trolley service. The growth and prosperity of whole districts of the city will be affected adversely or favorably by the solution of the problem presented.

The voters and taxpayers of today and their heirs of another generation will suffer or gain, will pay higher or lower taxes, in the measure of the degree of wisdom with which the combination of the traction interests is effected.

NOISE ON THE LAKE FRONT.

The story in yesterday's TRIBUNE gave only a faint idea of the nightly fury and rage of noise on the Illinois Central right of way between Randolph street and Park row. To get a fuller conception of it one must try vainly to get unbroken sleep in one of the hotels near the Illinois Central pandemonium.

It is not correct to speak of the strip of land between Grant park and Michigan avenue as a "right of way." Once it was that and nothing more. It was used exclusively for the movement of trains. Now it is a long freight yard for the storage and switching of cars and for the making up of trains—mostly freight trains. A few years ago James J. Hill laid down the rule that economy in handling freight required an engine to haul the largest possible number of cars. The Illinois Central acts on his advice on the lake front. So to the noise which accompanies the making up of a train is added the long drawn out noise which ensues when an engine sets out to start a train which it has barely force to drag. Then comes a clank, clank, clank, as the couplings of car after car are jerked at.

One may ask why the Illinois Central dares to make so offensive a use of its right of way. The answer is that its lawyers were smarter than those for the city. In 1895 an ordinance was passed for an "amicable adjustment establishing the rights of the Illinois Central and the city of Chicago relating to property along the shore of Lake Michigan." The wily railroad lawyers slipped into it the following section, whose signficance the city's lawyers and the council did not appreciate:

> In case of the acceptance of this ordinance the said railroad company shall have the right to use in perpetuity its grounds and right of way between the north line of Randolph street and the southern boundary of the lake park, and the railroad tracks laid or to be laid thereon, for all legitimate railroad purposes, free from all restrictions.

This was a shameful surrender of the rights of the public, but those rights are not irretrievably lost if the city shall make a fight for their recovery. The last paragraph of the section reads:

> But nothing in this section contained shall be held to limit or impair the lawful authority vested in the city council to pass and enforce all proper and reasonable police regulations.

The switching and storage of cars and the making up of trains are "legitimate railroad purposes," but if doing those things on the lake front creates a nuisance, and they can be done elsewhere without interfering with the operation of the road, then the city can order the abatement of the nuisance. It can refer to the police power as the warrant for its order.

The noise is an outrageous nuisance. It depreciates the value of Michigan avenue property for hotel uses, for which it is otherwise specially suited. The road can do its switching and making up of freight trains elsewhere. It can do the bulk of it north of Randolph street and the rest of it south of Twelfth street. The railroad would resent and resist an order to stop making up trains between Randolph street and Park row. Litigation would ensue, but unless the road could prove—which it cannot—that it would be unable to make up trains elsewhere, it would have to surrender a privilege it got by craft fourteen years ago.

The city authorities should not delay action in this matter. They can stop the riot of noise that murders sleep on Michigan avenue from Randolph to Park row by a vigorous assertion of the police power.

GERMAN DAY.

If there were any in Chicago ignorant of the part the Germans have played and are playing in this city the great gathering of Sunday must have opened their eyes. What is true of Chicago is true of the United States.

During the comparatively brief time that the Germans have been in this country in large numbers they have forged to the front not only in business but in the professions. The names of native born Germans stand high on the lists of men eminent in law and medicine and scientific research.

Nothing demonstrates so well the close relationship between the Teutonic stock which migrated to England and that which remained at home as the extraordinary facility with which the German, brought up in the bureaucratic system, adapts himself to conditions of one of the freest democracies in the world. Bureaucracy, whether in Germany or Austria, was forced upon him by the tremendous necessity for military defense. He was compelled to adopt almost autocratic methods to resist Napoleon and, before him, Louis the Great. While the situation is not so serious now as then, it is urgent enough to explain German adherence to the bureaucratic system.

The only nonmilitary German state is Switzerland, which has a purer democracy than ours and has exhibited a perfect genius for political as well as scientific originality. It might be said that in proportion to population that little country has produced more men of international value in historic, economic, and especially scientific work than any country since the great Teutonic and Slav invasion destroyed the Roman empire and what was left of the Greek cities.

Holland can boast of a few great painters, and of few beside them. It has been absorbed in commerce, which does not produce the men who are of the greatest service to the world. The money kings are valuable evolutionary agents, just as were the feudal barons, but so far as individual contributions to the world's inheritance are concerned, the historian, the economist, the scientist, the philosopher, and the artist are the types whose heirs we really are.

In every way except actual political development Germany is in the vanguard. While conditions have stayed its progress in the direction of democratic government, the whole world is a debtor to the political philosophers of 1848. It is the irony of fate that the other Teutonic nations should have profited more by their preaching than that branch of the race which actually gave them birth.

"THIS IS MY BIRTHDAY."

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1909.

This is the seventy-ninth birthday anniversary of the late Chester A. Arthur, who was the only native of Vermont who has reached the presidency of the United States. Like Cleveland, he was the son of a preacher.

Frank H. Hitchcock, the sturdy bachelor who presides over the postoffice department in President Taft's cabinet and is now hunting in Arizona, is 42 years old today. He is an Ohio graduate of Harvard and of Columbian University Law school of Washington.

Eugene S. Pike of 2101 Prairie avenue, who was a classmate of James A. Garfield in college at Hiram, O., and came to Chicago in 1867, completes three-quarters of a century of life today. He is a Buckeye by birth.

William R. Dawes, cashier of the Central Trust company of Illinois, was born in Ripon, Wis., forty-seven years ago this morning. He is an Evanston resident.

James McNally, vice president of Rand, McNally & Co. and a native of Ireland, is 62. He has lived in Chicago forty years and his home is at 604 Division street.

Robert B. Peattie, Badger by birth, once managing editor of the World-Herald in Omaha and for a long time newspaper correspondent and literary critic in Chicago, is 52. His home is at 7660 Bond avenue.

Edward Macy Clark, Oak Park suburbanite, native of Hudson, N. Y., and resident in many places in the middle west in his day, is 62 today. He is "Dad" to a large circle of friends and is a Knight of Pythias.

Dr. Laird W. Nevius of La Grange, holder of many patents for dental appliances, is 64. He is an Ohioan by birth and education and served two years in the American civil war.

James N. Raymond of 4902 Drexel boulevard, who has been in the lead manufacturing business since 1876 and is now president of the Raymond Lead company, is 62. He is a native born son of New York City.

Charles E. Vroman of 25 Walton place, assistant general solicitor for the St. Paul road, is 63. He was born in Madison, Wis., and was educated at the State university there and at Albany Law school.

G. M. Gunderson, manager of the United States Brewing company, was born in Chicago fifty-four years ago today.

Joseph R. Burres, attorney, who was superintendent of schools for Douglas county, Ill., four years, is 51. His college diplomas were conferred by De Pauw and Illinois Wesleyan Law school at Bloomington.

Hugh O'Neill, attorney, living at 1331 Albion avenue, son of Ireland, graduate of Notre Dame and professor there one year, is 42.

Harold Rowntree of 7321 Princeton avenue, secretary of the Burdett-Rowntree Manufacturing company, was born in England forty-four years ago today and came to the United States in 1884.

Charles F. Spalding of 46 Astor street, president of the Spalding Lumber company, is 44. Chicago is his native town.

Henry Kline, for twenty-one years in the registry division of the Chicago postoffice, native of Germany, friend of Abraham Lincoln, and resident of the United States since 1853, is 75. He is a civil war veteran and was a fighter of Indians in Colorado when it was a territory.

Thomas Cusack of 346 Ashland boulevard, who has been a member of the Chicago board of education, of Gov. Altgeld's staff, and of the Fifty-sixth congress, is 51. He was born in Ireland, came to the United States when he was 3, and was orphaned at 5.

Lewis C. Doggett, general superintendent of N. K. Fairbank & Co., with which firm he has been associated thirty-two years, is 51. He was born in Chicago and lives at 5487 East End avenue.

Frederick C. Gaertner of 1855 Wellington avenue, secretary of the Theo A. Kochs company, is 43. Hanover, Germany, is his birthplace, the Chicago College of Law his professional alma mater.

William J. Keene of 4440 Drexel boulevard, graduate of Cornell, native of Chicago, and president of the spring butt company bearing his name, is 29.

John F. Laubender of Oak Park, insurance man, associated with W. A. Alexander & Co., is 65. He was a soldier four years in the civil war.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1909: By the Brentwood company, all rights reserved.]

FEW peers of the British realm, especially those whose honors are not of modern creation, manage to escape the annoyance of having pretensions put forward to their dignities. Not one in a hundred of these claims is successful. Some of them are absolutely preposterous. But they call for the expenditure of a considerable amount of money, trouble, and worry in order to resist the attack, which occasionally brings to light glimpses of that vast storehouse of romance which is contained in the annals and traditions of the old houses of the English aristocracy.

The latest to suffer in this fashion is Lord Macdonald, whose ancestors bore the historic title of lord of the isles, now owned by the prince of Wales. The claimant in this instance is a rich Yorkshire land owner of the name of Alexander Bosville of Thorpe hall and of Gunthwaite, and who was high sheriff of Yorkshire a few years ago, and is a grandson of the seventh Lord Middleton. He claims the barony of Macdonald, which is not a Scotch but an Irish peerage, by virtue of the peculiar circumstances of the marriage of his great-grandfather, the third Lord Macdonald, with a lady who was the daughter of Farley Edsir, otherwise the attainted marquis of Tyrconnel.

The marriage of the third Lord Macdonald and of this lady was of the Gretna Green order, and to it were born a son, Alexander, and a daughter, Louisa, who married the fifth earl of Hopetoun, and thus became the great-grandmother of the present marquis of Linlithgow. Afterwards Lady Macdonald developed scruples and insisted upon being married according to the rites of the English church. This was held, for some reason or other, to invalidate the Gretna Green ceremony, and in consequence to make Alexander and his sister illegitimate.

On this ground the peerage, on the death of the third Lord Macdonald, passed to Godfrey, the eldest of his three sons born subsequent to the Church of England marriage ceremony, Alexander being barred from the succession. The present and sixth Lord Macdonald is the grandson of Godfrey.

Godfrey's eldest brother, Alexander, who had thus been barred from the succession to his father's honors, being unwilling to retain the name of Macdonald, which recalled the stigma on his birth, secured a license from the crown to assume his mother's patronymic of Bosville, and received, by his mother's bequest, her estate of Gunthwaite, in Yorkshire, as well as Thorpe hall from one of his mother's brothers. The claimant is his grandson, and now puts forward the pretension that the Gretna Green marriage was not invalidated by the subsequent Church of England ceremony, and that in consequence thereof he is the rightful owner of the barony of Macdonald.

Of course the point against him is that the invalidation of the Gretna Green marriage was accepted at the time by the person most concerned—that is to say, by Alexander Macdonald, who died as Alexander Bosville. As both Lord Macdonald and the claimant to his honors are rich men, they may be relied upon to fight to a finish, and the suit promises extremely rich pickings for the lawyers, since peerage cases entail particularly large expenditures.

Lord Macdonald's country home is Armidale castle, on the south coast of the island of Skye, overlooking the sound of Sleet. One of the features of the place is a large Gothic window of painted glass, representing the celebrated Somerled, first lord of the isles, in full Highland costume and armed with sword, battle ax, and targe; a Celtic chief, by whose efforts the Norwegians had been driven from the mainland of Scotland. He married Effrica, a daughter of Olave, one of the Norwegian kings of the Isle of Man.

His immediate successors managed to retain what he had held and became the most powerful chiefs in Scotland. Indeed, his grandson, the third lord of the isles, repeatedly visited the English court, towards the end of the fourteenth century, as an independent prince. He was able to put 10,000 men in the field; and his successor, with a force of similar dimensions, seized and burned Inverness by way of avenging a slight to which he had been subjected by the king of Scotland. The last nonroyal lord of the isles was John, who was likewise earl of Ross. He was deprived of his honors for rebellion against King James II. of Scotland. Some of them were restored to him on his reconciliation to the crown. But not the title of lord of the isles, which was retained by the king, and has been since the union of the English and Scotch crowns, one of the most highly prized titles of the prince of Wales.

Sir Donald Macdonald, who was the chieftain of the clan in the days of Charles I. of England, received a baronetcy, which is the second in point of seniority in the kingdom of Scotland. The seventh baronet took no part in the Jacobite rebellion of 1745, but contributed to the escape of the pretender, an escape in which his niece, Flora Macdonald, played the rôle of heroine. This was the chieftain who entertained Dr. Johnson and Boswell on their famous tour in Scotland, at his castle of Armidale. His wife was so loved that it is recorded that when she traveled through the island of Skye the people ran in crowds before her and removed the stones from the road lest her carriage should be jolted.

She is described as having been one of the greatest beauties of her age, Dr. Johnson writing of her that even in her eighty-fifth year she had little reason to accuse time of depredations on her beauty. Her eldest son was Sir James Macdonald, who achieved much fame as one of the greatest scholars and mathematicians of his time, and who died at Rome. By his orders all his writings and papers were interred with him in the coffin containing his remains.

It was his brother who was created first Lord Macdonald of the present creation. The present one is, as I have mentioned above, the sixth baron, the fourteenth baronet, and the twenty-first chief of the clan Macdonald. His eldest son, whose rights of succession to the family honors are now endangered by the claims of Alexander Bosville, bears the Christian name of the founder of the clan, namely, Somerled.

Talking of claimants to peerages, the pretender to the earldom of Poulett, who during the lifetime of the late earl was wont to parade the streets of London as an organ grinder, bearing a placard on which was inscribed an intimation that he was Viscount Hinton and that he was forced to earn his bread in that fashion owing to the refusal of his father, the Earl Poulett, to contribute anything to his support, has just died in the infirmary of the Holborn poorhouse—or "workhouse," as institutions of this kind are styled in England.

When the late earl died he instituted legal proceedings for the possession of the extensive estates of the earldom, but was signally defeated. Then he brought forward a claim to the earldom. But the committee of privileges of the house of lords, after hearing all the evidence, determined that he could not possibly be the son of the late Earl Poulett, although born during the period of his mother's lawful marriage to that peer.

Consequently the earldom was vested in the late lord's son by a subsequent and third marriage. This son succeeded as seventh earl and married just a year ago Miss Sylvia Storey of the London Gaiety theater, daughter of the actor Fred Storey. He made a small allowance to the defeated claimant, who was, however, an improvident, shiftless creature, and he has now furnished, through his lawyers, the money necessary for the funeral expenses, being probably relieved to feel that the individual who brought so much trouble and unenviable notoriety to the house of Poulett is now safely beneath the ground.

He could not consider himself related in any way to the claimant. For the late lord had, as a young officer just landed from India at Portsmouth, made a drunken bet after dinner to wed the first woman that he encountered on the street. She happened to be Elizabeth Newman, daughter of the keeper of a sailors' boarding house, and less than three months afterwards she gave birth to a son, namely, the claimant who has just brought his sorry existence to a close.

BALLADE OF THE I. C.

The busy engines blow
  Their coal with might and main.
Why is it wasted so?
  It seems a needless bane.
  It patters on the pane
As o'er the rails we roll.
  One thing I can't explain:
Why don't they burn the coal?

O, shades of Phœbe Snow!—
  How wasted coal does rain
On frill and furbelow
  Of Geraldine and Jane.
  It drives the girls insane;
And, losing self-control,
  Their escorts grow profane.
Why don't they burn the coal?

"Thick as the leaves that strow,"
  It covers track and train;
On platforms, row on row,
  It heaps like ebon grain.
  I've coal dust on the brain,
It fills my heart with dole;
  I groan the sad refrain:
Why don't they BURN the coal?

Complaint, of course, were vain;
  'Twould find a pigeonhole.
But still I cry again,
  Why don't they BURN the coal?

NO wonder Peary lost so many toes. The Literary Digest explains that the polar dash was a "bootless quest."

THE AURORA MYSTERY.

I am disgusted. At the Mannerchore last night I choke and could not sing for thinking of T. L. B. who says, "T'ell with Nic Coldwater." If what his old friends of Elgin Vol. Fire Co. No matter to you. But I will say, no safer man was ever sent out with the price of a can of suds. And what iss more, he was never ashamed of signing his full name instead of his initchials or nom de plum or what you call it.

The "Greatest Campaign."

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial under caption "To the Mayor, City Council, etc.," and Mr. O'Laughlin's articles should stir up our sluggish civic pride. Let Briggs follow with a cartoon, "Holding the Mirror Up to Us." THE TRIBUNE has started many great campaigns. This is the greatest.

Street Car Noises.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The traction company's cars are nine out of ten in bad condition. The wheels at every revolution produce a pounding roar like the report of a large sledgehammer that is struck on the rail. This peculiar pounding increases the noise of the car at least 100 per cent. It is tremendously nerve racking. A truck in serviceable condition makes little noise outside of friction, except at the joints of the rails on worn tracks of the old type and at crossings. The number of bad wheels and trucks for the street cars has increased considerably during the last two or three years.

These cars have their proper place in the repair shop until the trucks and wheels have been put into proper serviceable condition. But judging from the course followed by the street car companies in rather increasing than decreasing the number of bad cars on their lines, the street car companies will not observe proper care until forced to do so. Therefore the only and practical way to deal with this matter would be for the city council to pass an ordinance making the street car companies pay a fine of $100 a day for each car kept or put into service while its truck or wheels, through lack of repairs or otherwise, causes noise greater than that of a car kept in good and excellent working order. There is evidently no other remedy for this long continued neglect.

Skids in Michigan Avenue.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I was under the impression that this city had abolished skids. This afternoon at 4 o'clock I hurdled three in Michigan avenue—one at Hoyt's grocery house, one in front of Quan's, and one in front of John A. Tolman's.

Praise for Gen. Grant.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—Every one has read with much interest the various articles, comments, etc, published recently in your valuable paper regarding Gen. Grant appearing in the recent "law and order" parade, and in full uniform. Permit me to say in behalf of myself and many friends that the son of our illustrious civil war hero, as well as the entire war department, is to be praised and congratulated for the manly spirit demonstrated by the general. The law and order advocates also are to be congratulated, and surely they have put forward the best foot yet in their cause.

Gen. Grant has endeared himself, by having the courage of his convictions, to the people, and has, I believe, laid a plank in the foundation of a new party which will reward him in the future, as well as added another laurel to the illustrious name of Grant. Such men as this make good presidents.

Viaduct Needs Repairing.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is high time the responsible parties took it into their heads to repair the sidewalk on Eighteenth street viaduct. For days it has been in a shocking state of neglect, and this morning I see it is positively left without barricade or warning of any kind, with two or three planks right out, leaving a yawning chasm on to the railroad beneath. Surely Twelfth street should have been a lesson not easily to be forgotten.

Another Paving Complaint.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—While poor paving contracts are being shown up I think the job being done on Thirty-fifth street from Wallace west should be looked into. The curbing being used is so old and rotten that it will not last two years. The manner in which it is being set up is also poor. The paving undoubtedly will be done in the same manner. Saloons are plenty and inspectors easy.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

For Simplified Government.

[Boston Herald.]

Twenty Illinois cities are reported as ready to adopt simplified government as soon as the legislature gives permission, and they are acting together in seeing to it that the Republican state "machine" at Springfield "does not defeat the permissive legislation desired." Testimony from sections of the country where this new form of government is being tested more generally and thoroughly than it has been in the east is substantially unanimous as to its efficiency in stopping waste and in securing for taxpayers a larger per cent of what they appropriate than has been the custom under the conventional forms.

Literature in the First.

[New York Sun.]

The two brightest geniuses of the First ward of Chicago can afford to despise, and undoubtedly do despise, the coarse advertising scheme attributed to them by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, a political, poetical, and personal rival:

> Unless he is restrained by an order of court Ald. John J. Coughlin is going to publish a book of his poems. The title may be "Ballads of the Bathhouse."
>
> This is in fulfillment of a threat made by the poet laureate of the city council five years ago. The book will be dedicated to his colleague, Ald. Michael Kenna.
> Kenna declared last night that if Coughlin dared to do any dedicating to him he would sue him for slander and libel.

The Hon. Hinky Dink and the Hon. Bathhouse John appreciate each other. Mr. Dink fully understands all games and is passionately devoted to literature. And what soul open to the highest radiances of song will not sit and sing herself away over lines like these:

> O lower berth, to thee I sing,
> Your downy couch is fit for king.
> In Morpheus' arms I slumber deep;
> The train rolls on while I'm asleep.

Simple and perfect lay! Once more Chicago is the capital of American literature; Indianapolis and North Carolina hide their shame flushed faces.

Newspapers and English.

[Oshkosh Northwestern.]

The Evening Wisconsin comments good naturedly on the Northwestern's article concerning the English used by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, but it falls into a singular error. It seems to think that the Northwestern has no right to criticise THE TRIBUNE until its own columns are absolutely perfect and above criticism.

Such a position is close to the ridiculous. In the first place THE TRIBUNE stands confessedly as one of the great papers of the United States, if not the greatest, and a criticism of its columns is perfectly legitimate as having a tendency to elevate the standard of newspaper work in the whole country. THE TRIBUNE is so nearly perfect in its several departments that it may well be taken as a model.

The Northwestern realizes, perhaps, better than any one else, the imperfections of its own columns.

Goethe said: "A man's errors are what makes him amiable," and some one else has said: "From the errors of others a wise man corrects his own," while one of the poets wrote:

"The best may slip and the most cautious fall,
He's more than mortal that ne'er err'd at all."

Bryan on Party Issue.

[The Commoner.]

Mr. Bryan is trying to secure harmony in the only way in which harmony can be secured—namely: by securing united action on a definite policy. If the advocates of a tariff on lumber, iron ore, wool, etc., can convert the whole party let them do so, and we will then have harmony, but must the rest of us keep quiet while they work?

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR ON TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM

The city is filled with unrest.
Knowledge is power.
In union there is strength.
Where are the leaders?

The above sentences are quoted from your editorial of today. Before telling you what I think I will quote another paragraph:

"Thus, there is a vast unfocused protest against conditions which damn us in our own eyes and humiliate us before outside observers. A crying need exists for concert of action. The disunited civic bodies fritter away their energy because they have no common means for coöperation and concentration of effort."

In replying to your editorial, and practically announcing myself as candidate for mayor, some people may criticise me and say I have a wonderful amount of nerve. I want to say the nerve comes from the fact that I have thousands upon thousands of friends in Chicago who are urging me on to become a candidate, so please remember it is not all my own personal nerve.

In my opinion the platform upon which to elect our next mayor should be for a city to be ruled by the people, a "greater and better Chicago." As your mayor I should want advice, would ask for it in this way: Give me an advisory "better Chicago" committee, made up of men from the business world, known for their honesty, ability, and integrity. I would want that committee to help me to make the selection of the men to be appointed as the heads of the various departments in the city hall; also, last but not least, to advise with me at all times on affairs of vital importance to present and future "better Chicago."

My idea of how this advisory committee should be appointed is this: Committee to consist of five men, one to be named by the board of directors of the Association of Commerce, an organization having a membership of over 3,000 of our leading business men; included in their membership are men from all of the leading political parties, and the man they select must not be a prominent politician.

I would ask the directors of the Commercial club to furnish a representative on same committee. I would ask the Chicago Federation of Labor to name a man for this committee. I would ask the leading city English newspapers to name their man for this advisory work. I would ask that a selection be made by our city foreign newspapers, he to serve Chicago on this committee. Not one of the five men selected can be prominent in politics. My reason for this: If I am elected by the Republican party I will be their loyal representative, but at the same time I must be loyal to Chicago. Loyalty means with me an honest, clean, and able administration. At all times I will bear in mind that I was elected by the Republican party, so to you Republicans I say, have no fear of ingratitude, but remember this—it matters not how much influence you have as a politician, don't ask me to confer favors on that account unless the favor you want is for an honest man or for an honest purpose and for the good of Chicago. When it is for the good of Chicago it is in the end for the good of your own party.

Letting of contracts—All contracts of any great account to be let by the city of Chicago then would have to be passed on by this "advisory committee," with the assistance of myself as your mayor, and the head of the special department letting the contract.

I promise the people of Chicago, if I am elected mayor, not to allow any one man as the head of any department the right to sign any contract of importance without first submitting same to the advisory committee and to me. I will see that there will be no chance for scandal such as we have read about in our daily press for years and years past. My proposition makes the press in a great measure responsible for the future of Chicago. Honest publicity through the press promotes honesty. Take away the power of the press for good, every large city would become a hell on earth, our prisons would not begin to hold the convicts drawn from the ranks of men known as being respectable.

A man when he is appointed to a position of great trust as head of any one of our city departments may be thoroughly honest at the time of his appointment. Afterwards he may not be able to resist temptation; for that reason no one man should be trusted to sign any important contract on his own judgment. History has proved it. It is easier to keep seven honest men honest than to keep one honest man honest. Your committee representing the people and the press would number five; the head of any department and the mayor would make up your seven honest men. I would reserve the right to ask for the resignation of any committeeman appointed and request that a new representative from his body of men be named in his stead. My reason for this is, if I found any one committeeman seemingly studying the interests of any corporation, man, or body of men more than he ought, and not taking the interest he should as a member of that committee, it would be my duty to Chicago to ask him to step aside.

Now a word to the leaders of the Republican party, known as the "machine"—and I will say this, the "machine" is a necessity—you know I have outlined a plan which will solve the problem of good government; I do not take any political power that is for honesty from you. It would be up to you then to assist the advisory committee and your mayor by advising me of the honest men in your party who would be willing to fill positions of trust. If you as the "machine" do not care to adopt this method as suggested, or some plan similar, you prove to the taxpayers and voters of Chicago that you care more for your own personal interests and success than you do for that of the people and of our beloved Chicago, which ought to be the best governed city in the world, because it is bound to be the greatest city in the world. If I am not right, these suggestions, I hope, will "start something." I warned the Republican party through the columns of this paper the January before the past presidential election that Mr. Bryan would make the main issue in his campaign "the guarantee of bank deposits." My warning came true. I now warn the Republican party, for the good of the party. In this coming election for mayor you will need all the good things you can adopt in your platform in order to elect your man. My honest opinion is no politician of any party in Chicago can be elected. Mark you, I said "politician." The party that selects a business man will be the successful one, and to you politicians who are always harping on the honesty of our Republican party, here is a chance for you to adopt as part of your platform a plan whereby you can prove up on your anxiety for an honest city government. I warn you to look out; if you do not indorse somesuch plan as the above, some other party may, and if they do and you don't you will wake up and realize your mistake before the sun goes down election day.

My proposition as suggested would give us a city ruled by representatives of all the people, assisted by all the press, with their powerful influence for publicity and good. It will give Chicago the best form of government ever known in any city. If I am not to be your next mayor, I hope that, whoever he may be, he will pledge himself to live up to a platform similar to this. Now, you thinking and influential men and voters of Chicago, get busy and do some reflecting on the line of these suggestions.

The foregoing suggestions will be my platform, and I pledge myself to bring the same about in case you should see fit to honor me by making me your mayor. I ask you, would I not be the people's mayor?

Trip Up Long Unexplored River Ends Without Disaster to the Voyagers.

Fifty-first Installment of a Diary of a 47,000 Mile Journey.

BY GEORGE A. DORSEY, PH. D., LL. D.

[Copyright: 1909: By Tribune Company.]

Tuesday—No mosquitoes last night, and a fine, cool breeze, which made a blanket necessary. Indeed, I think I have slept under a blanket every night since I have been in New Guinea. We left our anchorage at sunrise and, after two hours' steaming, anchored in the middle of the river in front of the village of Olim, where the captain and Mr. Heine went ashore to get boys. They returned in a half hour empty handed. In the meantime I had a busy half hour on the Siar, trading with the men who had come out in their long, fine canoes. They were keen for knives and small axes, and I got some wonderfully beautiful feathered spears. The skill of these men in handling their canoes is most remarkable; they all stand up and apparently are going to topple over every second, but they dart back and forth with wonderful rapidity. They are by far the most skillful canoe men I ever have seen.

At 9 o'clock, ninety-five miles from the mouth of the Kaiserin Augusta river, we continue on up. Low, flat, and much treeless country prevails. At 10:30 o'clock we anchor off the big village of Magem, which we could see afar off, for it is at one end of a mighty turn in the big river. Evidently they were prepared for us, for within ten minutes after we anchored, our boat was fairly surrounded by canoes with men eager to trade feathered spears, carvings, pottery, etc., for knives. But I was not allowed to trade for fear it would interfere with recruiting. Mr. Heine and I at once went ashore to see if we could buy a boy.

Magem is the largest and most interesting village I have seen on the river. The bank here is a real bank, ten feet high. The sixteen houses are strung along for half a mile in the midst of cocoa and areca palms and banana, papaya, and bread fruit trees. We were greeted by a big crowd of lusty men, with close cropped hair, and of a darker and heavier type than those down the river. The men wore only a narrow girdle with a black fringe or skin apron two inches in width. A few of them were naked.

Voyage Explained to Natives.

Mr. Heine and I were at once presented with a leaf of tobacco and a beautifully feathered spear and were besought to trade for all sorts of things, which we declined. Finally the excited crowd grew quiet and we sat down on a long upturned canoe and in pidgin English talked to a lad from the coast who put our words into the language of our "pilot," who in turn told the people why a boat had ascended the river for the first time in twenty years.

While Mr. Heine spread his wares and eloquence for a boy, I looked about the village. The house in front of which we were, and which is typical, was about eighty feet long, with crescent-shaped roof, high overhanging gables and closed ends, and on piles about fifteen feet high.

The entrance is by a notched stick ladder, leading directly into the house from beneath, there being no veranda and no sign of opening in front. To be sure one section of the palm leaf end is movable and from behind that peered the eyes of the women or children, but of them we could see nothing but eyes, and no woman or child did we see during the whole day, though I saw for a moment the face of a girl; a chain of black fiber rings hung from her nose.

Everybody stared at us, for to the majority of these people, perhaps nearly all, we were the first whites they had ever seen. One old chap rubbed his fingers over my bare arm to see if the white would come off. My eye glasses were objects of great interest, as were our shoes, and as I opened my camera the crowd in front of me melted away, for our visit was not understood and they were afraid of us. We were armed and had two police boys with rifles.

Canoes Finest of Kind.

Under the houses and along the beach were dugout canoes, the finest I ever have seen, the prow of each being splendidly carved, though the type of canoe was the same as we had become accustomed to on the river, but these were bolder, more graceful, more beautiful. One grand canoe had a prow in the form of a great bird, and behind this a realistic pristis (sawfish), but the majority of the carved prows were realistic heads of alligators. Many fish traps were in sight, and pigs and fine chickens were abundant, canoes were being built, two houses were in course of erection, and in every respect the village showed signs of a healthy, active life. The coast culture is here changing into a different one. Even the physical nature of the people seemed different—more of a negroid character.

I entered the Tambaran house, going up steps made of wornout drums resting on inclined poles and held in place by stakes in the ground, the ascent being steep and the steps far apart. The climb was rendered easier by a hand polished rattan cane which was fastened inside the house, the other end reaching the ground. Within were several great, splendid drums, with finely carved sides and projecting ends, which were carved in realistic animal form; a man, alligators, turtles, and a splendid boar's head were some of the forms I noticed. Among the drums I noticed a new type, one end terminating not in a projecting carved figure, but being rounded.

Leaning against one of the uprights were fine old carved figures, and in front of them were decorated skulls. Suspended from the walls and wrapped in big palm leaves were the carvings or totems of individuals; about the floor were carved stools of rounded form and wood pillows carved in conventionalized animal forms, generally the alligators. At each end of the house in a corner was a fireplace. This was four feet square, a hole being cut in the floor of sago palm and a platform suspended six inches below the level of the floor, the fire being on an ash bed; thus, should the firepan ignite it could be cut loose. Fastened to the roof were innumerable spears.

Young Men a Scared Lot.

This was an interesting village indeed, but of the greatest interest were the scared men, especially the younger men and boys. A few of the old did not wear cropped hair, but let it hang in little ringlets three inches long. Through the septum of the nose they wear a short but large tubular plug, so short the plugs could not be seen but so large they gave their already flattish noses a snubby appearance.

Yes, they wanted steel, but they did not want to give up a boy. As Mr. Heine grew in eloquence his audience diminished in size and after an hour's harangue had dwindled to a few old men. The boys had entirely disappeared and so we returned to our Siar for luncheon. I was keen to stay and trade, but Heine objected, fearing I would spoil the chance to get boys, that if they got iron they would be satisfied.

At 2 o'clock we returned to the village, the captain, first officer, Mr. Heine, and I. No crowd greeted us; only a few old fellows, who conducted us to an open shelter on the river bank, where we were given seats (stools). Palaver went on for twenty minutes, and it became certain that no recruits were to be obtained, though we pleaded for only one or two boys and promised to return them in two months and not ask them to work. But all in vain.

Fast Time in Trading.

Permission for me to collect could be withheld no longer, and I got busy, the busiest thirty minutes I ever spent in my life, though I have done some strenuous collecting in the last seven weeks. During this time I made eighty-six individual purchases, my most prized possessions being several wonderfully decorated and carved skulls.

This village represents, perhaps, the third of three grades of condition of culture I have encountered in New Guinea. The first is represented in Potsdam Hafen; there they were fairly well supplied with beads, knives, axes, etc., but they have to pay taxes and they know the purchasing power of the mark, and their frequent request was "Me likem moaney." The first village we encountered down the river represents the second; they have a few knives and axes; they are ready for beads and calico.

But these Magem people, well, they have had just enough experience of steel knives and axes to know the superiority of such tools over their own of stone and shell. They wanted steel and wanted it badly, especially small axes. Their contempt for beads, fish hooks, fish lines, looking glasses, and, especially, calico was simply superb. One could not give away calico, and as for tobacco, they have tobacco to sell, besides they roll their own cigarets and do not know the pipe, and our "negro-head twist" is a pipe tobacco. I got some really fine material and would have got more, had just got started, in fact, but the captain felt that his time was up, to my infinite regret, and so at 4 o'clock we returned to the Siar, weighed anchor at once and headed down the river at full speed, the current now aiding us greatly.

Forced to Turn Backward.

We had traversed 110 miles of this noble river. Two days more, or perhaps one, would have brought us into a new country, in among the mountains. Both the captain and Mr. Heine expressed great desire to penetrate farther into the interior, but the time had come for the Siar to return to the home port to prepare for its regular trip to the Huon gulf region. I would give much for one or two days more, but as it is I have had a most wonderful and a really beautiful trip—a coast rarely visited and a river never but once before seen by white men.

Wednesday—We had our first really glorious sunrise this morning, for while we have been favored by almost uniformly fair weather, it has never been really clear, the moisture in the air, both on the river and on the coast, generally preventing really fine far away views. But this morning the big star burned grandly in the east above the river, and gave way finally to the most beautiful and delicate tints, lighting up the far distant filmy clouds, all like the gold and blue and azure of the glorious birds of paradise of this paradise of birds. As we entered the island region of the river we had a splendid view of the distant mountains far away to the south, rising grandly in a mighty blue wall.

At 9 o'clock we anchored off Bin, the village we passed by on our way up owing to the rain. We went ashore and found a little cluster of a half dozen houses standing in a corner formed by the river and a thread of a canal in which their canoes are moored, of the same type as lower down the river and as the village just above. As our "pilots" had come from the sago camp just below, and as they now have confidence in our peaceful intentions, the captain had no difficulty in securing a boy; at once he was off to the Siar with him in the gig.

Volcanoes Add to Beauty.

Mr. Heine and I remained, having the whaleboat. I at once began to trade and supposed I would have an hour or so, but no sooner had the captain gone aboard than he blew the whistle and Mr. Heine and I had to return to our ship. But even in ten minutes I got over forty interesting specimens, including two carved drums and many beautiful headdresses of birds of paradise, the only ones I had seen.

At 10 o'clock we were off down the river again at full speed. A little below Bin we put ashore our two old "pilots," who now rejoiced in white cotton suits, several blue bead necklaces, and an ax each.

At 11:30 we could see two of the Schouten islands, their fine blue heads rising above the lowland forests between us and the shore line. A little after 1 o'clock we entered the last reach of the river and its widening mouth emptied into the sea beyond, up out of which, opposite the center of the river's mouth, rose the graceful cone of the active volcano Lesson, smoking at the top, with nearly barren walls. As we entered farther into the river's mouth we could see to the left Blossville and down the coast to the south the majestic volcano, Vulcan, its head buried as under a gigantic cap in white clouds and its own smoke. The muddy water of the river extended far out beyond Lesson and as we turned east to go down the coast we could see and finally passed out of the muddy river water into the blue, clean sea, the demarcation between the two waters being as sharp and clear cut as between a dirty yellow and a clear blue. Where one color ended the other began at once, and this distinction could be made out far into the sea, as far as the eye could reach.

Police Asked to Search for Kate Coleman, Who Lived with Mrs. Josephine Broman.

Mrs. Josephine Broman has asked the police of the Englewood station to search for Kate Coleman, 23 years old, who disappeared from the Broman house, 6626 May street, ten weeks ago, leaving behind a 5 week old baby. Mrs. Broman has cared for the baby since its mother's strange disappearance. She will turn the infant over to some foundling home soon unless she hears from the mother, who was employed in a restaurant.

IN THE SOCIETY WORLD.

It is highly probable that the Children's Memorial hospital will be made the beneficiary at one of the largest of the charity events of the winter. Rumors of "an entertainment which will outclass all previous benefits," to quote an interested woman, have been afloat since the middle of last summer, but the women who have had the planning have been out of the city and nothing definite has been attempted. More recently a temporary committee has been formed, with Mrs. Edmund Burke as chairman. Mrs. Burke is now out of the city, but she will return on Monday next, when the report of her committee will be acted upon. Friends of the hospital declare some kind of an entertainment will be given for the institution during the winter, but the magnitude of the affair will depend upon the decision of the committee on Monday.

In the meantime, Evanston announces a charity ball for Dec. 28, to be given at the Country club at Evanston for the benefit of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society—an institution located at 826 Ridge avenue.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Phoebe McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hall McCormick, 660 Rush street, and Walter Ayer, son of Mrs. Benjamin F. Ayer, 22 East Goethe street. Mr. and Mrs. McCormick have spent the summer in Bar Harbor, their daughters, the Misses Elsie, Phoebe and Mildred, having taken a house in Lake Forest in preference to going east. Miss Phoebe McCormick left last week to join her parents, who have gone on to New York.

The wedding, which will be one of much interest in the north side circles—both young people bearing old Chicago names—will take place some time this fall, although the exact date will not be announced until the return of Mr. and Mrs. McCormick and Miss McCormick from the east. No definite time for the opening of the Rush street house has been chosen by the family.

Mr. Ayer is now in Wisconsin, where the family has spent the summer. He is a brother of Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank and of Miss Margaret Ayer, whose engagement to Cecil Barnes was a recent announcement.

A wedding of interest which is nearing celebration and which has not yet reached the public's eye is that of Miss Anne Murdock Warren, daughter of Mrs. Robert Warren of Groveland Park, to Allan Burgin of New York City. The service will be a quiet home wedding, at 8 o'clock, on the evening of Oct. 14. Miss Gwendolyn Darling of Toronto, Canada, a cousin of the bride, will be the only attendant of the bride, and Henry Roff-Lewin, of New York will be the best man. This will be the second wedding in the family of Mrs. Warren during the year, her daughter, Miss Gladys Warren, having married John E. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wells, last February. Mr. and Mrs. Wells, who now live in Alberta, Canada, have come on for the wedding of their sister, and are the guests of Mr. Wells' parents at their residence, 4733 Vincennes avenue.

Chicagoans will find interest in the announcement made by Mrs. M. M. Rothschild of the marriage of her daughter Irma, to G. W. Bowers Bartlett of England. The service took place in London yesterday, after a betrothal covering a period of two years. The future residence will be in England.

Announcement of the marriage of Walter L. Campian and Miss Bessie Douglass, daughter of T. J. Douglass, 4107 Southport avenue, Rogers Park, has been made. The couple were married last Wednesday morning by the Rev. P. A. McLaughlin in St. Jerome's church in Rogers Park, and left that evening for Spokane, Washington, where they will live.

Mrs. A. O. Mason will give a reception and musical at her country residence, Comely Bank, Highland Park, this afternoon, for her daughter, Miss Marion Mason, and her friend, Miss Daphne Crane of Boston. Miss Mason will be assisted by Miss Bessie Smith, Miss Aline Snow, Miss Margaret Atwater, Miss Priscilla Carver, Miss Helen Messinger and Miss Eva Egan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lincoln Wean, of Highland Park, spent the week end at their summer place, Oakcliff, on White Lake, Mich. On Friday next Mrs. Wean will entertain a luncheon party at the Woman's Athletic club, and she also will be one of the hostesses on the following Tuesday at the opening of the gymnasium.

Mrs. Leroy Woodland, 5215 Cornell avenue, will give a bridge whist on Friday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Elsie Elmore of Astoria, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Douglass, of Evanston, will introduce their sister, Miss Helen Douglass, on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 13.

Mrs. G. Douglas Rankin, and her small daughter and son, of Hartford, Conn., are the guests of Mrs. Rankin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. Hallberg, 1407 Ridge avenue, Evanston.

Mrs. Frank M. McKey and son have returned to their residence, 1449 East Fiftieth street, having spent the summer at White Lake, Mich. Mrs. E. B. McKey, who also spends the summer at White Lake, has taken the house at 5470 Everett avenue, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Will M. Hight, 934 Lakeside place, have left for Louisville, to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown of that city.

Miss Anna Lynch, who has been in the east during the summer, has returned to the Studio building.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The engagement is announced today of Miss Jeanne, sister of Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, first secretary of the American embassy in Paris, to Viscount Perrot de Chasselle, who was formerly ordnance officer to the duke d'Aumale and excaptain in the French army.

FERNANDA WANAMAKER A BRIDE

Granddaughter of Philadelphia Merchant Weds Count Arthur de Heeren in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Miss Fernanda Wanamaker, daughter of Rodman Wanamaker and granddaughter of John Wanamaker, was married this afternoon to Count Arthur de Heeren, son of Count Heeren of Paris and Biarritz. The wedding took place in the presence of a distinguished and fashionable audience.

There were two ceremonies. The first was carried out in the Catholic church of St. Philippe du Roule, with full orchestral accompaniment. This was followed by a Protestant marriage service at the home of the bride in the Avenue des Champs Elysées, where the Rev. Alfred G. Mortimer of Philadelphia officiated. Henry White, the American ambassador, and the marquis del Muni, the Spanish ambassador, acted as witnesses.

After their honeymoon, which will be passed in Italy, the newly married couple will take up their abode in Paris.

Ambassador White said he was glad to be a witness at such a charming marriage. He was pleased to attend the service at the Catholic church, because the vatican, in contradiction to what had occurred at the time of his daughter's marriage, had agreed to the Protestant ceremony, which followed. Mr. White said further he had determined never to attend an American wedding where his countryman's religion, whatever it might be, was ignored.

It will be recalled when Mr. White's daughter, Muriel, was married last April to Count Scherr-Thoss at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, the ambassador refused to attend the ceremony because Cardinal Kopp, bishop of Breslau, refused to grant a dispensation for the mixed marriage, except on condition that the bridegroom refrain from attending any other religious ceremony. Mr. White gave his consent to the wedding, but as a protest against the action of the church authorities refused to attend the services.

PULL HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW'S NOSE? NO! JAILED AS THIEF.

Called to Account for Separation from Wife, W. E. Boughton Denies Attack on Her Mother.

Walter E. Boughton, 28 years old, was arraigned before Judge Fake yesterday, accused of pulling his mother-in-law's nose, knocking out one of her false teeth, and stealing small articles from the Wells-Fargo company.

He pleaded guilty to the thefts, was sentenced to six months in the house of correction for that, but denied the nose pulling episode. That phase of the case was continued until today.

Boughton, who had been separated from his wife for several years, was summoned to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rosetta E Howe, 921 Washington boulevard, relative to the separation. An argument arose. It was then that Boughton is said to have pulled Mrs. Howe's nose with one hand, while he struck her a blow in the mouth with the other, knocking out a false tooth.

$5,000 JEWELS FOUND AS POLICE ARE TOLD OF LOSS.

Servant Telephones Station While Miss Anna C. Larsen of Drexel Boulevard Is Describing Her Gems.

For several hours yesterday Miss Anna C. Larsen, 5005 Drexel boulevard, proprietor of a south side millinery store at 4651 Grand boulevard, believed that she had lost or that some one had stolen from her a purse containing $5,000 worth of diamonds.

While Miss Larsen was giving the police of the Fiftieth street station a list of the gems a servant at her home telephoned the desk sergeant that the jewelry had been found.

Just how the jewelry was lost could not be learned. Miss Larsen feared that she had left it in a taxicab. She declared that she suspected no one of stealing the gems.

Quits Pulpit to Be Physician.

The Rev. A. F. Benson, pastor of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church of Melrose Park for the last three years, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday evening, after which he will devote his time to the study of medicine. The Rev. Inar Larson of Evanston will succeed Dr. Benson.

Chicago at St. Louis [two games]. Pittsburg at Cincinnati. Boston at Brookelyn.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Ripping Frock up and down the seams and tearing him from sleeve to sleeve, the Cubs yesterday took their last regular home game of the season from Pittsburg in the eighth inning, 8 to 2.

The eight runs scored by the dying champs were all made in this one round, after the pennant winners had collected a lead of two in their first try. The performance of the Cublets in this inning hardly could be called a rally. Rather it should be known as a burst of wrath. For seven sessions they had been trying in vain to show up Mr. Frock and his round house curve, his fast ball that would have bounded off a pane of glass, and his prayer. Mordecai Brown, who had worked well enough to deserve a shutout victory, had been unfortunate enough to let the Pirates slip over a couple of tallies after the side should have been retired runless.

Desperately the three times National league champions and second place record breakers came to bat in the eighth, and proceeded to show Frock what they really thought of him. The game practically was busted up by Old Wildfire Schulte, who uncorked a terrific triple with two of the home boys on bases. Of course, Wildfire's drive tied it up, and when he scored a moment later on a single by Fred Luderus the bugs were satisfied to settle in their seats, see the balance of the side go out, and watch the futile efforts of the Pittsburgers to tie it up again.

Cubs Hungry as Wolves.

But the Cubs were still hungry. Luderus' safe poke was followed by Miller's fumble, a hit batsman, a wild throw by Abstein and three singles. Frock needed cleaning and pressing when it was all over. He will have time to be smoothed [illegible] before next spring, when he probably will pitch again.

Fred Clarke kindly consented to let us see most of his regulars in action for the last time this season. The Big Smoke, H. Wagner, was the only [illegible] allowed to take a rest. Hackenschmidt Gibson [illegible] back on the catching job after a long vacation [illegible] one day. Edward Abbaticchio was in Wagner's [illegible] and did as much defensively as Honus could [illegible] done, although the mighty one might have hit [illegible].

[illegible] battle was witnessed by representatives of [illegible] every league under protection. The White [illegible] were out in large numbers to get a line on the strength of their coming opponents. They saw Brownie pitching as well as he usually does and the rest of the club looking just as strong as when it played them for the world's title three years ago.

Dying Champs Lose Chance.

The opposing forces had almost equally good chances to score in the first inning. The Pirates took advantage of their opening, and the Cubs did not. Byrne waited for four balls. Leach bunted to Luderus, and the youngster fumbled until every one was safe. Byrne stole third unexpectedly, and, a moment later, Leach thieved second. Clarke then fouled to Zimmerman, and Abby fanned. The side should have been out by this time, for Byrne was wandering far off third when Leach was doing his stealing, and the chances are Pat's throw would have caught him if Zimmerman had been able to hold the ball. Miller cracked a double down the right foul line, Byrne and Leach counting. Abstein ended it with a pop to Evers.

Evers walked at the start of the Cubs' opener. Instead of bunting Sheckard doubled to right, Johnny getting no farther than third because he tripped and fell in rounding second. Schulte bounded to Abstein, and Evers was caught between the plate and third. Luderus then fanned, and Zim grounded to Miller.

Brown Downs Them in Order.

The next best bet of the Pirates was the third, which Byrne opened by going out. Leach singled and waited until Clarke had flied to Sheckard. Then he chased to third on Abby's safe one to center. Miller was good enough to fly out. In five of the remaining six innings Brown cut them down in order.

The Cub third was started with Evers' drive to left. Sheckard forced Johnny and Schulte's single put James at second. Luderus forced Schulte and Zimmerman was easy. There wasn't another opening until the big eighth. Brown beat out a roller to Abby. Archer was put on to run for him. Evers was hit by a pitched ball and Sheckard sacrificed. At this point Schulte approached and pickled one between Leach and Wilson to the right field bleacher. He hastened around to third, while Johnny and Archer scored. Luderus singled, tallying Wildfire. Miller booted Zimmerman's grounder and Hofman delivered a single to right middle, scoring Luderus. Tinker stung to left, scoring Zim. Moran was hit in the back by a pitched ball, filling them up. Brown's roller to Frock resulted in Hofman's death at the plate. Evers hit to Abstein, who pegged badly to second, every one moving up and Tinker crossing the plate. Sheckard poled one to right and Moran and Brown crossed the rubber. Schulte mercifully popped out. Score:

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

The Cubs left for St. Louis last night, the Pirates for Cincinnati.

The Pirates won the season's series from the Cubs by a count of 13 games to 9.

Evers muffed Abby's fly in the sixth after a long chase into right field. Schulte could have caught it easily in all probability.

Doc Semmens will act as secretary on the St. Louis trip. Charley Williams remained here to make ready for the city series.

The Pirates and Tigers are considering an offer to play a game or two at St. Louis for the benefit of the Missouri bugs after the world's series is over.

Manager Jakey Atz of the Sox barnstormers is booking dates for his club every day. The team [illegible] busy for fully two weeks after the city series.

Manager Chance took his regulars to Missouri for the windup, probably figuring it will be better for them to work right up to the finish if they can't have a respectable rest.

Manager Sullivan and his wife and son Stanley, Doc White, Jake Atz, Frank Isbell, Fred Parent, Davy Altizer, Fred Olmstead, Harry Sutor, and Ed Walsh were among the Sox present.

After Brown had singled in the fifth, Archer was put on to run for him. Evers hit to Abby, who fumbled and then kicked the ball right into the hands of Miller, who was covering second. Jocko got it in time to force Archer.

PHILLIES LOSE AND FORFEIT

Giants Win First Game, 6 to 5; Given Second, 9 to 0.

QUAKERS DRAW $1,000 FINE.

Visitors Hissed and Mullen, New Umpire, Cheered by the Fans.

New York, Oct. 4.—The National League championship season in New York ended today under unfortunate circumstances, Philadelphia forfeiting the second game to the locals.

The first contest was won by the home team, 6 to 5, and in the second the score in the fourth inning was 1 to 1, when Pitcher Moren objected to a ball that had been called on Wilson. Mullen, a new umpire, put Moren out of the game and also ejected Knabe and Doolan. The latter two players refused to leave the field, and after waiting for Manager Murray to provide substitutes for them Umpire Mullen awarded the game to New York, 9 to 0.

The refusal of the Philadelphia team to resume play on Mullen's orders carries with it a fine of $1,000.

The spectators sided with the referee and he was cheered when he left the field. The Philadelphia players were hissed. New York won the first contest in the ninth inning. Doyle tied the score with a double in this round and made the winning run when McCormick singled past first. Score:

DODGERS WIN AND LOSE.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Boston and Brooklyn divided a double header today, the visitors winning the first game, 4 to 2, and the locals the second, 3 to 1. Both contests were decided through the effectiveness of the pitchers. Curtis let Brooklyn down with four hits in the first game, while in the second Dent allowed Boston six safeties. Scores:

Commission Issues Bulletin.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 4.—A supplemental bulletin was given out by the National Baseball Commission today ordering that the division of gate receipts in the post season games between the New York Nationals and Boston Americans be upon the same basis as the division in the world's championship series. The ruling was made at the joint request of John T. Brush, of New York, and John I. Taylor of Boston.

Allen Heads Texas League.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the Texas league President Allen was reëlected, and the same circuit was adopted for 1910.

FORBES FIELD IS SOLD OUT

Pirate Fans Buy All Reserved Space for World's Series.

BUILDING 8,000 NEW SEATS.

Capacity of Park Will Be Increased; $100,000 Goes Back to Senders.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—The National baseball commission, having charge of the sale of seats for the world's series games here between Pittsburg and Detroit, announced today that the public sale of reserved seats advertised for Wednesday had been called off owing to the fact that no tickets were left for either of the games of Friday or Saturday.

The mail order sale of reserved seats has been unprecedented, the 18,514 tickets for each game at Forbes field having been all sold, and the announcement was made by an official of the Pittsburg baseball club that $100,000 worth of orders for seats for the first two games have been returned with a notice that no reserved seats were left. The local club refused to accept its mail at the postoffice after Saturday morning, and all letters arriving after that time were returned to the senders.

Will Need Police Protection.

There still remain 12,000 bleacher and standing room tickets that will be put on sale each day of the games, and from present indications police reserves will be necessary to control the crowd of people who were disappointed at not getting reserved seats.

The officials of the Pittsburg baseball club are not taking any chances on all not being accommodated with the present seating capacity of Forbes field, the largest baseball park in the world, and extra seats are being built around the grounds, thus preventing ground rules. Eight thousand seats are being placed in right and left field. With those standing all baseball records are expected to be broken during the games here.

With the arrangements for tickets of admission to the world's championship series between the Tigers and the Pirates, the army of baseball fans, here and abroad, have turned their attention to backing, with their money, their favorite in the great struggle. It is estimated that within two days over $200,000 has been wagered, with the great bulk of betting to be done as the time of the games draws nearer.

Detroit Money Pours In.

Great bunches of money from Detroit are pouring into town and are being snapped up by local plungers as fast as they arrive. The betting is about even, although many bets offering odds of 10 to 7 and 10 to 8 have been registered. Careful plungers, however, consider the chance an even one and are holding out for even money.

It was learned here that Donovan will likely pitch the opening game. Camnitz was out today for the first time after his attack of quinsy. He says he is all right, but he doesn't look it. Adams or Willis will likely pitch the first game. This selection is taken to mean that Ty Cobb will be at a disadvantage, for Cobb is not successful with a drop ball, and both pitchers handle this brand to a nicety.

Heavy wagers have been made that Wagner will outbat Cobb. Even money is the figure on this bet. Gibson will do all the catching for the Pirates, and there is betting that fewer bases will be stolen on him than on either Schmidt or Stanage of Detroit.

NAPS TO GO TO PASS CHRISTIAN.

Work Will Be Started on Training Grounds in South This Week—Must Be Ready Jan. 1.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—According to Bobby Bilks, the old time Southern leaguer and lately manager of clubs in the Texas and Carolina leagues, work will be started on the training grounds secured for the Cleveland club at Pass Christian this week. The grounds are due to be in first class shape by Jan. 1 at the latest, and it is certain that McGuire and his men will start south a month earlier than usual.

Murphy Writes to Commission.

President Murphy of the Cubs yesterday sent a supplemental letter to the national commission asking that some action be taken in the case of Pitcher Pfeffer, for the alleged tampering with whom the Chicago club was fined $500. Murphy asks that Pfeffer be vindicated of the implied charge of "laying down" on the Toronto club after the telegram which brought about the fine was sent to him.

Badgers Again Lose to Keio.

TOKIO, Oct. 4.—The University of Wisconsin baseball team lost a chance to tie Keio university's nine today when the visitors went down to defeat in the fourth game of the series, three of which have been won by the Japanese. One run, as in all the other games, decided the game in favor of Keio, 5 to 4. Eight Japanese reached first to seven Wisconsin men, while the six errors were evenly divided.

WEST ABSENT IN A. A. U. MEET

Indoor Games Contest Between N. Y. A. C. and I. A. A. C.

RECORDS NEVER IN DANGER.

Athletes Hardly Prepared for Early Opening of Winter Season.

New York, Oct. 4.—Robbed of sectional interest by the absence of western athletes, the fall indoor games of the A. A. U., held at Madison Square garden tonight, developed into a contest between the New York Athletic club and the Irish-American Athletic club.

Perhaps because the games were held so early in the season, before the contestants had become accustomed to indoor work, the performances on the whole were mediocre, although a few stirring finishes occurred in the dashes. No noteworthy time was recorded.

At the end of tonight's twelve events the Irish-American A. C. led with 41 points and the N. Y. A. C. was second with 33. The program will be completed tomorrow night. Summaries:

High jump—Won by H. F. Porter, I. A. A. C., 6 ft. 2¼ in.; E. Erickson, Mott Haven A. C., second, 5 ft. 11 in.; H. J. Grumpell, N. Y. A. C., third, 5 ft. 10 in.

WATKINS CALLED AS WITNESS.

Indianapolis Magnate Testifies in Case in Which State Seeks to Convict Manager for Playing Sunday.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—W. H. Watkins, owner of the Indianapolis club of the American association, was called as a witness today in the trial of the club's manager, Charles Carr, charged with playing professional baseball on Sunday. The state purposed to show by Watkins' testimony that Carr made his living by playing ball. He said that Carr received $6,500 for managing the Indianapolis club during the season just closed. The state is seeking to convict Carr before a jury, although the last legislature passed a law excepting playing baseball on Sunday from the list of unlawful Sunday vocations. It is held by the state's attorneys that the new law is unconstitutional.

CHANGE IS MADE IN LOCAL SERIES

First Four Dates Will Be Fixed Dates, Starting Friday on West Side.

SEATS ARE NOW ON SALE.

Good Demand for Cubs-Sox Tickets; Sullivans to Play Rogers Park Two Games.

Secretary E. S. Barnard of the Cleveland American league club, who will represent the national commission at the coming series between the Cubs and White Sox, arrived in Chicago yesterday to talk things over with Owners Murphy and Comiskey.

One important change was made in the arrangement for the series after a conference in which the two magnates and Mr. Barnard took part. The first four dates of the series will be fixed dates—that is, the contest scheduled for the south side on Saturday will be played there on Saturday whether it rains Friday or not. Of course if it rains Saturday the same rule will be effective and the game scheduled for Sunday on the west side will be played there on Sunday.

The former arrangement provided that the opening game should be played on the west side, regardless of weather conditions. If rain interfered on Friday, it was to have been played on the Cubs' grounds on Saturday. Secretary Barnard figured that this would cause a mixup in the tickets if the weather did happen to force a change in the schedule.

Advance Tickets for Four Games.

Under the new plan, if Friday's west side game is postponed, tickets for it will be good on the west side Tuesday. If Saturday's south side game is called off, holders of tickets will have them honored on the south side on Tuesday. Tickets will be sold in advance for the first four games only. Secretary Barnard has been invested with authority to make any changes in the plans he thinks will benefit the public or the clubs. The seat sale for Friday's game opened on the west side yesterday and there was a good demand for tickets.

The Sox practiced yesterday morning and their two games with the Rogers Parks should keep them on edge for the big doings. The Cubs will return from St. Louis tomorrow night. Both clubs will rest on Thursday, and Friday will find them at the west side park ready for the opening.

Sox Play Rogers Park.

The Sox will play an exhibition game with Jimmy Ryan's Rogers Parks on the south side grounds this afternoon. Reggy, the tall semi-pro twirler who lost a ten inning no hit game on Sunday and who has been puzzling his opponents right along, will face the big leaguers. It is likely Harry Sutor will work against him. This game will be the first of a series of two between the two teams. The second battle will take place tomorrow afternoon at Rogers Park. President Comiskey of the Sox announced yesterday that Frank Smith had been heard from and that he surely would be on hand, ready to work against the Cubs in the civil war.

CUBS' CLAIM ON STACK VALID.

National Commission Awards Local Semi-Pro Pitcher Sought by Sox to West Siders.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 4.—Pitcher William Edward Stack, a Chicago semi-pro, concerning whose services a controversy arose between the Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Cubs, has been awarded to the National league club by a decision of the national commission.

Stack formerly was a member of the St. Viateur's college nine and later joined the Joliet semi-pro team, from which he was lifted by Jimmy Callahan for the Logan Squares. After pitching a couple of fast games in the Chicago league he was sought by both Sox and Cubs, and apparently agreed to play with both clubs, Murphy's claim being given priority by the commission. In the opinion of local critics, Stack is not ready for the major leagues owing to his weakness in fielding bunts and failure to hold up runners on the bases. Minor league experience, however, might correct these weaknesses.

BOWLERS GO AT A FAST CLIP.

Breen & Kennedys Average 977 1-3 and Twice Defeat Eagle Teas, Who Roll 1,070 for High.

Chicago league bowlers went after the season's records last night at Brill's alleys, but fell short by two pins in beating the team record of 1,072, set by the Melrose team a few days ago, when Bill Mrosek rolled his 300 game. The Eagle Teas were the high rollers and their 1,070, the second highest of the year, and it saved them from a shutout at the hands of the Breen & Kennedys, who averaged 977 1-3. Kupfer averaged 202 2-3 and Nelson 206 2-3 for the Eagles, while Steers and Schneider led the winners.

The Monroe Bowling league will open its schedule tonight at Bensinger's with games between the national champion Lipmans and Flenners and the Monroes and Blouins. Scores:

STAR VICTOR AT STATE FAIR

Beats Big Field in 2:29 Pace at Springfield Track.

Racer Travels from Lincoln, Neb., in Order to Capture Event.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Star, an unknown quantity to local horsemen, traveled all the way from Lincoln, Neb., to become a star performer today in the opening speed program of the Illinois state fair. The brown gelding had speed to spare, and his best performance was in the second heat, when he traveled a mile in 2:09¼.

Star is owned by H. McKee and was entered in the 2:29 pace, which brought out a field of fourteen starters. The contestants were sent away to a good start in the opening heat and Star easily finished in front. Gertie Ericson was a contender at times. Then came the second heat in which Star proved his worth. Traveling near the pole and guiding a field that was troublesome at times, the gelding took his time until the half, when he used some of his reserve speed and finished eased up in 2:09¼. Summaries:

ALLERTON, 2:09 1-4, IS DYING.

Record Breaker of 1891, Now in Canada, Will Be Shipped to Independence, Ia., to End His Days.

"Allerton, 2:09¼, is dying." Such is the telegram received last week at Independence, Ia., from C. W. Williams, former owner of the old kite shaped track at that place.

It was followed by a letter dated Wilcox, Saskatchewan, Canada, a copy of which was received in Chicago yesterday. The letter stated that Allerton, the horse that made the western town famous by breaking all previous records on Sept. 19, 1891, was in such a critical condition that he can live only a short time.

Mr. Williams' letter reads: "Can it be arranged in some way for Allerton to spend his last days in his old barn at Rush park, and can a small plot of land be purchased a little north and west of the door of that barn, for a burial place for the grand and noble horse that has brought both fame and wealth to Independence and myself.

"There I will have erected a suitable monument to his memory. I also wish him buried in the blanket and hood presented to him many years ago by the people of Independence."

Mr. Williams' request has been complied with, and as soon as Allerton is in condition to be shipped his old stall will be ready ot receive him. A delegation of prominent citizens has been appointed by the mayor to meet the train and serve as escort to the famous old horse.

Relay Auto Trip Near End.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 4.—The Philadelphia auto carrying a message from President Taft to President J. C. Chilberg of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition by means of relay automobiles, is expected to arrive at the fair grounds tomorrow morning. The automobile carrying the courier on the last leg of the transcontinental journey, tonight was working its way through Snoqualmie pass in the Cascade mountains.

SPEEDY NAGS AT LEXINGTON MEET

Pick of Trotting Circuits In for 3 Year Old Futurity Today.

OLD RECORD MAY FALL.

Czarevna and Soprano Are Favorites, with Baroness Virginia Next.

BY HENRY TEN EYCK WHITE.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The pick of the best stables from all the trotting tomorrow, and as the track is in excellent shape there is talk that the race record for the 3 year old Futurity, the 2:08¾ of The Harvester, made last fall, will be lowered by the winner of the race.

Horsemen figure that if both are on edge the fight for first money will lie between Czarevna and Soprano, both having taken records better than 2:10 this fall, and next to them in the estimation of the critics is Baroness Virginia. She has not gone quite as fast a mile as either of the others named, but has won two good races and that she is to be driven by Murphy cuts a large figure.

One of the Futurity entrants, Captain George, was sold yesterday for $5,000. He is by Admiral Dewey and is said to have worked a mile around 2:07. As the new owner has elected to start him tomorrow there may be something in the talk. Muda Guy is another of the starters rated as a possible winner. Two weeks ago she won over a half mile track in 2:11¼, a new 3 year old record for a two lap course, displacing Alstanley, whose mark is 2:12¼.

Home Folks Follow the Wolverine.

Both the filly and Alstanley are known to have as much speed for a ways as anything in the race, but horsemen do not class them as high as Soprano or Czarevna. There is a big delegation here from Michigan to see The Wolverine perform. He was victor in a great 2 year old trot at Lexington last fall, both his heats being under 2:15, and has been specially prepared for the Futurity. Aside from those mentioned the starters will be Vito, James A. O'Neill, and Bertha C., making a field of ten, every member of which has performed creditably, six of them being race winners.

The $5,000 Tennessee purse for 2:08 pacers, which has been famous for years as the battle ground of the best pacers of each season and in which Minor Heir and The Eel had their duel last fall, doing the first mile in 2:00½, does not promise that sort of a contest this year, although some miles under 2:05 are looked for. The starters are Major Brino, Mary Dillon, Eph Cinders, Ross K., Major Malloy, and George Gano, with the chances of the last named well liked by horsemen. In the 2:09 pace Maconda, Flying Jim, The Bosun, Sir Milton, Billy B., Ian, Barflora, Coffee, Shadeland Nutlear, and Shaughraun are to start. The Bosun is most liked.

Chatty Direct Shows Speed.

The workout mile here yesterday by the 1 year old trotter Chatty Direct in 2:10¼, which is faster than the record for that age, made considerable impression because the filly is exceptionally stoutly bred, being by Director General and out of a mare by Silent Brook. Native Bell, however, will be favorite in the 2 year old Futurity to be trotted Wednesday.

Ignoring the officials who have presided all summer at the grand circuit meetings the Lexington track has secured A. J. Keating for presiding judge. He will be assisted by J. C. Linneman of Lima, O., and R. C. Estill of Kentucky, while Frank B. Walker will do the starting.

It was announced today that Margin will not start in the Transylvania Thursday, the McDonald entry being represented by Douglas, 2:06¼, in a fourth heat. Penisa Maid, driven by her owner, M. D. Shutt of Rock Rapids, Ia., probably will be favorite, as she has won her last two races and shown ability to beat 2:06 any time she is pressed.

There was heavy pool selling tonight on the Futurity, with Czarevna bringing $50; Baroness Virginia, $25; Soprano, $10; Muda Guy, $5; Vito, $5; Alstanley; $10; and the field, consisting of The Wolverine, O'Neill, Capt. George, and Bertha C., $5. Geers will drive Vito, and McMahon, O'Neill. In the Tennessee, Gano brought $100 to $80 for the field.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY

DON'T worry! Worry comes from a Dutch word "worgen," meaning to throttle. It chokes the best in a man all right. The turn of the road sometimes brings us to what we're looking for. The lost opportunity of yesterday is behind. Don't look back. To-day put a Geo. W. Childs generously good cigar before your face and you will look forward to all the to-morrows. Five cents everywhere.

Eckersall Writes of Gridiron Conditions at Ames. Pugilism. Golf.

AMES' PROSPECTS ARE NOT BRIGHT

Chances of Retaining State Championship Are Poor, Says Eckersall.

COACH WORKS MEN HARD.

"Make Better Showing Against Gophers than Hawkeyes Did," Is the Slogan.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Ames, Ia., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—With only three old players in college this year at the Iowa State Agricultural college, generally known as Ames, prospects for a football team which will retain the championship of the state are not bright.

Coach Clyde Williams, the great little player who was a member of the University of Iowa in 1900, when the unbeaten Hawkeyes claimed the western championship and decisively defeated Chicago and Michigan, is making the most of the situation. To make a better showing against Minnesota on Saturday than Iowa did last week is the slogan here.

Coach Williams, not satisfied with the showing of his team against Coe last Saturday, put the eleven through a fierce and grueling scrimmage this afternoon. Fumbling and poor tackling are the things Williams hopes to eradicate before the Minnesota struggle. He asserted that constant fumbling by the backs was responsible for the score not being larger in favor of his eleven in the Coe game. He also claimed that poor open field tackling was the cause of Coe registering its only score.

Coach Drives Men Hard.

Williams realizes the importance of having his men proficient in these departments before Saturday, and to accomplish this purpose the scrimmage was long and fiercely contested. The University of Iowa and Iowa State (Ames) both are supported and maintained by the state, consequently there is bitter rivalry between the two institutions, and a victory for either makes the gridiron season a howling success. The general feeling here in regard to this contest is that the team from Iowa City looks better right now, but the supporters of Ames team are banking on Williams to get a team together which will defeat Iowa and incidentally gain a little more recognition from the state government when the appropriations are made for the support of the various state institutions.

The spirit here is great and for a college with no gymnasium or other athletic inducements, Ames deserves a deal of credit for the showing it has made in past years. To an athlete who has been used to athletic luxuries such as lockers, shower bath, rubbing tables, and a decent place to dress, the situation here would be anything but encouraging. After practice the players stand in tubs and clean themselves as well as conditions allow, while the facilities for rubbing and medical attention are limited. Despite the great handicap there were thirty-eight players on the field this afternoon, while two class teams practiced on the campus for their annual struggle next week.

Students Loyal to Athletics.

In order to make athletics as self-supporting as possible, athletic tickets are sold to each student for $2 which admits them to every athletic contest on the home field during the school year. Twelve hundred of these already have been sold, so willingly do the students stand ready to help athletics.

Ames is a member of the Missouri valley conference and as such competes with all the leading colleges in this section. Like the western conference, the Missouri valley organization has passed rules forbidding freshmen to compete in intercollegiate athletics and allowing but three years of competition. Although Ames always has been a strong contender for premier honors in its organization, its bitterest rivals are located in the state within a radius of sixty miles. Iowa, Drake, and Grinnell are the teams that must be beaten at all hazards and nothing is left undone to develop the team here to its highest point of football perfection when the first one of the rivals is met.

Coach Williams is not thinking much about his local evenings right now, for he is bent on holding Minnesota to a lower score than Iowa did. If this is accomplished, he asserts, it will give his green eleven more confidence when it meets the other teams in the state. The feeling among players and students is that Ames will be beaten badly, but a better showing than Iowa made will be the cause of a tremendous celebration.

Besides eradicating fumbling and poor tackling the scrimmage today served another purpose. The scrubs were given the Minnesota formation, and the varsity was taught a defense to meet them which it is thought will stop the Gophers' pet plays. From 4 o'clock until dark this practice was the order of the coach, who drove his men almost to the point of exhaustion, as the weather was exceedingly warm for football.

At first the varsity had a great deal of trouble in sizing up the formation in which Johnston and McGovern ran all over Iowa, but later on the work got better, and the scrubs were checked without much gain. In their three attempts when quits was called by Williams, the players walked to the dressing quarters apparently all in.

Wilmarth a Heady Player.

Capt. Wilmarth, tackle; Heggen, quarter back, and Johnson, full back, are the veterans of last year's team, who will strive to uphold the football reputation of Ames this year. Wilmrath seems to be an aggressive, heady player with plenty of knowledge of the game. He was a mighty hard man for the opposing end to block today and when he got wise to the Minnesota plays which the scrubs used he broke them up easily. On his side of the line he broke through and made several open field tackles, much to Williams' delight.

Although Heggen is considered a star quarter back by the students, his work would not impress any one as being extraordinary. If his playing today is taken as a criterion he was terribly slow in running off plays and never helped the runner in a single formation. In one defense he was inclined to let the kicked balls hit the ground instead of catching them. This sort of work will prove disastrous to Ames in some close battle when the opposing team has a pair of fast ends. There was a great deal of indecision in his work which has a tendency to make his players lose confidence in his ability to select plays.

Johnson may develop into a good full back, but at present he is decidedly lacking in running qualifications. As an interferer he is awfully poor and his work in negotiating forward passes and onside kicks is crude in the extreme. He throws the ball well, but does not select the right time and player. A player to make the throw must make some pretenses of running with the oval in order to bring opponents into him so that his own teammates can get out into the open. A good example of this was Page's work in the Purdue game, when he ran twenty-five yards for a touchdown. Nearly every Purdue player thought Page was going to make a forward pass and they looked for some Chicago men to cover. In the meantime Page took advantage of the situation and sped across the chalk mark for a touchdown. After that the Purdue tacklers went after Page and he made several neat forward passes.

Experience Badly Needed.

Every other member on the Ames team this year is a new player, with little or no football experience and their weaknesses will not be told too extensively. Some played on the freshmen team last season and gained a little football knowledge. Andrews and Rutledge probably will play half back. The former is reasonably sure of a position, while the latter is having plenty of competition from Hart, a promising player. Andrews has an ideal build for a back, and as soon as he learns more about the game he will be a valuable man. Rutledge is fast, but, like Andrews, is inexperienced.

Hart played well in today's scrimmage and should be a valuable player later in the season or next year. Reeves and Fulton are the most likely candidates for ends. Both show tendencies to smash standing up, which is a grave fault and should be rectified before Saturday. They cover punts in good shape and box the opposing tackles fairly well. Traeger will play one of the tackles. He is a big, powerful player, with little experience but plenty of willingness. He is aggressive and active and needs only to learn the finer points of the game, which will come when more games are played.

For the guard positions there is plenty of material, but in the day's workout Smith and Saurburg looked the best. They charged and held their ground better than any of the others. Although Ringheim and Henenger did creditable work, Scott looks like a fixture at center. He passes accurately and has ideas what to do on the various plays. Some of the promising players are Kraft, Brown, McCoy, Cockerell, Sharp, and Chappel.

Although Williams is going to do all he possibly can to win the state championship, he should have a grand team next year. With the experience the team is bound to get this year, it will be able to play much better football next season.

[Tomorrow's article in the football special series will deal with conditions at Drake university of Des Moines.]

SAD FATE FOR THE "HOOSIERS"

Maroons in Practice Maul Freshmen Who Impersonate Indiana

USE SHELDON'S FORMATIONS.

Tricks Fail to Bring Scores, but Stagg's Regulars Get Touchdowns.

"Indiana," in the guise of eleven of Coach Walker's best freshmen, met a sad fate on Marshall field yesterday when, with forty minutes in which to try out "Jimmy" Sheldon's pet formations, they were unable to score on the Maroon regulars. Stagg's bunch, for its part, slipped by the first team for a brace of touchdowns.

The work of the bunch led by Page was somewhat of a revelation to the rooters. The little captain, acting on the suggestion of Coach Stagg, let loose many forward passes, and most of these proved good for long gains. The really sensational feature, and one which showed unexpected possibilities in "Bunny" Rogers, occurred when that player shot a forward pass to Menaul after he had negotiated a gain of twenty-five yards himself. Menaul sprinted the rest of the distance for a touchdown with a clear field before him. Sauer made the other score on an end run.

Hoosier Formations Easy.

The Maroon defense found the Hoosier formations easy to solve. Beaser, the fleet half back, impersonated Paddock, but was stopped before he got far on end runs. Lawlor, trying forward passes, was tackled several times before the ball left his hands.

A more difficult test will be furnished today when Walker will give the freshmen other plays he diagramed at Indianapolis on Saturday.

In the game yesterday the best freshmen of the thirty who are now working with Schommer, Russell, and Walker, were used. The lineup was: Wilson, left end; Freeman, left tackle; Sellars, left guard; Whiting, center; Brown, right guard; Thompson, right tackle; Morrison, right end; Kuh, quarter; Beaser, left half; Lawlor, right half; Young, full back.

Stagg tried a new experiment in using Gerend and Rademacher at guards instead of Hirschl and Ehrhorn, the lightweights. Both the heavies have been coached for tackle positions as well. It is doubtful if they will make any positions except guards, however, as Kelley and Hoffman have shown their superiority. The regulars lined up: Kassuller, left end; Hoffman, left tackle; Rademacher, left guard; Smith center; Gerend, right guard; Kelley, right tackle; Menaul, right end; Page and Rogers, quarter; Sauer, left half; Sunderland, right half; Fonger, full back.

Work on Defense This Week.

Work on the defense will be the bill for the week, according to the coach. Stagg gave it out as positive that Crawley will play against Indiana. He was able to go through the signals and has caught up on the tricks he missed while out with his lame foot.

Coaches Russell and Schommer reported seven new candidates for the freshman team, among them being Sawyer, all high school lineman from Hyde Park. The others are Cary, a half back from St. Paul; Netter, a half back from Warsaw, Ind.; Canning, a guard from Oklahoma City, Okla.; Schuman, center on Lake High school; Cunningham, a husky tackle from Lake Forest, and Meyer, end from Appleton, Wis.

A big massmeeting is scheduled for Mandel hall tomorrow night. Alumni have been appealed to and most of them in the city will attend. Coast Stagg, Capt. Page, and members of the team will talk.

VICTORY COSTLY TO HOOSIERS.

Indiana's Defeat of De Pauw Puts Two Star Half Backs Out of the Game.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 4.—The defeat of De Pauw seems to have cost the Indiana football team heavily, as it is feared both of the star Crimson half backs are laid up so they will not be able to play against Chicago on Saturday.

Cotton Berndt suffered a broken rib while making a brilliant end run, and without question is out of the game for some time, and Andy Gill was compelled to leave the De Pauw contest because of a bad "charley horse."

Gill is Sheldon's find from the Linton coal fields and he can punt the pigskin far better than any other man on the Crimson team, so if he is not able to play Sheldon's bunch will be seriously handicapped in the kicking department when they meet the Maroons. It is hoped, however, that Gill will be able to play. For Berndt's position theer are four likely candidates—Cy Davis, Kimble, Lewis, and Winter, but it is likely Davis will be started in the Chicago game. Sheldon is holding short practice all this week and making a big effort to get his line in shape. In the De Pauw game the line showed up lamentably weak, but the work of the backs was satisfactory.

The funeral of Frank Trimble, the tackle who died Saturday of blood poisoning, was held here Sunday. The services were held by the university, and the pallbearers were members of the varsity team. The remains were shipped to the home at Evansville for burial.

MORE ATHLETICS FOR BADGERS.

New Council Elected Is Inclined More That Way—Coach Barry Dislocates Elbow in Practice.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The faculty today reëlected Athletic Director Hutchins and Prof. C. E. Allen to the athletic council and chose Profs. R. A. Harper, J. G. D. Mack, and A. G. Laird in place of Profs. Barden, Mead, and H. L. Smith. The new council is said to be more favorably inclined toward athletics than the old one, and it is predicted Wisconsin will have seven games scheduled next year. Director Hutchins left for Chicago today to arrange the details of the Chicago-Wisconsin game on Nov. 20 and to purchase football supplies.

Coach Tom Barry of the Wisconsin team was painfully injured this afternoon when his right elbow was dislocated while teaching the men tackling tactics at Camp Randall. The injury, coming at the opening of practice, necessitated the coach's retirement for the day, but the doctors say he will be on deck tomorrow, although unable to get into any of the rough work.

No scrimmage work was indulged in, and it looks as if Barry will send almost a green team against Lawrence on Saturday. Lerum took charge of the squad after Barry's retirement, and with Capt. Wilce put the men through a long signal drill.

YALE TEAM GETS HARD DRILL.

Despite Rugged Game of Saturday Against Syracuse the Eleven Is Given Stiff Practice.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—In spite of the rugged game Yale was forced to play on Saturday against Syracuse Head Coach Howard Jones ordered the regulars through the stiffest kind of a twenty-five minute half.

Every varsity player except Fred Daly and Kilpatrick was in place, and took a part in signal practice and breaking through drill which preceded the scrimmaging. Messinger, half back for the freshmen last year, was tried in Daly's place and showed tremendous power in line forcing. Savage, the brilliant freshman end of last year, was given Kilpatrick's position. He showed dashing speed.

No fancy football with forward passes or on side kicks was allowed, but a strenuous line battering session was fought through. Jack Field took the ball over for the only two touchdowns made. Hyde was back at center for the first time since his fingers were injured in the Wesleyan game.

PURPLE IS NOT DISCOURAGED.

Failure to Defeat Wesleyan Due to Lack of Team Work—Players in a Hard Drill.

Not discouraged by its failure to win from Illinois Wesleyan last Saturday, the football squad at Northwestern went in for hard practice yesterday preparing for the game scheduled with Purdue next Saturday.

The Northwestern team was shy on team work, but individual players found a strong place in the estimation of Coach Horr, and now that the weak places have been discovered an effort will be made to eliminate them.

The main feature of the week will be an attempt to find a substitute quarter back who can relieve Lemke. The latter went into the game Saturday in poor condition, and last night was still showing the effects of it. Merrill is out of the game for the season with a dislocated knee. This leaves only Gibson, who may develop into a good quarter back with a lot of coaching.

Elect Cornell Track Captain.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Hobart Cone Young, Cornell's brilliant cross country captain was elected captain of the track team today to succeed Eddie Cook, the Olympic pole vaulter who did not come back to college this year.

A MARKET LETTER.

This in reply to numerous bugs: We never decide bets nor advise how they should be placed, but if we were addicted to that sinful habit we would cop a little of that 13 to 5 the West Siders are laying. Then if the Sox won the first game we would lay a bit of it off at even money, which we would be sure to get. If the Cubs won the second game the price naturally would react to 2 to 1. At that market we would take a section of the Cub stock. If the Cubs won the third we would stand pat and await developments. If the Sox won it we would string with them at 7 to 5 against. In that event there should be a scramble on the part of those who laid 13 to 5 to get out at say 11 to 10 or thereabouts. We would take a little of that. If the Sox won the fifth it naturally would be 4 to 5 on the Sox. We would close in on a bit of the short end of it at that stage. If the Cubs broke the tie we would take $20 profit on the basis of $100 and go to a football game.

P. S.—Of course, all this on the presumption that we would not be pinched for gambling in the meantime.

OLD INN EVENT TO HANBRIDGE AT CHURCHILL DOWNS TRACK.

Victor Repeats Performance of Saturday in Handicap—Talent Gets Jolt When Two Long Shots Win.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 4.—The second week of the Louisville Racing association's fall meeting was ushered in this afternoon with a splendid card of six well balanced races, of which the Old Inn handicap, at one mile, was provided as a headliner.

In the latter Hanbridge, running right back to his good race of Saturday, was again victorious, while All Red was forced to hustle to get the place by a head from Old Honesty, which closed fast on the inside.

Long shots gave the talent a jolt in two races, Kiddy Lee taking the opener and paying for a $5 straight ticket $140.75, while in the third Pocotaligo was a rude upset at the market price of $143.45. Summaries:

First race, selling, ¾ mile—Kiddy Lee, straight $140.70, place $55.90, show $28.85, won; My Henry, place $13.45, show $9.50, second; Judith Page, show $59.95, third. Time, 1:16. Brunhilde, Lord Clinton, Lou Lanier, Gramercy, Simonette, Kempton Park, Fleuron's Daughter, Ethelburg, Jack Binns ran.

Second race, selling, ¾ mile—Billy Bodemer, straight $28.65, place $15.05, show $11.45, won; Many Colors, place $71.20, show $34.70, second; Acquia, show $13.10, third. Time, 1:14. E. M. Fry, Congo, Bruce Rice, Battle Fleet, Whisk Broom, Ethelda ran.

Third race, selling, 1 mile and 70 yards—Pocotaligo, straight $143.45, place $27.95, show $19.15, won; Denver Girl, place $21.40, show $13.55, second; Aspirin, show $8.80, third. Time, 1:45. Tom Holland, Ludhiana, Splendida, Cassowary, Roseburg II., Peter Pender, Lady Hill, Rupicola, St. Aulaire ran.

Fourth race, 1 mile—Hanbridge, straight $13.95, place $7.20, show out, won; All Red, place $6.90, show out, second; Old Honesty, show out, third. Time, 1:40 3-5. Dainty Dame ran.

Fifth race, 2 year olds, ¾ mile—Boca Grande, straight $7.40, place $6.55, show $6.60, won; Short Order, place $11.45, show $7.55 second; Longhand, show $52.70, third. Time, 1:15 3-5. Laveno, Ben K. Sleet, Martine H., Icarian ran.

Sixth race, selling, 3 year olds and up, 1 1-16 miles—Alma Boy, straight $15.10, place $7.30, show $6.15, won; Roseboro, place $7.00, show $5.85, second; Orlandot, show $6.65, third. Time, 1:47 4-5. Little Fitz, Transvaal, Dearly Bell ran.

FIRESTONE VICTOR IN DRIVE.

Wins New Rochelle Stakes at Belmont with Top Weight, 121 Pounds, from The Squire.

New York, Oct. 4.—Firestone, the second choice at Belmont, won the New Rochelle Selling stakes in a terrific drive from The Squire. He carried top weight, 121 pounds, and it was only through his gameness that he was returned the winner.

First race, 1 mile, $600 added—Sandrian, 4 to 1, 4 to 5, out, won; Charlie Hargrave, 13 to 10, 2 to 5, out, second; Fighting Bob, 13 to 10, 2 to 5, out, third. Time, 1:39 3-5. Marigot ran.

Second race steeplechase, about 2 miles, $500 added—Bello, 12 to 1, 2 to 1, 1 to 2, won; Ruxton, 20 to 1, 3 to 1, 4 to 5, second; Brendan, 20 to 1, 3 to 1, 4 to 5, third. Time, 4:08. Oakhurst and Magellan fell.

Third race—1 1-16 miles, $500 added—Nimbus, 11 to 10, 2 to 5, out, won; Blue Book, 8 to 5, 1 to 2, out, second; Zienap, 5 to 1, 6 to 5, out, third. Time, 1:46. Live Wire ran.

Fourth race, the New Rochell Selling stake, 1 mile, value $1,000—Firestone, 8 to 5, 1 to 2, out, won; The Squire, 4 to 1, even, out, second; Mary Davis, 7 to 5, 1 to 2, out, third. Time, 1:39. Quantico ran.

Fifth race, selling, ¾ mile, straight, $400 added—Acumen, 6 to 1, 2 to 1, 4 to 5, won; Lillie Hoy, 20 to 1, 7 to 1., 5 to 2, second; Louise Welles, 3 to 5, 1 to 4, out, third. Time, 1:13 2-5. Harvey F., Scarus, Madeline L., Glennadeane, Tempter, and Diction ran.

Sixth race, selling, 13-16 mile, main course, $400 added—Campeon, 2 to 1, 4 to 5, 2 to 5, won; Royal Onyx, 5 to 1, 8 to 5, 4 to 5, second; Jeanne d'Arc, 3 to 1, even, 1 to 2, third. Time, 1:19 3-5. Black Mary, Right Guard, Rialto, and Racquet ran.

HAMILTON RACE RESULTS.

First race, ¾ mile—Inflection, 7 to 5, won; Hedge Rose, 15 to 1, second; Autumn Girl, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 3-5. Slewfoot, Adalia, Delf, Lady Sybil, and Merman ran.

Second race, ⅝ mile—Mill on the Floss, 9 to 20, won; Bilberry, 12 to 1, second; Mendip, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:28. Prince Rhuperd lost rider. Out of Step ran.

Third race, Brighton steeplechase, about 1¾ miles—Marksman, 4 to 5, won; Impertinence, 20 to 1, second; Gipsano, 60 to 1, third. Time, 3:25 3-5. Get Along, Elmhurst, and Waterway lost riders.

Fourth race, Ontario selling handicap, 1¼ miles—Howard Shean, 5 to 1, won; Hiacko, 11 to 5, second; Lad of Langden, 13 to 5, third. Time, 1:53. Lexington Lady and Woolstone ran.

Fifth race, ¾ mile—Elgin, 4 to 1, won; Oquetos, 8 to 5, second; Odin, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 4-5. Luckola, Chicosa, Kyronda, Morrocco, Miss Geeenan, Nick o' Time, Inez Sister, Royal Oak, and Maximum ran.

Sixth race, 1 and 1-16 miles on turf—Otogo, 3 to 2, won; Night Mist, 5 to 1, second; Dorothy Webb, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:47 2-5. Arrow Swift, Silk Hose, Be Thankful, Dele Strome, Uncle Toby, Protagonist, Petulant, and Harry Richeson ran.

The seventh annual newspaper golf championship will be played today at the Calumet Country club. The eight low scorers will qualify for match play for the H. C. Chatfield-Taylor cup, and there will be the usual handicap in connection with the qualifying round. Prizes have been donated by the Golf store, Moore & Evans, the Fair, Brown & Smart, George O'Neil, R. McWatt, the Calumet Country club, James Foulis, and Harry Turpie.

YOST'S TEAM WORKS AT HOME.

First Real Practice of Wolverines on Ferry Field Composed of Two Short Scrimmages.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Two scrimmages, each of five minutes' duration, marked the first real practice of the year on Ferry field. The practice was witnessed by Coach Longman of Notre Dame.

Yost practically admits he has decided on Watkins for permanent center. In addition to twenty-two players on the varsity squad, more than half that number reported for work today on the second squad, and Yost hopes that more than half a hundred men will be at work tomorrow afternoon when college opens. Although slightly ragged the first scrimmage resulted satisfactorily to Yost. "The team is much further advanced now than at the corresponding date of last year," said he tonight. "We are in fairly good shape to start a game right now, although the team work is yet ragged."

WOMEN GOLFERS PLAY FOR TITLE

Three Stars Tie for Gold Medal with Scores of 86 at Philadelphia.

WESTERNERS LOW IN LIST

Only Four Get in the First 32 Places, Two Local Experts Landing Positions.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—With a representative field which included Miss Katherine Harley, the present titleholder, six former champions, the Scottish and western champion and several other holders of sectional and state honors, play in the fifteenth women's annual championship of the United States Golf association began today at the Merion Cricket club.

Mrs. Caleb Fox of the Huntingdon Valley club of Philadelphia, Miss Margaret Curtis of the Essex Country club of Boston, who won the title at Chicago in 1907; and Miss Anita Phipps of Springfield, Mass., who was a semi-finalist the same year, tied for the gold medal with totals of 86, and will play off later. Miss Dorothy Campbell of North Berwick, the Scottish champion, finished one stroke behind the leaders. Mrs. Fox, who is the oldest contestant in the tournament, won the gold medal in 1904 and has qualified no less than nine times.

Local Women in Ruck.

Of the few western players represented, Miss Isabella Smith of the Evanston Country club made the best showing, finishing in a tie for ninth place at 94. Miss Vida Llewellyn of La Grange, Ill., the western champion, tied for nineteenth place. Miss Grace Semple of St. Louis and Mrs. F. S. Colburn were the only other westerners to get in the first thirty-two places.

Four of the six British players who started qualified and, judging from the medal scores, only Miss Campbell and Miss S. Temple are likely to prove serious factors in the race. Three former champions, Mrs. Charles T. Stout, formerly Miss G. Hecker, Miss Harriett Curtis, and Miss G. Bishop, did not perform up to their usual standard.

Rain threatened when play began, but there was little wind, and conditions were in favor of low scores. The most notable absentees were Miss Julia Mix, metropolitan champion; Mrs. T. H. Polhemus, runner up last year; and Miss Fannie Osgood, former eastern champion, who is recovering from a long illness.

BIG COAST FIGHT POSTPONED

Johnson-Ketchel Scrap Pushed Forward to Oct. 16.

MORE GATE MONEY REASON.

Coffroth Expects to Attract Portola Festival Crowd by Move.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The Johnson-Ketchel fight, it was announced tonight, has been postponed from Oct. 12 to Oct. 16.

No reason is given by Coffroth for the postponement, but it is known that he believes the fight will draw a bigger crowd during the coming Portola festival, and for some time he has been trying to induce Johnson to consent to the postponement.

Britt and Ketchel have joined with Coffroth in the matter, but until today Johnson refused to make the desired concessions, claiming that Britt and Ketchel were trying to get out of the $5,000 side bet. It now is announced that all conditions of the fight remain as originally arranged, except that the date will be altered.

COULON OFFERED TITLE MATCH.

Local Bantamweight Star May Meet Winner of Attel-Webster Fight in Los Angeles.

Johnny Coulon, Chicago's crack bantamweight fighter, may meet the winner of the Attel-Webster match which is to be held in Los Angeles. E. E. Coulon, Johnny's father and manager, yesterday received a telegram from Promoter McCarey in which the latter offered the local boy the match for the gold belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship, and stipulated that the weight be 115 pounds at 3 o'clock. Coulon wired back that he would accept providing the weight was made at ringside, the bout to be not less than twenty rounds to a referee's decision. He expects an answer today deciding whether or not the match is to be clinched. Johnny is reported as being in great fettle for his fight with Patsy Brannigan at Pittsburg on Oct. 15.

QUICK ESCAPE BY A REFEREE.

"Yank" Kenney Calls Moha-Robinson Fight a Draw and Crowd Makes a Demonstration—Decision Queer.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 4.—Bob Moha, the Milwaukee fighter, gave Jack Robinson a thorough beating in almost every round of their eight round bout tonight at the Phœnix club, but Referee Yank Kenney declared it a draw. A demonstration followed from nearly 3,000 spectators, but Kenney escaped from the arena before the enraged fight fans could make trouble. Moha had Robinson on the mat for the count eight times during the last three rounds, the gong saving Robinson in the sixth, seventh, and eighth.

COURT PROTECTS BOXING CLUB.

St. Louis Judge Refuses to Dissolve Injunction to Interfere with Prize Fights.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 4.—Circuit Judge Wurdeman of St. Louis today overruled the motions of Sheriff Grueninger, Constable Bode, Mayor Woods of Wellston, and Marshal Morgan of Wellston for dissolution of the injunction to restrain them from interfering with the club which held boxing bouts at Suburban Garden, Sept. 23. Judge Wurdeman sets Oct. 9 as a date for the enjoined officers to prove, if they can, that the entertainment was a public prize fight instead of a private boxing contest.

Stone Beats McGraw.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 4.—Harry Stone of New York earned the decision given him by Referee Ulman at the end of a twenty round bout with Terry McGraw of this city before the Eureka Athletic club tonight.

TWO FALLS FOR RAICEVICH.

Italian Heavyweight Throws Emil Klank Twice at the Riverview Rink in 14:35 and 17:14.

Raicevich, the Italian heavyweight wrestler, defeated Emil Klank in straight falls at Riverview rink last night in 14:35 and 17:14. In the other bouts Jack Olson defeated Bruno Meinkel, and also threw John Kilonis, the Greek middleweight. Joe Rickard won in straight falls from Dutch Meier.

SECKEL IS TIGER GOLF CHAMP.

Chicago Player Who Won the Intercollegiate Title Finishes First in the Princeton Tournament.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The annual university golf tournament culminated today and Albert Seckel, 1912, of Chicago, emerged as first man in the university. The only man who gave him any trouble was Alfred G. Kay, 1912, of Pittsburg, who won last year. It was nip and tuck between them until near the end when Seckel won, 3 and 1, at thirty-six holes. Seckel is also intercollegiate champion.

At the Billiard Rooms.

At Bensinger's—Woodyatt defeated Brown, 300 to 221, at 18.2.

At the Sennet—Daly won from Stovall, 30 to 17, at three cushions.

At Weeghman's—Lundgren [44] defeated Becker [47], 44 to 44, at three cushions.

At Hicks'—Strang [50] defeated Burfrind [44], 50 to 32, at three cushions. Hunbein [48] defeated Daniels [48], 48 to 45.

BERGER ON WIRE WITH STATEMENT

Sends Unsolicited Message to "The Tribune" Charging Insincerity.

SAYS JOHNSON IS BALKY.

Declares Jeff Will Sign for Fight and It's Up to Black to Name Meeting Place.

Sam Berger, sparring partner and personal representative of James J. Jeffries in the latter's talkfest with Champion Jack Johnson, is smarting under the criticism which pugilistic critics in general have been leveling at the "retired and undefeated heavyweight champion of the world."

Eastern writers have been more caustic in their remarks, and these slurs on the intentions of Jeffries have reached Berger on the coast. To refute unfavorable impressions, Berger last night wired the following unsolicited signed statement to THE TRIBUNE:

What Berger Has to Say.

"San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—Jeffries will sail on Oct. 16 for America to sign final articles to fight Johnson. I am doing everything in my power to have Johnson agree to a meeting place where final articles can be signed. When the forfeits are posted and a place and time agreed upon for the reception of bids the match will be settled. Johnson is trying to make it appear that Jeff is afraid, claiming that Jeff delayed his departure by advising him that the Ketchel-Johnson fight would undoubtedly be postponed and that promoters would not bid for the Jeff-Johnson fight until the other was decided. Besides, no place had been agreed upon for the reception of bids, and those I interviewed objected to making their bids separately. Johnson is using this technicality in order to avoid the real issue. He knows that the public does not care a rap for a few days' delay. It wants to get the articles signed, and Jeff is returning for this purpose. Is Johnson going to come through with an agreement to meet on Jeff's arrival, or is he going to resort to the plea of a technicality to avoid a meeting? This is what I am trying to find out before leaving next week to meet Jeff.

SAM BERGER."

Fans in Receptive Mood.

The statement speaks for itself. That the pugilistic fans of the country would welcome a meeting between Jeffries and Johnson there is no doubt. Even that apparent minority which thinks Jeffries always has been sincere in his ultimate willingness to meet the black dread the war of words and bickerings which must come before articles finally are signed. When the signatures of Jeffries and Johnson are attached to an agreement to fight, and binding forfeits are posted, if that time ever comes, skeptics will be willing to curb their doubts as to the battle taking place. Meantime they will remain in a receptive mood.

French Fighters After Scraps.

New York, Oct. 4.—Following the successful invasion of Paris by American pugilists, two French fighters are here in quest of fame and fortune. One of them, Henri Piet, has whipped every lightweight he has met except Freddy Welch. The other fighter is Charles Adolphe.

Powell-Frayne Bout Postponed.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—The fight between the lightweights, Lew Powell and Johnny Frayne, scheduled for Oct. 15 in this city, today was postponed for the second time, to Oct. 29.

WE like to have this store known as a high-priced clothes store; because men who pay $25, $30, $35, $40, $50 are the men who appreciate the qualities that are worth those prices. Our Hart Schaffner & Marx suits and overcoats at $20 to $50 are such values as make these prices real economy.

Especially the suits and overcoats at $25; the fine new grays, blues and fancy mixtures; an extreme case of value for the money; many are silk lined.

And just because we specialize high-priced stuff, the man with $15 to spend gets the best of it here. Pure worsted suits; all-wool overcoats; in many choice weaves and styles, guaranteed value at $15.

Young men will find our college styles very stunning; Hart Schaffner & Marx qualities, $18 to $35; very stylish young men's clothes. Others $12 and $15.

Bring your boys to us, 2½ to 18 years, if you want the best clothes made; they're here from $6.50 to $20. We have a line of all-wool suits at $5, in many good weaves; some have extra "knicker" pants.

NO head in town that we can't fit in a hat; no choice of [illegible] or style we can't suit. Stetson's $3.50 to $12, Stetson's "Special" $5, here only. Knapp-Felt $4. De Luxe $6. Foreign hats, $3, $4, $5. Our $3 hat is the usual $4 kind.

IN shirts we're selling lots of these stunning Manhattans $1.50 to $3.50. The shirts we offer at $2 can't be matched anywhere else in Chicago for real value; for variety of weave and pattern, for style.

Report on Cotton Has Little Effect in Wall Street Market.

STEEL AT A NEW HIGH MARK

Call Money Rates Again Reach 4½ Per Cent; Reserve Outlook Better.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—To the most important piece of news of the day today's stock market devoted little attention. The government's report on the condition of cotton as of Sept. 25 made a percentage of 58.5, as against 63.7 on Aug. 25, 69.7 a year ago, and a ten year average of 67.

While this showing cuts down still further the crop promise of a month ago, the relative indifference of the securities market is explained by the fact that preliminary estimates of cotton's condition pointed to a reduction in the percentage figure fully as large as reported today, and to that extent discounted the actual publication.

Outlook Not Pessimistic.

Furthermore, the government's ginning report, comprising statistics of cotton prepared for the market up to Sept. 25, hardly bears out the poor prospect indicated in the condition figures proper. In other words, the ginning returns on the date of the condition report were within 28,000 bales of the largest total reported in over five years, and practically equaled the returns for the same period a year ago, when the final crop was above 13,500,000 bales. Averaging the price at $65 a bale, the cotton ginned between Sept. 1 and 25 shows a value of nearly $130,000,000, as against $102,000,000 in the same period a year ago for a larger quantity.

On the stock exchange the movement of prices was in the main steady, with exceptional strength in limited shares, including United States Steel, which again touched a new high record at 94⅞; New York Central, Reading, Northern Pacific, and Central Leather. Profit taking late in the afternoon reduced earlier gains, particularly in the case of Steel, which closed a point or more under its high price. Various absurd stories regarding new financing and extra distribution to stockholders were current in connection with the rise in Steel, but these were, of course, without the slightest basis in fact.

The success of the management of the Central Leather company in securing within the last few weeks nearly all of the old United States Leather preferred shares outstanding and thus paving the way to future dividends on Central Leather common explains sufficiently the strength in that stock.

Call Money Touches 4½ Per Cent.

Call money rates again ran up to 4½ per cent, but final quotations were 3¾ per cent. With the exception of rates for 30 day loans, time money was quotably higher, reflecting the condition of the banks as disclosed in Saturday's clearing house statement. Further participation in the loan market by trust companies and deposits of substantial sums of money brought to this city by the host of visitors last week are expected to replenish the banking reserves this week without recourse to extensive loan reductions. An interesting development in the English money market was the lowering of the price of gold following Russia's purchase of $3,00,000 gold arriving in the English capital from South Africa.

Money on call strong; 4@4½ per cent; ruling rate, 4; closing bid, 4; offered at 4¼. Time loans firm; sixty days, 4 per cent and ninety days 4¼ per cent; six months, 4¼@4½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4½@5 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 484.10@484.15 for sixty day bills and at 486 for demand. Commercial bills, 483⅝@484. Bar silver, 51¼c. Mexican dollars, 43c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 4. — [Special.] — Boston coppers were dull and draggy today with the exception of Greene Cananea, which went up about three-quarters of a point on large transactions. Steel common was by far the most active stock on the local board. Telephone and Shoe Machinery were active and strong and in the afternoon Dominion Iron and Steel went up to 59, an advance of more than 6 points. Call money, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, short dates, 4¼@4½ per cent; time loans, six months, 4½@5 per cent; time loans, year, 4½@5 per cent.

IMPORTS UNDER NEW TARIFF IN AUGUST GREATLY INCREASE

Value for First Month Is $117,000,000, Against $91,000,000 in Corresponding Period Last Year.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The record of the first month's imports under the new tariff law shows that the imports of the month were $117,000,000 in value, against $91,000,000 in the corresponding month last year.

IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

Crucible Steel Net Earnings for Last Year Are $2,014,926.

PAYING FOR THE CANAL.

Policy of United States Treasury Discussed in Circular.

United Boxboard stock was the feature of the local exchange yesterday. The shares showed considerable firmness. No further advances in the price of board are expected in the near future.

Illinois Brick had another advance, going to 51. The buying was general and without special significance. The upward movement is based on the old story of increased earnings owing to arrangements entered into for the manufacture of brick by the Penfield process.

Sears-Roebuck shares were active and fairly steady. In the bond department Chicago Railways Bs were fairly active at 86.

Jump in Crucible Steel Earnings.

The Crucible Steel company for the year ended Aug. 31, 1909, shows net earnings of $2,014,926. Following are the figures:

	1909.	1908.
Gross	$12,121,651	$8,928,030
Expenses	9,917,908	8,807,283

Other income	29,518	18,460
Total net	$ 2,024,926	*$510,025
Int. mortgages	10,000	10,000
Balance	$ 2,014,926	*$520,025
Preferred dividend	549,821	244,365
Surplus	$ 1,465,105	*$764,390
Previous surplus	1,692,894	2,457,284
Total surplus	$ 3,157,999	$1,692,894

*Deficit.

The net earnings are equivalent to 8.25 per cent on the preferred stock. The present surplus is the largest in the company's history. The unfilled orders and contracts on hand on Aug. 31 amounted to 91,498 tons, against 72,894 in the previous year.

Friends of the company are of the opinion that in December the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent will be distributed on the preferred stock.

United States Treasury Plans.

In its monthly circular dealing with United States treasury and financial affairs the National City bank of New York says:

"Partly lost sight of in the multiplicity of interesting things growing out of the new tariff legislation was the really important fact that congress has definitely determined that the Panama canal shall be paid for out of the proceeds of bonds. When the original Panama act became a law there was a large surplus in the treasury, a portion of which congress decreed should be expended on the canal. In this manner treasury cash was utilized to the extent of $60,000,000, of which $40,000,000 was paid to the French company for the rights and property, $10,000,000 to the republic of Panama for the canal strip, and the remaining $10,000,000 appropriated for preliminary construction.

"In addition the secretary of the treasury was authorized to sell $130,000,000 Panama bonds, from the proceeds of which the work should be continued. As the cost of the canal to completion would largely exceed the amounts which might be raised by sales of bonds under this authority, either current revenues would have been utilized or new authority would have been required covering further issues of bonds.

"The recent bond legislation authorized an issue large enough not only to cover all further estimated work on the canal, but for reimbursement of the treasury for the $60,000,000 taken out of the general fund as above indicated, and, as the act itself declares that the issue is 'to cover the entire cost of the canal from its inception to its completion,' it would seem that congress has definitely fixed the policy of paying for this great and permanent public undertaking by issuing bonds, and has departed from what it originally intended to do—namely: pay for it out of revenues in part and in part from the proceeds of loans."

American Telephone.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company had at the beginning of the current year 30 per cent more bonds than stock outstanding, or $203,000,000 bonds to $158,476,600 stock. Since the conversion privilege on March 1, the bonded debt has been steadily decreasing and the capital stock increasing. At the present time $90,489,000 of the convertible bonds have been exchanged into $67,399,800 capital stock. In addition to the increase in stock through conversion, the company has issued $40,000,000 stock in exchange for shares of subsidiary companies. There is today outstanding $265,000,000 telephone stock and $113,000,000 bonds.

Westinghouse Electric Earnings.

It is announced that since the beginning of its fiscal year April 1, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company has been doing as large a gross business as for any previous year in its history. During the last four months sales were at the rate of $35,000,000 a year. August net profits were $255,000, being at the rate of 7 per cent on the common stock. The directors have paid off one-quarter of the 14 per cent accrued dividends on the $3,998,700 preferred shares. By the end of the current fiscal year the directors predict earnings will be at the rate of at least 9 per cent on the common.

Central Trust-Royal Trust.

The agreements whereby the Central Trust company takes over the affairs of the Royal Trust company, which were announced some time ago, were filed in the recorder's office. One agreement was signed by Edwin F. Mack, president of the Royal Trust, and one by Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust.

The consolidation agreement was signed Sept. 27. The consolidated bank, as announced, will be known as the Central Trust company bank. It will continue in force its stock of $2,000,000. The stock of the Royal Trust company bank has been canceled and the holders given adequate compensation for it, according to the agreement.

Dividends Declared.

The Northern Pacific railroad company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable Nov. 1 to stockholders of record Oct. 8.

The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 20.

The next dividend to be declared on the stock of the Pennsylvania railroad company will be paid Nov. 3 to stock of record Nov. 5.

Twin City declared a regular quarterly dividemand of 1¼ per cent on the common stock, payable Nov. 15 to stock of record Oct. 30.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Money was in fair demand and supply on the market today, and discounts were firm. Russia took the bulk of the $2,500,000 in gold on the market, paying 77s 10⅝d, a decline of ⅛d. Trading on the stock exchange started quietly steady, but business was not brisk, and quotations closed below the best. Gilt edged securities were maintained in anticipation of the reinvestment of tomorrow's dividends. Grand Trunk and Mexican rails benefited on good traffic returns. Kaffirs were supported early, but lost a fraction in the late trade. American securities, after opening uncertain, yielded under profit taking, and at noon were dull and from ⅛ higher to ⅝ lower than Saturday's New York closing. Excepting Canadian Pacific, which was strong, the market drooped in the early afternoon, the unfavorable New York bank statement inducing realizations. In the late trading New York support caused a sharp advance, in which New York Central and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul led. Steel common reached a new record, 96¼. The market closed strong fractionally below the best.

Municipal 4% Bonds

Dated Oct. 1, 1909. Due serially from Oct. 1, 1919, to 1929. Semi-annual interest payable April 1 and Oct. 1. Denomination, $1,000.

These bonds are issued for the improvement of the city waterworks system of Decatur, Ill., and are a direct obligation of the entire city, being secured, principal and interest, by all the taxable property of the community. The city has a population of 30,000, and is one of the most substantial industrial and commercial centers of the famous Illinois "Corn Belt." Aside from the bonds of its self-supporting waterworks, the city is free from bonded indebtedness.

We recommend these bonds for investment.

BEARS SCORE SMALL GAINS

Wheat Works Lower on Bearish Reports from Northwest.

CASH PREMIUMS ARE SHADED

Coarse Grain Futures Decline as Result of General Selling.

A moderate reaction took place in wheat near the close, but the tone was still heavy, and closing prices showed net declines of ¼@½c. About the only bullish thing in the news was the strong cable list. Liverpool closed strong and ⅝@¾c higher, on account of the small shipments to the English market. World's shipments were heavy and there was a liberal run of wheat in the northwest, with an increase of 1,400,000 bu and a fair increase in the visible supply both in this country and Canada were among the bearish factors. But although considerable selling was induced by this array of bearish statistics it was some time before prices gave way, the undertone being surprisingly firm.

Northwest Movement Is Large.

Arrivals at the two northwestern markets footed up a total of 2,267 cars, against 1,981 cars a year ago, while Winnipeg had 1,465 cars, compared to 771 cars a year ago. Local receipts were 42 cars with 69 promised for today. The cash market at Minneapolis was relatively weak, No. 1 northern closing at about 2c premium compared to 3½c premium a few days ago. The cause of the slump in premiums was the fact that country mills in the three states were less urgent buyers. Notwithstanding the large receipts, however, Minneapolis stocks have decreased 30,000 bu for two days, compared to a gain for the same time a year ago of 800,000 bu. The biggest part of the northwestern movement is headed to Duluth. Local stocks increased 597,000 bu for one week.

Duluth Sells More Wheat Here.

More Duluth No. 1 northern is being bought to arrive here, a cargo of 150,000 bu being purchased yesterday at 2¾c over Chicago December, and more is offered. Stocks of spring wheat here will undoubtedly be fairly large before the close of navigation. Premiums for cash wheat here were fully maintained and there was a fairly active milling demand. Southwest markets were firm and receipts are not increasing rapidly. Reports from the southwest indicated moderate acceptances.

Snow, the crop expert, was out with a report for October that was regarded as bearish, showing the total crop at 719,000,000 bu—421,000,000 bu winter and 298,000,000 bu spring. This caused some selling.

World's Exports Show Increase.

World's shipments were 13,792,000 bu, or slightly larger than a year ago. North America furnished most of the wheat aside from Russia, the latter country exporting nearly 7,000,000 bu. The visible increased 2,982,000 bu in this country and the total is now 19,442,000 bu, against 30,642,000 bu a year ago. Private crop reports show an increase in wheat area seeded this fall compared to a year ago. The Canadian visible increased 1,805,000 bu. Clearances for the day were 661,000 bu.

Pressure on Corn Continues.

Pressure continued to be apparent in corn and there were declines for the day of ¼@⅜c for the active months, while October was 1c lower. The shipping demand was better and sales aggregated 320,000 bu, part of which was for export. Cash prices were weak and ½@1c lower. Bartlett-Patten and Logan-Bryan were heavy sellers. Receipts here were 386 cars, with 511 promised for today. Old corn offerings from the country were more moderate, and there were only fair sales of new corn. Weather conditions are ideal. World's shipment's were small at 1,641,000 bu, and the on passage stocks decreased 2,267,000 bu. There was an increase of 1,065,000 bu in the visible, and local public stocks gained 649,000 bu. Liverpool closed ⅛@¼c up. Snow estimates corn condition about the same as a month ago and estimates the crop at upwards of 2,700,000,000 bu.

Oats Active and Lower.

The oats trade was fairly active, with Peavey and Armour leading the selling of December. Net losses for the day were ⅜@⅝c. Local longs who followed the buying by the elevator interests on Saturday were on the selling side, and there was poor support throughout. On the break Peavey bought a few May oats. Primary receipts were large at 1,006,000 bu, a little less than a year ago. The visible increased 1,007,000 bu. Snow estimates the crop at 980,000,000 bu. Receipts here were 139 cars, with 254 cars expected today. Cash prices were easy, with sales of 150,000 bu.

Rye Prices Well Held.

There was a fair milling demand for rye and prices were firmly held. December closed at 70c bid and 73c asked. No. 2 was quoted at 72@73c, No. 3 at 65@71c, and No. 4 at 55@65c. Receipts were estimated at 10 cars.

Barley was 1c lower, owing to liberal receipts. Malting was quoted at 51@64c, mixing at 49@52c, and screenings at 38@50c. Receipts were estimated at 164 cars.

Flaxseed was unchanged. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.42½ bid and No. 1 southwestern, $1.32½ bid. Receipts, 1 car.

Timothy seed was neglected. October closed nominally at $3.95 and March at $4.20.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Snow's crop report for Oct. 1 shows practically no change in corn condition since Sept. 1, the average being 77.3 against 77.7 a month ago. The crop matured without frost damage, and except for some chaffy grain in the drouth districts the quality this year is high. The rate of yield promises about the same as last year, and the 5,000,000 increase in acres will carry the total crop to something more than 100,000,000 bu above that of last year, or something more than 2,700,000,000 bu. If husking returns next month are in line with present condition returns, the seven surplus states which furnish the commercial supply will have 1,550,000,000 bu this year, against 1,416,000,000 bu last year, an increase of 134,000,000 bu. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri have more corn than last year, while Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska fall a little below their 1906 record. These figures are all based upon Snow's estimates of acreage. The government acreage figures are 4,000,000 larger. Final thrashing returns slightly increase the rate of yield of winter wheat, and the final estimate for the crop is 421,000,000 bu, or 15.3 bu per acre. Thrashing returns for spring wheat show an average yield of 16.3 bu, or a crop of 298,000,000 bu. This makes a total wheat crop of 719,000,000 bu, against an outturn last year of 675,000,000 bu, making it with two exceptions the largest crop on record. Returns also show a decided increase in winter wheat seeding this fall, with the crop going in under highly favorable conditions. Final returns for oats are in line with previous indications, making a yield of 30.7 bu per acre, and a total crop of 980,000,000 bu, against 756,000,000 bu last year.

Some of the leading traders in oats say that the December oats will prove to be the target of aggressive attacks by the shorts. It is claimed that the elevator interests are short a big line of December and will clean up during December, delivering out the cash oats now held on their contracts for that month's delivery, thus closing out the deal that was started first last May. While a good many December oats were bought in closing September-December hedges it is still understood the bull leaders in September are short more December. Peavey was a buyer of May and seller of December yesterday, while Armour sold a lot of December. With cash holdings so large and no demand in particular in the east, and with northwest people underselling this market in the east, it is considered logical that a large proportion of the cash oats will be delivered out.

While country offerings of corn have been more liberal recently, some cash men say most of the corn is coming in on consignment from country elevator people who had the corn bought higher and where forced to sell. It was stated that pressure from this distressed corn would not last more than a day or so more. It was claimed that farmers had sold comparatively little old corn and not much new crop grain on the decline. Most of the cash men were bearish on this cereal, and sentiment in the pit was regarded as too unanimous for comfort on the selling side. Few traders were hardy enough to express any pronouncedly bullish opinion, but many went so far as to say the market was beginning to act oversold.

Total stocks of cut meats at Chicago, Kansas City, South Omaha, St. Joe, and Milwaukee as compiled by C. D. Forsyth and Co. aggregate 113,299,130 lbs, showing a decrease of 61,151,269 lbs during September and compare with 157,129,461 lbs on Oct. 1 a year ago. Total stocks of contract pork are 19,872 brls, compared with 20,405 brls a month ago and 53,952 brls a year ago. Stocks of contract lard are 34,691 tcs, compared with 48,701 tcs a month ago, and 102,267 tcs a year ago, while stocks of contract ribs are 9,671,743 lbs, compared with 15,418,329 lbs a month ago and 24,824,594 lbs a year ago.

Minneapolis premiums for cash wheat were again lower Monday, No. 1 northern selling down to 2c over the December, or relatively about ½c off. Offerings were not large, and Minneapolis stocks decreased 30,000 bu for two days, compared to an increase of 800,000 bu for the same time last year. In the local market prices were firm relatively, with a good milling demand reported. Southwestern prices were firm and receipts were moderate. Cash corn here was ½@1c lower, with a moderate demand. Oats were a little easier. Shipping sales were 35,000 bu wheat, 300,000 bu corn, and 150,000 bu oats.

Export sales of old corn by Baltimore brokers have aggregated about 250,000 bu in the last two or three days, and on the basis of present prices it looks as if there would be a fair export business. Argentine offerings are falling off and world's shipments are small. Russia and Roumania are not expected to export freely, and this will leave America with a big crop to supply the foreign demand.

A report from Watertown, S. D., said: "Yield of all grains in northeast quarter of South Dakota is much smaller than last year and the quality is not so good. From main line of Chicago and Northwestern railway north and as far west as the Missouri river crop will not be 75 per cent of last year. Reports claiming this a bumper crop are wrong."

"Montreal wheat brokers say bids for Manitoba wheat were a little firmer last week, and that prospects are better for working a little more wheat," said Fred W. Martin after a trip to Montreal and the east. "Canadian wheat men are a good deal mixed on the situation, however, with few caring to express any decided views."

"Grain men in the east now regard 60c for May corn as a fair price," said E. W. Wagner, who returned yesterday from a three weeks' trip in the east. "High prices the last three or four years have educated buyers to a higher level of values, and from an investment standpoint 60c corn is not regarded as high."

The first big run of barley was in here yesterday, about 164 cars being on the tables. The St. Louis demand has been filled to some extent and the demand from malsters is satisfied to a large extent. Minneapolis had 305 cars and a big run is predicted at all markets.

Country millers in the northwest have not been as free buyers of cash wheat the last few days, and as a result cash premiums have been shaded materially the last day or so. No. 1 northern yesterday was offered at 2c over December, which was 1½c lower than three days ago.

Wheat supplies on ocean passage increased 1,400,000 bu last week, making the total 26,400,000 bu, compared with 34,768,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Corn supplies decreased 2,267,000 bu and are 12,569,000 bu, compared with 13,090,000 bu last year.

Stocks of wheat at Liverpool increased 41,000 bu last week, making the total 3,233,000 bu, compared with 3,424,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Corn stocks increased 73,000 bu and are 1,446,000 bu, compared with 609,000 bu last year.

A cargo of Duluth No. 1 northern was bought to come here yesterday at 2¾c over Chicago December c. i. f. Chicago, and it is understood about 500,000 bu more was offered at about the same prices.

James McCullough was back yesterday from an auto trip through southern Wisconsin, southern Michigan, and northern Illinois. He says corn in northern Illinois promises a big crop.

Longs in provisions were inclined to take profits yesterday, and the outside demand was slower. At the present level of prices outsiders do not enthuse much on the buying side.

Cured and partly cured meats and cash lard sold at the highest premiums of the season yesterday. The cash trade for both lard and meats is especially good.

Receipts of wheat at Winnipeg were 1,465 cars, compared with 1,427 cars a week ago, and 771 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

New York wired: "Exporters continue extremely indifferent. Limits on wheat are poor and generally below a working basis."

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 69 cars; corn, 511 cars; oats, 254 cars; rye, 10 cars; barley, 164 cars; hogs, 10,000.

Kansas City reported a sick market for cash corn, and offerings in the southwest appear to be liberal.

Charters were made for 100,000 bu of corn at 1¾c to Buffalo.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 30,000 bu for two days.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Steady prices were paid for good to choice native steers, but the market for plainer offerings was weak and a recession of 10@15c had to be accepted before a clearance of holdings could be effected. The early western range cattle trade was weak and unsatisfactory, but this period of lethargy was of short duration and strong prices were finally secured for all good range steers, while instances of 10c advance were reported in the value of range butcher stock. Native cows and heifers were in moderate supply, but the demand was narrow and prices sought a lower level, most sales being at a decline of 10c.

Total receipts of 27,000 head included about 10,000 western range cattle. Native steers topped at $8.50, both heavy and yearling offerings reaching that level, while other loads of strictly choice beeves made $8.00@8.40. Good fat range steers made $6.20@6.75, while the bulk of the medium to good grades cleared at $4.85@5.75. Bulls were firm, sale at an advance of 10c for most of the bologna grades. Choice veal calves met with a ready outlet at steady prices, but the plain light and extremely heavy offerings were discriminated against and slow sale at a decline of 25c. Stockers and feeders made steady to 10c lower figures. Quotations:

Beef steers, good to choice	$6.75@8.50
Yearling steers, good to prime	6.75@8.50
Exporters	5.60@7.00
Range steers	4.00@6.25

Stock steers	3.00@4.50
Bulls	2.15@4.85

Cattle at six western markets 76,600, against 83,200 a week ago, 95,000 a year ago, and 88,000 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 5,979,000, against 6,026,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Packers secured hogs at a decline of 5c from Saturday's prices. Speculators and shippers bid steady prices for all desirable offerings at the outset, and commission men succeeded in unloading practically all of their holdings at prices that showed little change from last week's closing figures. After the speculators had accumulated good sized droves they found that packers would not buy hogs on the basis established early, however, and, although they succeeded in reducing their losses by sorting their holdings, they sold many loads at a decline of fully 5c from the opening prices. Receipts were 21,000 head.

Shippers and scalpers paid $8.40 for prime butcher hogs, while packers secured good heavy packing grades at $8.15@8.35, and bought good mixed packers at $7.90@8.15, securing the plain light offerings at $7.70@7.85. The latter met with poor favor, and did not find an outlet until late in the day, when prices were at the bottom for the session. Pigs were in moderate supply and slow sale at a decline of 10c. The market for hogs closed in fair condition, as packers staid out in the alleys until late and bought all the stock they could secure at the reduction in prices. Quotations:

Bulk of sales	$8.00@8.30
Mixed packing	7.70@8.15
Mediums and butchers	8.00@8.35
Rough heavy	7.50@7.90
Poor to good heavy packing	7.70@8.35

SHEEP.

Sheep and lambs sold at a decline of 10@15c. Receipts of 35,000 head exceeded expectations and buyers bid sharply lower prices at the outset. Salesmen refused to make the large concessions demanded at the opening, but finally had to accept a decline of 10@15c to effect a clearance. The trade was sluggish throughout, as packers had little competition to contend with, and offerings on the market were not disposed of until late in the day. Country buyers held moderate orders, but the supply of desirable feeding stock was moderate and values were maintained at an unchanged level.

Packers paid up to $7.40 for native lambs, topping the market at 10c lower than at the close last week. Most desirable killing grades of native sold at $6.75@7.25, with a medium class at $6.00@6.50. Range lambs of prime quality sold at $7.00@7.20, while the feeding grades made $6.50@6.60. Native ewes sold at $2.50@4.85, with the bulk of the good grades at $4.00 and higher. Range ewes sold at $4.30 and wethers at $4.50@4.65, with feeding grades at $4.00@4.40. Quotations:

Native wethers	$4.75@5.25
Native ewes	2.75@4.85

Receipts for Oct. 5 were estimated at 7,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs, and 23,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 11,151 cattle, 19,755 hogs, and 26,386 sheep for Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1908.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Provisions were generally lower, the continued weakness in grains, insufficient support, and realizing sales being the main factors. On the surface at least there were no radical changes in conditions. Western hog receipts were 53,500, against 67,400 a year ago. Local arrivals were about as expected, at 23,000, with prices steady. The shipping demand for hogs is light, but there is no let up, the cash demand and premiums were the highest of the season. Export sales last week were a little smaller in the aggregate than a year ago. Near the close there was better support and the closing quotations were about the best of the day for nearby product. There was considerable selling of January product by commission house longs.

Chicago Horse Market.

A rejuvenated eastern demand for fancy heavy draft horses had a beneficial influence on the general equine trade and enabled salesmen to rally prices a little from last week's low level. Consignments of specially finished, stall fed, commercial horses attracted spirited bids in the auction ring and cleared at $225.00@260.00, prices that were unevenly higher than could have been obtained any time last week. Small horses met with a better demand from eastern dealers and sold more briskly at $60.00@125.00. Expressers made steady figures at $150.00@200.00, and medium weight drivers sold at $140.00@175.00. Receipts for the day were placed at 500 head, against 532 a week ago.

STRAW.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Rye, $8.50@9.50; oat, $6.00@7.00, and wheat, $5.00@6.00.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Attendance of buyers was not large, but jobbers were in receipt of many mail and road orders, and shipping facilities were taxed to their utmost to meet the demands of merchants in the city and the interior for prompt delivery of goods ordered earlier in the season. Steady to firm prices prevailed in the market for canned fruits, vegetables, and fish and supplies pressing on sale were not burdensome. Low prices had a stimulating influence on the demand for flour and package cereals and generous orders were booked for delivery now and later in the month.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Market opened steady and active. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.24@5.34; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.27; standard powdered, $5.77; extra C, $4.95; canary, $4.65; chemically pure milk sugar, 22c per lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—SUGAR—Raw steady; fair refining, $3.70@3.73¼; centrifugal, 96 test, $4.20@4.23½; molasses sugar, $3.45@3.48½. Refined quiet; crushed, $5.85; powdered, $5.25; granulated, $5.15.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Spot roasted coffee met with a steady demand at unchanged prices. Offerings were liberal and a brisk business was transacted. Receipts of green coffees at Rio were 15,000 bags; Santos, 80,000 bags.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—COFFEE—The market for coffee futures opened firm at an advance of 5@10 points in response to the gain of ⅛ franc at Havre and of ½@¾ pfg at Hamburg, while steady primary markets and firm offers from Brazil also helped the improvement. Trading was a little more active than recently, with shorts covering and some support from local bulls, and the market closed steady net 5@10 points higher, sales being reported of 21,000 bags, including October at 5.50c, November at 5.55@5.60c, December at 5.60@5.65c, March at 5.75c, May at 5.80c, and July and September at 5.85c. Spot steady; No. 7 Rio, 7⅞@7 5-16c; No. 4 Santos, 8⅝@9c. Mild dull; Cordova, 9½@12c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—There were many buyers in the market for seasonable merchandise for prompt delivery, while jobbers were in receipt of generous mail and road orders for leading staples for the spring of 1910. Although the cool weather had a stimulating influence on the demand for all heavy weight merchandise, it was noticed that buyers were devoting more time to the fabrics of cotton construction and less to the woolen goods. This inclination to cover probable needs for cotton underwear, hosiery, dress goods, ginghams, prints, and wash goods was attributed to the steadily advancing prices of raw cottons, which are expected to be reflected in much higher costs of finished materials.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 13.60c; middling gulf, 13.85c. Sales, 793 bales. The government reports were followed by excitement in the cotton market, but fluctuations were irregular and net changes small, the market closing steady, 1 point lower to 1 point higher as compared with the last prices of Saturday. Futures opened steady and closed steady. Quotations:

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 4.—COTTON—Spot quiet and steady; unchanged; middling, 13 3-16c; sales on the spot, 400 bales; to arrive, 700. Futures opened steady at an advance of 8@10 points on what was called a bullish report on ginning from the census bureau, the figures being 2,562,888 bales ginned to Sept. 25, against 2,590,639 last year. Before 11 o'clock the advance had been widened to 18 points. Within a short time after the government report heavy selling came from profit taking longs and the market immediately weakened. A prominent New Orleans bull, now in New York, was said to have been a heavy seller. The pressure on the market continued till all the advance was gone and a net decline of 2@3 points established. The market closed steady at a net decline of 2@3 points. Cotton futures closed steady.

THIS IS FOR YOU
LAND AGENTS——LISTEN.

HE WAITED TOO LONG.

One of our customers had almost made up his mind to buy, but had to think it over. The tracts that he wanted were sold while he was thinking; now he will have to pay more money or take land farther from town. That's the way things are going now in the Denver district. Better make up your mind now to buy that tract YOU have been thinking about before some one else gets it. Don't wait as you did in the Panhandle until prices had doubled and you had to pay some one else a big profit.
You know that everybody is talking about EASTERN COLORADO. We have a few small tracts and the ONLY big ones now on the market. Don't wait until tomorrow. Write today. Tell us how much you can handle, and we will quote you prices.
W. G. KEFFER, Room 910, 204 Dearborn-st.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands, or incomes from other sources] who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from loop district] and my being the president of a large manufacturing wholesale vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that exorbitant charges for any time are burdensome. My average price, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOX, care the Englewood Co., 1101-1103 E. 63d-st., near Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

WE HAVE NEVER OFFERED A BETTER BARgain in a Player Piano than the Melville Clark Apollo which we are pricing at $300. This is not a new instrument, but was used only a short time, and has been entirely overhauled in our own shop. The former price was $750, so that our present figure is less than half its original cost.

It has seven and one-third octaves, a handsome mahogany case, and is ready for immediate delivery.

CABLE PIANO COMPANY,
Wabash and Jackson.

WE RECENTLY TOOK IN EXCHANGE A Knabe Piano in a rosewood case and now offer it in our bargain department. This is an instrument of exceedingly fine tone quality, and, although it was used for a time, it is in fine condition. The name alone is a guarantee of excellence, and it is seldom that a piano of this make can be bought at the price at which we offer this one. It is marked at $300, payable in installments.

LEGAL NOTICES AND PROPOSALS.

ROSWELL B. MASON,
Master in Chancery of the Circuit Court of Cook County, 1105 Marquette Building.

MASTER'S SALE — STATE OF ILLINOIS, County of Cook, ss.—Circuit Court of Cook County. In Chancery. George W. Ewing, sometimes described as George W. Ewing the third; Bettie S. Ewing, wife of said George W. Ewing; Charlotte E. Webb; William F. Webb, husband of Charlotte E. Webb; Minnesota E. Tytus, widow; and Mary C. Ewing, widow of George W. Ewing Jr., deceased, vs. Jesse Holladay, personally and as agent and trustee; Jessie M. Philbin and Eugene A. Philbin, her husband; Hattie E. Tyler and Duval Tyler, her husband; Daisy Holladay; Benjamin E. Holladay; Louis W. Holladay and Polly Holladay; the Chicago Title and Trust Company, guardian of Louis W. Holladay and Polly Holladay, defendants, and Lena Holladay, Edwin K. McKenzie, Amy J. Holcomb, Elbert C. Ferguson, the First Trust and Savings Bank, executor of the last will and testament of Jesse Holladay, deceased, interpleading, and E. A. Cummings, receiver. Gen. No. 271810.

Public notice is hereby given that, in pursuance of a decree made and entered by said Court in the above entitled cause, on the fifteenth day of July, A. D. 1909, I, Roswell B. Mason, Master in Chancery of the Circuit Court of Cook County, will on Wednesday, the sixth day of October, A. D. 1909, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the judicial salesroom of the Chicago Real Estate Board, second floor, Number 118 Dearborn street, in the City of Chicago, County of Cook, and State of Illinois, sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash all and singular the following described real estate in said decree mentioned, situated in the City of Chicago, County of Cook, and State of Illinois, to-wit:

The South one hundred and thirty-eight feet (S. 138 ft.) of Lot five (5), in Block two (2), in the original plat of the City of Chicago, Illinois, known as the Ewing Block.

Lot one (1), in Block three (3), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot two (2), in Block three (3), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot one (1), in the East one-half (E. ½) of Block three (3), in Bushnell's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

The above described real estate will be sold, separately from the property hereinafter described, and no piece or parcel of the premises as above described will be sold for less than two-thirds of the valuation put upon said piece or parcel by the commissioners heretofore appointed by the Court to make partition thereof, as shown by their report filed in the above entitled cause, unless the other pieces and parcels of said real estate above described shall at the same time sell for enough to make the total amount of the sales of all of said pieces and parcels of real estate above described equal to two-thirds of the total amount of the valuation of all said real estate above described placed upon the same by the said Commissioners as shown by their said report.

And I will also at the time and place aforesaid sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, all and singular the following described real estate in said decree mentioned, situated in the City of Chicago, County of Cook, and State of Illinois, to-wit:

Lot two (2), in Block (2), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot four (4), in Block ten (10), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot five (5), in Block twenty (20), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot six (6), in Block twenty (20), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot seven (7), in Block twenty (20), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot eight (8), in Block twenty (20), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot nine (9), in Block twenty (20), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

Lot ten (10), in Block twenty (20), in Duncan's Addition to Chicago, Illinois.

The last above described eight parcels of real estate will be sold separately from the four parcels of real estate hereinabove in this notice first described, and no piece or parcel of the said eight parcels of real estate will be sold for less than two-thirds of the valuation put upon said piece or parcel by the Commissioners heretofore appointed by the Court to make partition thereof, as shown by their said report, unless the other pieces and parcels of said eight parcels of real estate herein above in this notice last described shall at the same time sell for enough to make the total amount of the sales of all of said pieces and parcels of said eight parcels of real estate herein above in this notice last described equal to two-thirds of the total amount of the valuation of all said eight parcels of real estate herein above in this notice last described placed upon the same by the said Commissioners, as shown by their said report.

Dated Chicago, Illinois, August 22, A. D. 1909.

A World's Exposition of Fine Art in Metal, Marble, Wood and Clay.

The galleries of our Artware Section, Second Floor, are filled with the products of sculptors, artists, craftsmen and artisans of recognized merit. Nearly every country of the world is represented. Chaste Statuary from the Florentine studios and Bronzes from Russia and France invite admiration to ideals and classics.

The most highly developed forms of ceramics since the beginning of the ages are included in our showing of European and American Potteries—a display within itself. The Russian peasant, the Chinese craftsman, Caucasian and Malay, the past and the present, the quarry, the forest and the mine—all contribute to this universal exposition of Artwares. Many Copper, Brass and Bronze Pieces are exquisitely wrought by hand in articles both artistic and practical. Second Floor.

A single example of the values featured this week: Hand carved Chinese Teakwood Stands—imported pieces, elaborately designed, 16 inches high, with inlaid marble top—very desirable for holding lamps, jardinieres, statuary, etc.—special, $8.50.

Fine English China Plates: Samples Selling Less Than Ordinary Cost—50c to $25.00 Each.

Those appreciative of the very best products—exquisite examples of Coalport, Wedgwood, Royal Doulton and others—will find this a fortunate opportunity for selection. The diversity is the greatest that has ever been shown in Chicago.

Some are simple in design, but the greater number were elaborately handled by the decorators. Rich colorings and heavy gold treatments adapt great numbers of these Plates for dining room decoration and harlequin dozens. Second Floor.

French Handmade Candle and Electric Shades and Shields.

Exquisite designs never before shown in this country compose our late importations. Pretty French effects in the less expensive paper Shades are also well represented.

In the completeness of our showing of Candlesticks, Candelabra and Shades this section is a source of certain supply.

Our workroom facilities enable us to perform special commissions in originating beautiful lighting effects or developing the ideas of patrons. Second Floor.

Special this week: Silver Plated Colonial Candlesticks, fitted complete with silver cuirass, bead fringe lining, patent candle holder and mica protector—$2.50.

Lamps and Shades: An Exclusive and Beautiful Showing.

This new collection, answering every demand from stately Floor Lamps of foreign production to little adjustable desk lights, is the most diverse we have ever presented. Second Floor.

Carved Wood Portable Lamps in exquisite Italian designs, mounted with fine fabric shades—$35 to $250.

Complete Lamps in metal, brass, verd-antique and bronze finishes in classic designs mounted in coppered glass or silk shades—$25.00 to $150.00.

Paris Shades—an especially fine showing in pastel colors, some simple designs at $15.00—the more elaborate ones from $25.00 to $75.00.

New American Cut Glass Specially Priced, $3.75.

The shapes of most of these pieces as well as the cutting make them distinctly different from any we have shown. The Sugar and Cream Sets afford perhaps the best example. The new triumph pattern—a conventional thistle and leaf arrangement—has fewer lines than usual—$3.75.

Cut Glass Bowls—8 inches in diameter, two patterns, cut in a brilliant rosette and diamond design—$3.75.

American Cut Glass Bonbon Boxes—5 inches in diameter, cut in a very rich Russian pattern—$3.75. Second Floor.

FINE FURNITURE at Small Cost.

No similar opportunity for the purchase of Dining Room and Bedroom Furniture has been afforded this season. While the prices in many instances are much below cost of production, the pieces are of the highest quality.

The refined Mahogany Bedroom Pieces illustrated exemplify the high character of this collection. They are constructed from solid mahogany (not veneered) and are of superior finish Beds, three-quarter size, $39.00; full size, $43.00. Dressers, $55.00. Chiffoniers, $39.00.

Pieces of like design to complete the suite illustrated can be had as follows: Room Tables, $12.50. Somnoes, $15.00. Writing Tables, $19.00. Toilet Tables, $29.00. Cheval Glasses, $39.00. Eighth Floor.

NUMEROUS ODD PIECES OF FURNITURE, VERY ATTRACTIVE IN DESIGN—SOME IMPORTED—HAVE BEEN MARKED AT INCOMPARABLY LOW PRICES FOR IMMEDIATE SALE.
